SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

The Annual Report of the Selectmen of the town, for the year ending Dec. 31, 1892, is herewith respectfully presented.

Highways.

Amount appropriated by the town,	$15,000 00
“ “ for sidewalks,	1,000 00
“ “ for Appleton street,	2,000 00
“ “ for Medford street bridge,	3,500 00

For details of expenditure see the Treasurer's report.

The first work of the season was to clean the streets and patch the ruts that were made during the early spring. It has been the custom for the past few years to fill the ruts of our gravel roads with fine crushed stone early in the season. This we find gives better results than filling with gravel, as the fine stone forms a solid road-bed where the most of the wear comes. By using our fine stone in this way we fall short of that grade and it becomes necessary to buy a few tons.

Arlington Avenue.

From near the residence of Joseph Eaton to Lewis' mill, from Forest street to J. F. Hobbs' and from Linwood street to the residence of Mrs. Fisher on the west side of the West End Railroad, the avenue has been picked and levelled. A coat of crushed stone from four to nine inches in thickness was put on and well rolled, then a light coat of fine crushed stone was added, which was also rolled and covered with a very light coat of fine screened blue gravel, then rolled until the street became perfectly hard. In picking and rolling we used a steam roller, hired of Messrs. McClintock & Woodfall. Other portions of the avenue will need to be treated in the same way the coming season.

Appleton Street,

From Arlington avenue to Vine street, has been widened according to the order of the County Commissioners. The retaining walls have been rebuilt and the street has been brought to a grade so as to quickly drain after rain. The cost of this improvement was about $1600; the appropriation was $2000 and the balance, $400, was intended to be used for concreting the gutters, as the grade is very steep at the Arlington avenue end. We would recommend that the balance lay over in the Treasury for this purpose.

The portion of street between Park avenue and Claremont avenue needs early attention. We would suggest that the street be crowned with a coat of gravel and the gutters concreted,

Acton Street

Has been finished with the exception of a small piece of ledge near Mr. A. Blanchard's. This makes a very easy approach from the upper part of the town to the town pit and crusher.

Broadway.

Very little has been done on this street except to patch it in places. The drainage is very poor and the street should be graded with reference to carrying off the surface water.

Chestnut Street

Has been macadamized this season making a much needed improvement.

Eastern Avenue

Near the Park has been crowned by scraping the outside edges to the centre and then covering with gravel. That part near Highland avenue will need to be treated in the same way.

Highland Avenue

Near Eastern avenue has given a great deal of trouble every spring. It is quite low and at times flooded, causing considerable inconvenience to travel. There has been a fifteen inch drain pipe laid across the street, and the low place has been filled in. We think this will do away with all difficulty.

Lake Street,

From the ice track to the foot of the hill near Belmont line, has been coated with stone and gravel. The hill should be macadamized during the next season, and from the ice track to the Lowell Railroad should be picked, the surface levelled and covered with a fine coat of crushed stone, well rolled, and then with a light coat of screened blue gravel.

Russell Terrace

Has been crowned by picking the sides and scraping to the centre, and covered with screened blue gravel. The sidewalk on the west side has been covered with stone dust.

Summer Street,

From Brattle street to Pine street, has been coated over with stone and gravel.

Lowell Street.

This street, near the Lexington line, was badly cut up through the winter, owing to the heavily loaded stone teams carrying stone to Cambridge. As soon as the frost was out of the ground, about 2000 feet of the street was rebuilt. There was a heavy coat of coarse crushed stone put on first, and well rolled, then a coat of fine crushed stone thoroughly rolled, and this was covered with fine screened gravel, which was rolled until solid. In rolling we used a steam roller. The portion of street from the railroad bridge to Nathan Nourse's was picked, a coat of fine crushed stone was put on the centre, and well rolled. Now it is in a good condition its entire length.

Mystic Street.

The hill near the Winchester line was in a very bad condition. The surface water from the Winchester side had run down the centre of the street, making it very rough and uneven. The street was first graded by picking off the sides and filling at the foot of the hill; then there was a heavy coat of crushed stone put on, and rolled, next a light coat of fine stone, which was rolled again, and then this was covered with screened blue gravel. The hill near Arlington avenue has been gravelled.

Winter Street.

This was more of a job than was anticipated. In making the road-bed to change the grade it was found that the loam to the depth of nearly two feet had never been removed, and it became necessary to remove this nearly the entire length of the street. This necessitated a large amount of coarse filling, and for this purpose stone chips from the Cambridge ledge were used. After bringing the street to a sub-grade, a coat of coarse crushed stone, to a depth of twelve inches in the centre and six inches on the sides, was put on, and rolled, and this was covered with a fine coat two inches deep and well rolled, and over all this a light coat of fine screened blue gravel, then this was rolled until the surface became solid. A steam roller was used. The expense of this street was $2725.

Pleasant Street,

From Arlington avenue to Maple street, has been picked and the surface levelled and then a coat of fine stone about four inches in thickness was spread and rolled, and then screened gravel was put over this. The street is now in good condition its entire length.

Park Avenue,

From near Florence avenue to Appleton street and about 300 feet near Wollaston avenue, has been gravelled with a heavy coat of blue gravel. It was the intention to gravel about 1000 feet more, but, as the cold weather set in the work was stopped. This should be finished in the spring. The drain across Arlington avenue, which takes the water from the gutters of Park avenue, has been changed so as to empty into the brook. It formerly emptied into Lewis pond over land of Mr. Lewis, but had to be changed, as he erected a building over the drain.

Pine Street.

The sides of this street have been picked and scraped into the centre and then covered with blue gravel.

River Street

Has been covered with a heavy coat of stone and with gravel which was taken from Arlington avenue when the West End Railroad Co. put in their double track.

Other streets have been repaired with stone and gravel and the loose stone raked off. The gutters and catch basins have been cleaned and the retaining fences kept in repair.

Bridges.

River street bridge has been thoroughly repaired by relaying a part of the centre pier, putting in new stringers, and covering with new plank. A new railing has been put up.

Medford street bridge, known as Weir's bridge, is being newly built with heavy granite piers. The span is to be covered with heavy iron girders laid four feet apart, and the space between is to be arched with brick, and the whole is to be covered with heavy asphalt. The side walls, approaching the bridge, are built with heavy granite. Owing to the severe cold weather work has been delayed, but when the bridge is completed it will be a solid structure and a very great improvement.

Sidewalks.

The sidewalks in many places have been covered with screened gravel and stone dust. Some concrete walks and crossings have been laid, but more attention needs to be paid to the walks, and more money should be raised for this purpose. About 1000 feet of edgestones have been set, the abutters furnishing the stone.

Watering Streets.

In watering the streets, the horses kept for fire purposes were used near the centre of the town. Eli Fletcher took the contract to water Arlington avenue from Tufts street to Alewife brook, Pleasant street and Mystic street.

Teams and Tools.

There are at present nine horses. One having died last fall, and one being used for the offal wagon, makes the Highway department two short of their usual number. A pair will have to be purchased next spring. They have all been insured and we think this the safer plan. The road carts are in a good condition, but the watering carts are getting old and past repair. A new one should be bought this season. The tools are in a good condition.

Drinking Fountain.

The ice used in cooling the water in this fountain has been furnished by the local ice man, Mr. C. W. Ilsley. The fountain being a new accommodation last year, the ice was donated by Mr. Ilsley. It consumed a number of tons. This year it has been furnished at half price.

Almshouse.

Mr. B. F. Durgin was re-appointed as Superintendent of the Almshouse, and to the best of our judgment has given perfect satisfaction. Mr. and Mrs. Durgin show good judgment in the care of the inmates and buildings.

Town House.

The additional safe spoken of in last year's report has been provided for the town records, and other valuable papers. This has been built as recommended by last year's board at an expense of $300. Other than this, but little has been expended on the building during the year.

Coal.

The town was supplied with coal by Peirce & Winn Company, they being the lowest bidders.

The prices were, George's Creek Cumberland at $3.74 per ton, furnace $5.24, egg $5.49, stove $5.74.

Police and Fire Department.

Reports of these departments will be found in the reports of the Chiefs and Town Treasurer.

Offal.

At our November meeting the town voted to raise $1000 for the purpose of collecting offal and ashes. The money has been nearly spent. This was to carry the work along until the March meeting. The offal has been sold to Mr. W. W. Rawson to March first, for the sum of $50. This our first attempt in this line of work we believe has proved a great success, and we recommend its continuance.

Street Lights.

Our streets are lighted by the Somerville Electric Light Company under a contract made two years ago, which expires May 1, 1893. A new contract will have to be made then. It has been suggested that the town furnish its own Electric Lights, and we think this may be brought about in connection with High Service.

Respectfully submitted.

Fairview avenue, “ “	576 “
Whittemore street, “ “	336 “
	<hr/> 1,344 feet.

In connection with each of these, a fire hydrant was set, making the total number of hydrants in town at the present time, 117.

The amount received from water rates for 1892 was $16,432.27, an increase of $939.16 over 1891. Amount of balance cash on hand December 31, 1892, $2877.80.

The Treasurer's report will give a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures.

The amount paid for interest for the year 1892 was $11,020, against $16,720 in 1891, a difference of $5700.

This is occasioned by the payment of $217,000 six per cent. Water Scrip, which fell due January 1, 1892, from the proceeds of the sale of $183,000 four per cent. Water Bonds, the balance, $34,000, being furnished from the sinking fund.

The amount of Water Bonds at this date is :

$74,000 at five per cent. per annum,	$3,700 00
183,000 at four “ “	7,320 00
	$11,020 00

It will be seen that no appropriation was made for interest on Water Scrip in 1892.

This is the first year in the history of the works, that the system has been self-sustaining, a condition, which, to say the least, is very gratifying; and, with the balance on hand, as shown above, together with the very probable amount of receipts for water rates for the coming year, the commissioners see no cause to doubt but that sufficient funds will be in hand, to meet necessary obligations, without asking the town for an appropriation for the coming year.

We anticipate the laying of considerable new pipe during the coming year, from which source is realized much of the yearly additional income. Especially is it the purpose of the commissioners to extend the pipe in Jason street, now that a grade has been established; but for this reason, and this alone, it would have been done before now. Business principles demand that the grade of all streets be established before pipe is laid in them.

The water question, as referred to in the commissioners' report of two years ago, still presents itself as of great importance to the town.

One of the ideas suggested, that of diverting the supply of water so that it should not enter the reservoir, has been carried out.

It would have been well, no doubt, to have made the change before; but so long as a deficiency of income existed from year to year, to meet expenses it was thought best to defer action; but the financial condition of the water works was found this year, considerably changed for the better; and this fact, together with the state of the water, prompted action.

All will see, of course, that the move was more or less experimental, but the exigencies of the case warranted the taking of chances, with results that speak for themselves.

The water was introduced, direct from the supply brook, into a 20-inch Akron pipe at a point some 300 feet above the reservoir, thence carried along the north bank of the reservoir about 1300 feet, there entering the main distribution pipe.

The laying of this pipe was found to be considerable of an undertaking. In order to make grade, much of the way was, of necessity, very deep; ledges were also encountered, necessitating much blasting; but, for all this, the commissioners felt that the probable result to be obtained would warrant the outlay.

The water was introduced into this pipe system July 6, last, and we feel that from that time to the present, the benefits, together with the satisfaction derived from the change for the better in the quality of the water, are beyond question.

It was also thought advisable, the better to protect the purity of the water supply, that a pipe be laid, to take the drainage from the Winship farm, to the waste brook below the reservoir.

A 10-inch pipe has been laid for this purpose, for a greater part of the way, which will be carried to completion as soon as conditions will permit. A connection was also made with the water main, so that this drain-pipe can be used for flushing, should occasion require.

Much more can be said in regard to the water question. This new arrangement, in so far as it goes, is very well.

The capacity of this system was put to considerable of a test last summer, and it stood up wonderfully well,—much beyond expectations, and we think those who received the water were well pleased at the improvement shown; but we are satisfied, however, that the condition of the water service, as to the amount of supply, is not adequate to our wants for domestic and fire purposes in all parts of the town, and it is the idea of your commissioners, as expressed in previous reports, that some move should be made toward supplying sections, which, from location or other causes, are unable to obtain a supply of water from the town; permission to issue $150,000 water bonds, in case they are wanted for this purpose, having already been obtained from the legislature.

Some inconvenience has been caused during the cold weather, by street service pipes freezing. Some pipe breakage has also occurred during the year (but not quite as much as last) notably on the same streets, as reported in former years.

Mr. Thomas Roden, as for the past few years, remains in charge of the work.

Amount of stock and materials on hand, December 31, 1892, $877.97.

The force consists of chief and five patrolmen. In my report of last year I asked for two more men, one for day and one for night duty, as I wished to divide the route at the lower part of the town, as it is so large one man cannot cover all the streets as they should be. But the town voted to appoint only one man for day duty. In April, Garret J. Cody was appointed a regular officer, and went on duty April 11th.

I recommend that one of the patrolmen be appointed as sergeant, to have the same route and duties that the night patrolman stationed at the centre now has, as the other patrolmen are obliged to report to him when they come in, thus having an officer of higher rank in charge for them to report to. The effect, I think, would be an improvement.

Of the 37 arrests for drunkenness 25 of them were released without being taken to court. The effect of the (so-called) "new drunk law" has not been to decrease the number of cases of drunkenness, but does, to a certain extent, decrease the amount of fines paid to the court.

Several warrants have been taken out to search for liquors, but in only two cases was anything found. Whenever we have found evidence enough to convict, we have prosecuted. I think it safe to say that there was never a time when less liquor was sold in the town than during the past year.

In closing my report I wish to thank the Board of Selectmen for their assistance to me the past year, and the entire force for the prompt discharge of their duties.

I am respectfully,

EUGENE MEAD,
Chief of Police.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE ARLINGTON
FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Hon. Board of Selectmen :

GENTLEMEN — I herewith submit my Annual Report of the Fire Department for the past year.

The fire loss for the year has been very light, and although the Department has answered seventeen calls, but three of these have been of any importance.

The calls have been as follows :

January 6th. Alarm 11.05 P. M., Box 45. Fire, J. W. Brine's house and shed. Damage slight.

January 19th. Alarm 10.35 P. M., Box 25. Fire, Wm. T. Wood Ice Tool Manufactory. Damage slight.

March 15th. Alarm 11.45 A. M., Box 36. Fire, building owned by J. A. Merrifield. Damage slight.

March 30th. Alarm 12.30 P. M., Box 61. Fire, brush near Hawley house. No damage.

April 3d. Alarm 2 A. M., Box 21. Fire, Rope Factory owned and operated by Mrs. P. J. Dale. Total loss.

April 3d. Alarm 9.55 A. M., Box 21. Needless alarm for the rope walk.

April 7th. Alarm 4.40 P. M., Box 52. Fire, grass in rear Crescent hill. No damage.

April 7th. Alarm 7.12 P. M., Box 37. Fire, house of Wm. Thorpe. Damage slight.

April 7th. Alarm 7.30 P. M., Box 54. Brush fire near Lexington line. No damage.

April 18th. Alarm 1.25 P. M., Box 28. Fire, grass on Wm. J. Niles' estate. No damage.

April 27th. Alarm 9.55 A. M., Box 24. Fire, outbuilding of Terrence Owens. Damage slight.

May 25th. Alarm 10.47 A. M., Box 39. Fire, bakery building occupied by N. J. Hardy. Damage slight.

May 25th. Alarm 3.56 P. M., Box 36. Fire, freight shed on Water street. Damage slight.

July 25th. Alarm 4.05 P. M., Box 35. Fire, house on Gray estate occupied by H. H. Homer.

September 27th. Alarm 6.50 P. M., Box 41. Fire, house occupied by Patrick Rowe. Damage slight.

October 31st. Alarm 9.50 A. M., Box 21. Fire, house owned by David Scanlan. Slight damage.

November 22d. Alarm 8.15 P. M., Box 26. Fire, greenhouse owned by Wm. Scannell. Slight damage.

MEMBERSHIP.

The membership of the Department is in the same condition as last year. We still find it hard to fill vacancies with new members who are in town through the day.

The Firemen's Relief Association is still prospering, having received donations of fifty dollars each from the Wm. T. Wood Ice Tool Manufactory and the John P. Squire Corporation.

The object of this Association is to assist members in case of sickness or accident, each member receiving five dollars per week while unable to work.

FIRE ALARM.

Would report the Fire Alarm in good condition, having had no trouble throughout the year of any importance. It has proved itself thus far to be a valuable auxiliary to the Department, and to the town.

No new boxes have been added this year.

BUILDINGS AND APPARATUS.

The buildings are in the same condition as last reported, no money having been expended on them during the year.

In regard to building occupied by Chemical 5, would say it will be necessary to provide some heating apparatus for same, as the present means of heating the building are not sufficient to keep the pipes from freezing.

No repairs have been made on any of the apparatus during the year.

Five hundred feet of new hose have been purchased, same having been paid for out of the general appropriation.

Four hundred feet of hose have been condemned.

Your attention was called last year to the necessity of a greater number of hydrants, but no action has been taken as yet. I would again urge the necessity of placing a four-way post hydrant near the town house.

APPROPRIATIONS.

I would recommend an appropriation of $4000 to meet the expenses of the coming year; also that the unexpended sum now remaining in the treasury be applied to some heating apparatus for the Chemical Engine House.

In closing I wish to express my thanks to your honorable Board, to my Engineers, and to the members of the Department.

Respectfully submitted.

CHARLES GOTT,
Chief Fire Department.

REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

To the Town of Arlington :

It is with profound regret that the Trustees have to state the death of their chairman, Dr. Richard L. Hodgdon, which occurred January 30, 1893. In many ways Dr. Hodgdon was a leader in this community but with none of the town's interests was he longer or more closely identified than with the library. By virtue of his profession he became a member of the Board of Trustees when he first came to West Cambridge in 1853. After the death of Dr. Timothy Wellington, who was Secretary of the Board from the institution of the library in 1835, Dr. Hodgdon was chosen Secretary and continued in that office till 1883. When the Board of Trustees became elective in 1878 he was chosen a member and held the position uninterruptedly by successive re-elections until his death. Since 1889 he has been Chairman of the Board. Dr. Hodgdon was thus officially connected with the library for nearly forty years. Of him it may be truly said — to use his own words in regard to Dr. Learned — that “during his whole life, in addition to the performance of the duties of an exacting profession, he was active in promoting many good causes, especially that of education.” He looked upon the library as a kindred institution to the schools, and steadily urged upon his fellow-citizens its claims to their support. It is gratifying to reflect that he lived to see the institution for which he had labored reach the prosperity which the past year has brought to it.

The completion of the new building marks so important a point in the career of the library that the present seems an especially fitting time to set down some of the facts in its history. This cannot be better done than in the words of the late Chairman at the dedicatory exercises in November.

On that occasion Dr. Hodgdon spoke as follows :

On entering this new home for the library it may not be inappropriate for one who has been officially connected with it for more than half the years of its existence, to recount briefly something of its progress. The details may be dry but I trust they will not be wholly without interest to its friends. In 1807, shortly after Menotomy (or the northwest precinct of Cambridge), was incorporated as the town of West Cambridge, there was formed the West Cambridge Social Library. This was a corporation in which each member held a share and paid an annual assessment. The library was kept at the house of some member, from which the books were circulated among the subscribers. It contained histories, biographies, books of travels and such works as Pilgrim's Progress, Paradise Lost and Scott's novels. Mention is made of this library to indicate the taste of the people at that time and because that library continued till after ours was established and finally became a part of ours. In 1835 Dr. Ebenezer Learned, a physician of Hopkinton, N. H., left to the town $100 by a clause in his will.

Dr. Learned was a native of Medford, a graduate of Harvard college, and in his early life was a teacher in Menotomy. During his whole life, in addition to the performance of the duties of an exacting profession, he was active in promoting many good causes, especially that of education. The selectmen, ministers and physicians purchased the books as directed by Dr. Learned's will, established the library and then by common consent acted as trustees till, at a later date, the town elected trustees. In 1836 the West Cambridge Sewing Circle gave $60 to increase the fund left by Dr. Learned on condition that all members of the circle should have a right to the library granted them. This right was granted on the condition of the payment annually of a mere nominal sum. In 1837 the first appropriation by the town was made for the library when the town voted to appropriate $30 annually for the increase of the juvenile library. The trustees at once voted that each family in town should have the right to take books from the library while the appropriation was continued; so in 1837 West Cambridge had a free public library open to every one of its people. I can find no record of such an institution in any town in Massachusetts at that time. West Cambridge then has the honor of being the first town in the Commonwealth to have a free town library. In 1843 the Social Library became a part of the Juvenile Library and the town voted that "the books purchased with the money furnished by the State and town for District school libraries be placed in the Juvenile Library." In 1858 the library received a donation of the books of the West Cambridge Agricultural Association. On the change of the name of the town the library in 1867 took the new name. In 1872 the town voted that the library be hereafter called the Arlington Public Library, leaving the same trustees in charge of it. In 1878 it was thought wise to have an elective board of trustees and the library was put under the charge of a board of three trustees. Recently the town has voted to add three trustees so that after this year the number will be six. In 1860 the appropriation for the library was made $100 and soon after $200. Since that time the town has increased the appropriation to a sum which has supported the library liberally. In 1870 the proceeds of the dog tax were voted for the first time to the library. That has been done annually since. The citizens have always shown a lively interest in it. Every appropriation recommended by the trustees has been made by the town.

Under this liberal treatment by the town the library has increased so that it comes into its new home with between 12,000 and 13,000 volumes of books carefully selected. The first trustees at their first meeting, November 30, 1835, voted that the books selected for the library be such as were directed by the will of the donor, the same not being of a sectarian character. This vote still controls the trustees, who have always had, in the performance of their duty, the intelligent aid of the librarians, all of whom have been earnest and active friends of the library from the first to the present excellent librarian, Miss Lizzie J. Newton, who has for twenty years done us faithful service. Until now the library has been like a wanderer without a home. The first two librarians kept it at their homes; Mr. Jonathan Dexter in his house which is the three story house next to the railroad on the south side of Arlington avenue, Miss Esterbrook in the old Adams house which stood at the corner of Mystic street and Arlington avenue. In 1842 it was moved into the vestry of the First Congregational church. When the Town House was completed it was moved into that and remained there until it had outgrown any room which was available. In 1884 it was placed in the hall in Swan's block. At this time there occurred an important event in its history. The earnest desire of many good citizens was gratified by the establishment of a free public reading room, an institution which, in any community, exerts a potent influence for temperance and morality. Now the library comes to a permanent home, and this spacious and elegant apartment is Arlington's free public reading room.

The library has received many gifts of money and books. The first was a joint contribution of books by Hon. James Russell and Dr. Timothy Wellington, one an honored and trusted lawyer, the other an honored and beloved physician. Among others who have made donations are Mr. Charles Griffiths, Capt. George Lee and Mr. J. M. Hollingsworth. Four bequests have been left to the town for the library, which I will mention in order. In 1853 Dr. Timothy Wellington, who had been clerk of the trustees from the beginning, left a legacy of one hundred dollars, the same sum left by the founder. This was invested and the income is spent annually for the purchase of books. These sums may not seem large to us of to-day, but when the time and the circumstances are considered they appear noble gifts of noble men. In 1875 the town received $10,000 under the will of Mr. Nathian Pratt who for many years had been a prominent citizen. He gave the same sum to the Cotting High school, a kindred institution. In 1889 a bequest of $5000 was made to the library by the will of Deacon Henry Mott, a much respected citizen, who had been honored from time to time with nearly every office in the gift of the town. The fourth legacy is this fine building. Mrs. Maria C. Robbins, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a native of this town, has built it and presented it to the town as a memorial to her husband, Mr. Eli Robbins, also a native of this town, who became a prosperous merchant in a distant city. This magnificent building says more for Mrs. Robbins than any words of mine can express. It will stand not only as a memorial to her husband but as a monument to her generous nature which prompted the gift. It is complete in all its appointments and of a style of architecture which appeals to no passing fancy but which will command the admiration of future ages as it does that of all good judges to-day.

Mrs. Robbins was aided in carrying out her plans by one to whom the town is greatly indebted, Mr. Winfield Robbins, a gentleman of education and culture, who has given to the building of this library the benefit of his time, good taste and good judgment to a degree known by few. It is now my pleasant duty to mention the last gift to the library. Mr. Elbridge Farmer, a wealthy citizen, by birth an Arlington man, has made a liberal endowment by creating the Elbridge Farmer fund of $50,000 to be held by trustees who shall invest it and pay over the income to the trustees of the library for its support. By this generous act Mr. Farmer has set an example worthy of imitation by all public spirited citizens. It is hoped that many will follow it and enroll themselves among the benefactors of the library, so that it may more fully serve the purpose of its founder, to "promote useful knowledge, and the Christian virtues among the citizens of the town."

The new building was completed during the summer and was accepted by the town with suitable resolutions September 29th. The town then voted that the public library should be named the Robbins Library of Arlington. At a subsequent meeting the number of trustees was fixed at six. The formal services of dedication took place November 29th with the following order of exercises.

7. BENEDICTION,
REV. FREDERIC GILL.

Beside the generous gift of the endowment fund the library is indebted to Mr. Farmer for valuable portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Robbins and of their two children. Those of Mr. and Mrs. Robbins are by Mr. H. W. Berthrong, and have been placed in the catalogue room.

Another interesting gift is the portrait of the founder of the library, Dr. Learned. This is a present from his daughters and has been placed in the book room, over the delivery desk.

Apart from the changes consequent upon removal to the new building, there have been no occurrences of special importance. The library was closed at Swans' Hall October 20th. Except for the serious disadvantage of being on the second story, the hall has given fairly good accommodation to the library, although it would have been outgrown before many years. The books and other property were at once moved, and the library was regularly opened for the delivery of books November 9th.

The reading room at the Heights still meets with favor. The delivery of books twice a week has been continued during the year, and is of evident convenience to the people of that part of the town.

The removal of the library took place so near the end of the year that it is not yet time to speak of its practical working in its new and permanent home, except to say that experience so far is wholly encouraging, and the Trustees believe that the building will be found well adapted for use in the present and in the future. The town may now, more than ever, feel a pride in its library. It should be our endeavor that its support and administration should not be unworthy of its beautiful surroundings or of the generous spirit of its benefactors—the living and the dead.

JAMES P. PARMENTER,
Secretary.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Town of Arlington:

The School Committee submit their annual report.

The report of the Superintendent of Schools, approved and adopted by this Board, contains a detailed account of much of the work of the schools during the year. The present report will therefore be confined to a few topics. The two reports taken together will, it is hoped, give the town all necessary information as to the condition of the schools.

Superintendent of Schools.

The town at the last annual meeting voted to authorize this Board to appoint a Superintendent of Schools. After careful inquiry and investigation we chose to that office Mr. I. Freeman Hall, who entered upon his duties early in May. Mr. Hall was at that time superintendent in Natick and Belmont. By our arrangement with him he gives three days in the week to Arlington and two to Belmont. This plan has worked well in practice, as the schools of the two towns are enough to employ profitably the superintendent's time while the expense is divided in a fair proportion between them. In Mr. Hall we have secured a superintendent of wide experience and of marked energy and ability, and we are already beginning to feel the benefits of placing our schools under his supervision, although, of course, the larger results will take time to work out. In his report herewith printed will be found an account in detail of his work. Speaking generally, the course of study is better arranged than it was, the schools are better organized so that the time of scholars is more wisely used, improvements have been made in methods of teaching,—and in short the natural results of placing the schools under skilled supervision are being wrought out.

The salary of the superintendent is somewhat larger than we estimated in our last report, which was based on the supposition that we should require less of a superintendent's time than we have in fact found advisable. We are agreed however that money spent for this purpose is wisely employed and is producing a decided benefit in the education of the children in our schools.

High School.

At the close of the school year Mr. Fisher resigned as principal of the school in order to engage in another occupation than teaching. Mr. Fisher during the nine years that he occupied the position proved himself a teacher of ability and enthusiasm with a deep interest in the school. The vacancy was filled by the appointment of Mr. Ira W. Holt, the principal of the Natick High School. Miss Simmons at the same time resigned her position in the school, to the deep regret of the Committee and of all who have been acquainted with the unusual value of her work. Miss Gooding who had acceptably acted as substitute during Miss Simmons' two years' absence was elected in her place.

The school opened in September with eighty-five scholars, the largest number it has ever had. The course of study was at the same time considerably changed. Book-keeping, German, Geology, Mental Philosophy have been added to the branches previously taught and there has been to a limited extent a re-arrangement in the order of taking up studies and in the amount of time devoted to each. It was found possible to make these changes without seriously interfering with scholars already in the school, the new course having been arranged so as to conflict as little as possible with the requirements of the old course. As now arranged there are four courses viz.: Two Years' Course, General Course, Academic Course and College Course.

Although more than ever hampered in its work by the insufficiency of the building, the school is in other respects in good condition, and with the near prospect of a new building, the outlook is promising for not only maintaining but extending its usefulness.

Changes of Teachers.

The changes at the High School have been already mentioned. Miss Snelling, an efficient and valuable teacher, resigned her position at the Crosby School at the end of the school year. Miss Hattie A. Snell was appointed in her place. In May Miss Stella M. Grimes was appointed teacher of the fifth grade in the Russell School, a position which had been filled by substitute teachers since the resignation of Miss Fell at the end of the previous November. At the beginning of the new school year the increase in the first grade now comprising all the scholars in town of this grade—as explained in the Superintendent's report—necessitated its division. Mr. Freeman was placed in charge of one section and Miss Flanders,—formerly general assistant in the building—of the other. The sixth grade had to be divided also at this time between Miss Warren and Miss Fannie A. Manson. Miss Manson taught but one term, and Miss Ella J. Holmes has recently been appointed in her place. The number of scholars in the third primary grade was also too large for one teacher. Miss Margaret L. Martin was therefore made an assistant to Miss Day, and as soon as a room could be made ready in the Adams building, in the middle of October, the class was divided, Miss Martin's division going to the Adams building.

At the Cutter School, one of the teachers was removed by death, Miss Brady's long illness reaching a fatal termination in May. In her the town has lost a good and faithful teacher, interested in her pupils' welfare and influencing them for good. Her sister, Miss Rose Brady, who had been acting as her substitute, was appointed in her place.

Miss Carter, a teacher of experience and efficiency, resigned in April as teacher of the fourth and fifth grades at the Locke School, and Miss Margaret Oakes was chosen to the position. Miss Elizabeth Van Derveer was appointed in February as teacher of the eighth and ninth grades in place of Miss Blake who resigned at the end of the preceding term.

Buildings and Repairs.

The most important action of the town during the year was in relation to a new school building. The condition of the High School called more than ever for relief and the Russell building also had every room occupied and one class left over which had to be put in the Adams building. The town, at a meeting held September 29, appointed a building committee to report a definite plan for a new building. This committee brought before the town, at an adjourned meeting held November 14, a plan which met the unanimous approval of the meeting. Comprising accommodations for high and upper grammar grades, the building will meet the needs of the schools and it may be confidently hoped that its completion will give opportunity for decided improvements in our school system.

At the Crosby School, the grounds have been properly graded and the plastering and blackboards repaired. This school-house is in fairly good condition for an old building. The growth of the east part of the town will, however, call before long for enlarged school accommodations.

At the Russell School, the smaller of the two boilers was found to have become so worn out and useless that it was removed during the spring vacation. Four new radiators were placed in the upper story in rooms and entries that were imperfectly heated. Except the addition of thirty new seats for the first grade no other alterations beside ordinary slight repairs have been made.

At the Locke School, the outhouses have been thoroughly repaired. New seats have been placed in Miss Evans' room.

As the Adams building had not been occupied by schools for many years considerable work in cleaning, painting, etc., had to be done to prepare a room for the primary school now established there.

No important repairs were necessary at the Cutter School. Considerable trouble and expense has been caused by the malicious breaking of windows in the building on several occasions.

The full report of the Superintendent of Schools makes it unnecessary to extend this report to greater length. The Committee believe that the changes introduced this year are for the good of the schools, and that the results will be found beneficial to the scholars and satisfactory to the town.

Approved by the Board.

JAMES P. PARMENTER,
Chairman.

JANUARY, 1893.

REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Committee of Arlington :

GENTLEMEN : The first annual report which I have the honor of submitting to you covers only about seven months of service.

When I began work, May 15, 1892, I found 827 pupils attending the public schools of Arlington. They were accommodated in four buildings, as follows :

Cotting High School, Academy street, 55 ; Russell School, Grammar and Primary, Medford street, 395 ; Crosby School, Primary, Winter street, 98 ; Cutter School, Grammar and Primary, Arlington avenue, 137 ; Locke School, Grammar and Primary, Park avenue, 142.

In general the organization and grading seemed to be good, but a close examination of the situation showed that the Locke and Cutter schools were laboring under serious disadvantages. At the Locke School, Miss Copeland had three classes, grammar grades, studying a variety of subjects, in one room. It was necessary for her, counting five recitations for each class, to hear fifteen recitations every school day (five and a half hours). Although it was possible occasionally to combine two classes for instruction, little time could be saved in this way, and there were circumstances peculiar to the school which prevented any such adjustment. Miss Van Derveer's room, primary, was crowded, making it impossible for her to give each pupil that individual attention which the youngest pupils should receive.

At the Cutter School the same conditions existed in the primary room, Miss DeBlois's, and similar conditions in the upper grammar grades, Mr. Soule's room, though he had smaller classes than Miss Copeland.

To remedy these defects it had been suggested that all the first class grammar pupils in town should be brought to the Russell School, where special attention could be given them by the principal and his assistant, and more interest awakened in home study and in advanced lines of work, preparatory to the High School course.

After a careful consideration of various plans, you decided, wisely, I think, to have the first grammar class attend school at the Russell building from 8 to 12.30 each day and to so classify the Cutter and Locke Schools that no teacher in town should have more than two classes or be responsible for more than two years of work.

At the Russell School the crowded condition of the lowest primary room and the fifth and sixth grammar rooms suggested the necessity of forming two new classes by making parallel grades. Hence arrangements were made to open the unoccupied room, and to have two fourth grammar and two sixth grammar classes. When the fall term opened every room in the Russell building was occupied, and still the lowest primary class numbered 76 pupils. Arrangements were therefore made to give Miss Day an assistant, and one of the rooms in the Adams building was fitted up for the accommodation of the lowest division of her class.

These changes in the classification of the Russell School suggested the advisability of making a few more, to remedy certain defects in organization which were manifest to the superintendent soon after he began to inspect the schools. The average age of pupils in the upper grammar classes seemed high and a careful analysis of the facts showed plainly that it would be safe to make the plan of promotions at the Russell School more flexible in order to give pupils who were ready to do extra work a fairer chance to cover the nine years' course in seven or eight years. Some change seemed necessary, so a decided change was made. Twelve pupils were promoted to the first grammar class, their places filled by special promotions from the class below, and so on through several classes, the basis of promotion in each case being special ability or faithfulness proven by the recitations and written examinations of the previous year. These changes, we believe, have been beneficial, not only to the pupils promoted but to all classes in the Russell building. "The wall of partition," separating each class is not broken down but lowered at various points so that it may be more easily scaled at any time by pupils who are willing to work faithfully, diligently and persistently. It is our purpose to prepare for and make more special promotions next year. They encourage and stimulate individual effort and are an effective antidote for that "hard and fast," "cast iron" plan of classification which develops the mechanism of our educational system at the expense of the child's individuality. These are the only important changes which have been made in school organization during the past year.

Statistics.

At present, January 1, 1893, there are in the public schools of Arlington 959 children, accommodated and classified as follows :

COTTING HIGH SCHOOL 36 ; first class 9, second 10, third 25.

RUSSELL SCHOOL 502 ; first Grammar (two rooms) 60, second 40, third 37, fourth (two rooms) 71, fifth 41, sixth (two rooms) 87.

First Primary 44, second 40, third (two rooms) 82.

LOCKE SCHOOL 129 ; second and third Grammar 27, fourth and fifth 26, sixth Grammar and first Primary 38, second and third Primary 38.

CUTTER SCHOOL 138 ; second and third Grammar 15, fourth and fifth Grammar 33, sixth Grammar and first Primary 42, second and third Primary 48,

CROSBY SCHOOL 101; first and second Primary 58, third Primary 43.

It may be noted that the whole number in actual attendance January 1, 1893 (959), is 132 larger than on the first day of June, 1892. The increase has been largest at the High and Russell Schools.

The whole number of children registered during the year is, of course, much larger than the actual whole number who have attended school in town during the year, because many names are repeated on the school registers by different teachers, as pupils pass from one room to another, by transfer or promotion. This number is sometimes given as the whole number of children attending school, but it is obviously too large, because every pupil transferred from one school to another is counted twice.

It is given for each class in the statistical table appended to this report.

We present here a summary of the remaining statistics given in that table.

The number of different pupils attending school in town during the year has been 1127.

Every pupil who has attended school in Arlington during the year beginning January 1, 1892, and ending January 1, 1893, is counted in this number. It includes some who have come and gone,—the floating population—some who have left school to work or on account of sickness, all who have graduated from the High School during the year, and those attending school at present.

The number over 15 years of age has been	148
The number under 5 years of age has been	8
The number between 8 and 14 years of age has been	971
The average number attending this year has been	918

This is smaller than the present number (959), because the whole number of pupils during the first half of the year was much smaller than during the last six months.

The average daily attendance has been	832
The ratio of daily attendance has been	90

The average daily attendance is much smaller than the present number in attendance, because so many new pupils have entered school since September 1, and because the attendance in various rooms during the first half of the school year was irregular and inconstant, on account of sickness and other causes noted in the statistical table. We wish that every parent who has been accustomed to allow his children to leave school at irregular periods, for a longer or shorter time, could look over the record books of the teachers, as I have lately, and see how large a majority of those who are dragging along in the upper classes discouraged and uninterested are there, in that condition, altogether, because their previous course of study has been broken up and disjointed by an occasional absence of two or three days and sometimes even of a week or fortnight; not generally on account of sickness, but for pleasure or some slight profit pecuniarily. No ordinary pecuniary gain can compensate a pupil for time lost in the lower grades of our grammar schools, because much of the interest and inspiration of the advanced work and all in it that makes for utility in after life depends upon the thorough and systematic instruction of the preceding two or three years. Knowledge, interest, enthusiasm and a habit of punctuality—these are gained by attending school every day while the schools are in session. With vacations and holidays as frequent as at present, it only needs the exercise of a little care and attention on the part of parents to remedy what has become a very serious evil in Arlington. Let us take care.

Administration and Work.

Most of the time not given to details of business connected with my office has been spent in visiting schools. Some one of the schools being in session each school day continuously from 8 A. M. to 3.30 P. M., it is possible for the Superintendent to visit each school at least once a fortnight.

In visiting schools it is not his purpose to discover petty faults. He tries to ascertain indirectly by quiet observation what, first of all, is the spirit and tone of each school, what attitude of mind the children sustain toward knowledge and ignorance, industry and indolence, in connection with the manifest results attained by their daily work; for the ethical atmosphere of the school-room has more to do with mental development than tasks assigned or lessons recited.

Another purpose must govern the number, time and length of his visits to each school; namely, to ascertain exactly what the character of the instruction is, for while it is partly true that the teacher makes the school, it is altogether true that good teaching makes a good school. Troublesome cases of discipline, confirmed cases of truancy, irregularity of attendance, and kindred evils are not commonly found where the instruction is really good, that is, simple, interesting, thorough and practical.

The third aim of wise supervision, as I understand it, is to broaden the work of the public schools. People who labor in the midst of a busy, bustling, hustling world can hardly realize how surely the tendencies of school-room life are opposed to those of the world of affairs. The narrowing influences of the school-room may be no worse than the superficial and distracting tendencies of worldly life, but they are contrary the one to the other, and if no attempt is made to reconcile them, how can our schools be expected to fit boys and girls for the push and rush of business life? It is possible, I believe, for the school superintendent, standing as it were between the school-room and the busy world, to introduce into all the schools under his charge incidentally, but continuously and persistently, by suggestion, conversation or examination, such vitalizing elements as will counteract the predominating influences of method and routine.

The fourth purpose I try to keep in mind while exercising my prerogative as inspector and director, is to secure unity of aim and method among the teachers. For lack of this, there has been a great waste of time and effort in public school work, especially where schools are closely graded.

Miss A is quite sure to give special attention to one line of work, Miss B to another, and so on, while both may be employing methods which counteract each other. Is such work economical? In any other sphere of labor, except school teaching, would a sensible man expect a fair return for money invested if his workmen were doing each a part of the work without reference to what others were doing to complete the whole? Yet it is not advisable to try to secure mechanical uniformity in teaching, for teaching is not a trade but an art—the highest of all arts. A superintendent of schools cannot organize and unify his work by issuing arbitrary directions to be followed exactly.

“In this respect his work is radically different from that of a superintendent of a manufacturing industry. Educational work must be directed by directing the thinking of the teachers who do the teaching. They must be led to comprehend clearly the principles on which the work is based and thus to view and criticise the details of methods and devices in the light of such principles. The most valuable, and, at the same time the most responsible part of the superintendent's work is to lead (or train, if necessary) the teachers, whose work he is directing, to do their own thinking.”*

In a system of schools the trend of thought among all teachers should be about the same, but each teacher should be led to think in lines not narrow as her school-room but broad as the whole work.

All progress, all changes in methods of teaching, all unity of purpose and economizing of time and labor becomes valuable and comes to stay when it comes as the outgrowth of an intelligent apprehension of the principles of education.

The two means I have employed to direct and organize, to unify and improve our educational work have been :

1. Teachers' Meetings, where lessons have been given on the principles and methods of teaching; and

*From Report of Superintendent T. M. Balliet, Springfield, Mass.

2. Personal Observation and Criticism in Special Lines of Work.

Teachers' meetings have been held nearly every week, generally on Wednesday from 4 to 5 o'clock, and although every teacher was not required to be present at every meeting few teachers have been absent from any meeting without a good excuse.

We have considered in particular three lines of work,—reading, writing, and geography. Very little, if anything, has been said to or by the teachers about any other subjects of study. This is according to the plan which I presented to you and which was accepted by you at the time of my election, namely, improvements will be attempted in one or two branches of study at a time. All changes are to be made slowly and carefully. No results shall be required until sufficient time has been given to produce them. On account of the faithfulness and efficiency of the teachers it is possible for me to report already some improvement in reading. At the beginning of the fall term I examined every pupil, in the primary and grammar schools, in this subject, that I might have some criterion from which to measure progress. Examinations were also given in writing in June, and the specimens of penmanship taken at that time have been kept for comparison.

A simple outline of work for the year, not a detailed course of study, was prepared and printed during the summer vacation. To give the citizens some idea of what we are attempting in the three subjects (reading, writing and geography) which are receiving special attention, I reprint the following paragraphs,

Reading.

Two distinct lines of work are indicated here:

I. Train pupils to read at sight, Information Reading. Books will be furnished as rapidly as possible, in the different grades.

II. Train pupils to read repeatedly, carefully and thoughtfully, Literature. Standard selections — complete, not scraps — will be provided in each grade.

Teachers will be required to keep a list of the selections or books read in each line. They are also advised to keep a list of the words learned from day to day.

Steps III. and II. Primary.

Sight Reading from the blackboard, Reading Charts and books of First Reader grade. Drill Reading from Literary Selections furnished.

I. Primary.

Sight Reading from the blackboard, written or printed slips and books of Second Reader grade. Teach the Vocabulary given in "The Riverside Manual" and "The Riverside First Reader." Drill Reading from Scudder's Fables, Andersen's Stories, Hawthorne and Longfellow.

VI., V., and IV. Grammar.

Sight Reading from Science, Geographical and Biographical Readers and other books of Third Reader grade.

Drill Reading from Hawthorne, Longfellow, Whittier, Burroughs and other standard authors.

III., II., and I. Grammar.

Sight Reading: Biography, History, Travels and Science.

Drill Reading: American and English Literature.

Pupils will be examined in both Sight and Drill Reading.

Penmanship. Two Courses of Instruction Necessary.

1. GENERAL. Each child must be trained to copy carefully and neatly every word, phrase or sentence learned. In higher grades every exercise in writing may be a training in accuracy of eye, in steadiness and flexibility of hand, and in obedience and cleanliness.

2. SPECIAL. Special instruction should be given that the pupils may learn one thing at a time, and each thoroughly—the straight line, the correct slant, the connecting curve, the capital curve, etc.,—in a natural order based upon a proper classification of the script letters.

III. Primary.

Teach i, u, n, m, A, and T. Present each letter as a whole on the blackboard. Excite curiosity. Appeal to the imagination. Lead pupils to analyze each letter, unconsciously.

II. Primary.

Teach v, w, c, e, o, a, F, N, M. In teaching give large copy. Teach by comparison.

I. Primary.

Teach d, g, q, j, t, y, l, b, I, J, H, K, P, B. Teach penholding without ink.

VI. Grammar.

Teach all the small letters and capitals. Practise movement exercises. Write on paper with ink.

V., IV., and III. Grammar.

Review carefully all the letters and use one copy book as a model.

Secure accuracy and finish.

II. and I. Grammar.

Teach shading. Require rapid and free movement.

Methods and Directions. 1. Have pupils write a great deal always at the top of effort. 2. Give exercises to make the muscles strong and flexible. 3. Give exercises to make the muscles firm, obedient to the will. 4. Give special attention to the strengthening of the will. The will unlocks power and measures the amount of energy it chooses to liberate. 5. Have pupils do a little and do it well. 6. Make all stimulation as far as possible subjective. 7. Be sure that interest and pleasure attend all drill. 8. Require pupils to write lightly. 9. Require smoothness, accuracy and finish first, rapidity afterwards. 10. Teach and train unconsciously all you can. Use double lines = =

General Directions. 1. Carry forward each method steadfastly to the end. 2. Remember that "practice makes perfect." 3. Use slate and blackboard a great deal. Form not finish. 4. Teaching and training should be logically separate in the mind of the teacher, but carried forward simultaneously. The second is subordinate to the first, but one can never take the place of the other, or precede it altogether in time. 5. Do not allow the child to follow an ideal standard too soon. 6. Realize the true character and importance of the work, Education and Training. The End of all Teaching and Training should be — To have pupils write well, not simply in a writing book, but anywhere.

Geography.

The most common mistakes made in teaching Geography are,
1st. Teaching, or attempting to teach, TOO MANY facts (details).

No small part of what children often have to learn in Geography might appropriately be labelled "THINGS WORTH FORGETTING!"

2d. Failing to train the intellect properly; burdening the mind with disconnected facts, unmeaning, dissociated knowledge. "A good deal of such knowledge may co-exist in the learner's mind with complete inaction and barrenness."

3d. Losing sight of the great purpose of all teaching, all school work,—which is to interest your pupils in the study of Nature, the world in which we live, its beauties and its resources.

Directions to Teachers.

1. Teach facts which are CENTRAL, TYPICAL; as many as your pupils can easily grasp and easily retain.

Teach these thoroughly.

2. Teach Structural Geography, "the basis of all true geographical teaching," FIRST. Each fact of political administration, of commercial geography must ultimately connect itself with a right understanding of such matters as soil, climate, shape, size, etc.

The changes at the High School are noted and explained by the Chairman in his report. The improvements undertaken for the purpose of broadening the course of study and expanding the English work, have been of such a character as not to narrow or retard the work in other directions. The classical course to-day is as thorough and complete as it ever was. Our intention is to keep it full and strong while giving science, mathematics, literature, bookkeeping and kindred subjects a great deal wider scope.

In Drawing, the special teacher, Miss Parker, and the committee to whom this subject has been assigned report commendable progress. I have noted many signs of improvement since September 1, and some good results have been attained already. There has been more method, more system, more sequence in the work, and a more intelligent apprehension of the principles of teaching as applied to drawing. The Committee on drawing deserve special mention for their generosity in supplying material and for the encouragement they have given us by their attention to matters of detail, and by their presence in the school-rooms for purposes of observation and criticism. Special efforts have been made to encourage the use of drawing in teaching other subjects. The children are trained to apply what they have learned in connection with their written work, number, language, history, geography, natural science and manual training. A course of study in drawing, prepared by Miss Parker, has just been printed for the use of teachers.

In Music, I have to report that while every class is not doing satisfactory work, some are doing remarkably well. In quality of tone, in freedom and life, in the ability to read music at sight there has been a decided improvement. A few classes are doing as good work as can be found anywhere. The subject of music also has been carefully looked after by the music committee.

New interest was awakened in Scientific Temperance Instruction, by the admirable address given by Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, at the teachers' meeting held December 15. An outline of work, now in preparation, and a better adjustment of text-books will make decided gains possible next year.

In connection with the Drawing and Nature Study some beginnings have been made in manual training, and an exhibition of the results will be given later in the year. Not until our new High School building is erected and rooms are furnished for special classes in this subject can systematic work be undertaken.

There are some defects in our school system, great improvement in methods is possible; but all changes ought to be made slowly and carefully. Education is growth. Its fruit is development or expansion from within, and the best results in education, the only results worth speaking of, we must wait for patiently as the florist waits for a beautiful flower which cannot be made—it must be left to grow.

The schools have received careful attention at the hands of the school board. So far as my observation goes, the work of the Committee has been characterized by an unusual amount of thought, care, foresight and prudence. I take this opportunity to acknowledge my obligation to them and to the citizens of Arlington for their assistance, sympathy and hearty support. I desire also to thank the teachers for their cordial cooperation.

Our system of public instruction merits the attention of every citizen. None are too poor to help the cause along, and none too rich to be relieved from the duty of giving of their means and fostering care, each according to his ability, that the schools may prosper and improve rapidly, and serve that highest need of every civilized community—the best and equal education of all its children. The common school, supported at public expense, is worthy of increasing interest and generous support.

Respectfully submitted.

I. F. HALL,
Superintendent.

TO

Committee on Water Supply

APPOINTED AT TOWN MEETING, HELD JANUARY 26, 1892.

FEBRUARY 21, 1893.

BOSTON:
PRESS OF ROBINSON PRINTING COMPANY,
91 Oliver Street.

REPORT.

To the Citizens of Arlington:

Your committee appointed at a town meeting, January 26, 1892, to examine and report on the best means of increasing and improving the water supply for the whole town, submit the following report:—

The committee organized at once and examined the plans and records of the existing works and other published matter bearing upon the subject.

Then we employed Mr. M. M. Tidd, a civil engineer who is an authority on water-works, to go over the present works and source of supply with the committee. His report is annexed.

Acting upon his advice, we had a survey made of the present reservoir and a calculation made of the amount of excavation required to deepen the larger part so that it would be ten feet deep in all places when the reservoir is full, using the material excavated to fill a small part where there is now very little water at any time. This would reduce the area of the reservoir but would increase the storage capacity. The amount of excavation required to do this is 49,500 cubic yards, and there would still remain a very large volume of mud or peat in the bottom of the reservoir, which would be very objectionable.

We had a number of pipe wells driven in the following localities, namely: four in Reed's Meadow, above the reservoir; four in the Great Meadows, a short distance above the outlet, and one at the Henderson Farm at Arlington Heights.

Mr. B. F. Smith, who drove the wells, reported that in his opinion the Great Meadows was the place to obtain the supply we required, and expressed the opinion that a million or more gallons per day could be obtained there.

Acting upon this the committee decided to make further examination of the Great Meadows.

We appointed a sub committee to purchase the necessary apparatus and conduct the work. They purchased the necessary tools and had twenty-four pipe wells driven at and near the shore of the Great Meadows just east of the East Lexington R. R. station.

The first seven, which were located farthest from the R. R. station went through fine sand and very little water could be obtained from them ; but the remaining seventeen penetrated through the sand into a layer of coarse gravel, which allowed the water to flow freely to the pipes, and an average of thirty-five gallons per minute was pumped from each well by the hand pump and also when they were connected together and a steam pump used.

The steam pump was run continuously from November 14 to November 21 and from November 26 to December 3, 1892.

Samples of the water were taken at various times and sent to the State Board of Health for examination and analysis and the result of these analyses are herewith submitted.

On December 24, 1892, an application was made to the State Board of Health, under the provisions of Chapter 375 of the Acts of 1888, stating what the committee had done and asking their advice in the matter.

Their engineer, Mr. F. P. Stearns, made two visits to the Meadows and the water shed surrounding them and carefully examined the plans and reports in possession of the town, and on February 10, 1893, the report was received from the State Board of Health and is hereto annexed.

While the examination of the present source of supply was being made, the committee looked around to see if there was any other source which would be available and a visit was made to Meade's Pond near the boundary between Waltham and Lexington, but it was found to be totally unfit for use as a water supply. Other sources were recommended to the committee, but they were found to be too distant and too low to be available. Visits were also made by members of the committee to the Winchester works, the Malden supplementary works, and the Newton works. In these visits much information was obtained in regard to details, but the conditions in Arlington are such that the methods which are used in other places cannot be directly applied.

In carrying out their examinations the committee have expended $1980.87 of the $2000 appropriated, and now have on hand a well driving outfit and sufficient pipe, in addition to what is connected with the wells driven in the Great Meadows, to drive about nine more wells.

The expenditures are as follows :—

Paid W. F. Learned, for plan of reservoir,	$ 60 00
M. M. Tidd, engineering services,	50 00

Notwithstanding all that is said in the foregoing report, important questions remain to be considered, viewed both from its financial and beneficial aspect.

Your committee believe that the experiments and examinations should be continued, and that the committee should employ a competent engineer familiar with the subject to direct and have general supervision of the work, and unless other locations are found better adapted to furnish the supply of water desired the committee recommends that the pumping and examination of the wells already driven near the East Lexington R.R. station be continued.

The committee recommends that an additional appropriation of $2000 be made to continue the examinations, as they believe that in this way the necessary knowledge can be obtained more quickly, and at less expense than in any other.

The committee has not as yet had any plans or estimates made for extending the distribution pipes to the higher parts of the town for the reason that as yet a satisfactory supply of water has not been found.

The committee also recommends that the Town instruct the Water Commissioners to have the amount of water which the town is now using measured daily, as that is an important fact which we should know before planning additional works.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF MR. M. M. TIDD.

To A. D. Hoitt, Esq., Chairman Committee on Water Supply for the Town of Arlington, Mass.

Dear Sir,—At your request I visited the Arlington Water Works on February 10, and examined the reservoir, the filter well, and portions of the water shed immediately above them, with a view to suggesting changes for the improvement of the quality of the water. I found the water in the reservoir slightly colored, but sweet to the taste and smell. I should pronounce it good at the present time, but of course it is clear to be seen that when it becomes heated by the summer sun, it will probably become bad, as it is stored in a reservoir which has a considerable shallow flowage.

As a remedy I would suggest the excavation of the mud in the bottom, and also the gravel and earth in some of the shallow portions to the depth of 8 feet, and the gravel excavated used to fill other shallow parts, in order that the average depth may be increased. The expense of doing that can be easily ascertained by making a cross-section plan of it.

I was very much surprised at the condition in which I found the water in the filter gallery. It was thick, murky, and had many clots of decaying vegetable matter. It had much the appearance of sewage. It is certainly unfit for domestic uses. I would suggest that the filter be drained at once, and a careful examination made to ascertain the source of the difficulty, and in the mean time, supply the town direct from the reservoir, the water of which is now in good condition comparatively. The filter should be thoroughly cleaned and the entire pipe system flushed out. I would further suggest that the brook which now drains the farm house and barn yard on the north side of the reservoir directly into it, be diverted and taken around the east side into the stream below the filter; also that the conduit which now leads the drainage from the Reed house directly into the stream which supplies the reservoir be diverted around the east side into the pipe above mentioned for the diversion of the one entering the north side. This can easily be done.

If your principal supply is to be taken from the large swamp area, as has been done up to the present time, you can hardly expect very good water, as it is stored in a locality filled with peat and vegetable decomposition.

It is, however, possible, that good water may be found underneath those meadows, provided the conditions there are favorable. If there is a strata of loose water gravel or of coarse sand of sufficient extent to contain a sufficient quantity, then the supply may be obtained from those points. In order to ascertain if it can be obtained there, I would suggest the driving of test wells in the vicinity of the springs on the Reed farm; also at various points in the "Great Meadows."

I do not wish to be understood as favoring a subterranean source of supply generally in preference to a visible one. On the contrary, I very much prefer the latter, but there are many cases where a visible supply is not practical for various reasons, and your case seems now to belong to that class.

As your works are at present arranged, there seems to be no means of knowing how much water is used at any season of the year. It seems to me that some means of measuring the water should be provided, and would therefore suggest that a pressure gauge be provided which can be applied to the main pipe, either on hydrant or other convenient connection, at a point as far as possible below the gate house of the reservoir, and still not below any considerable amount of consumption. Then by knowing the height of water in the reservoir and the height of the gauge, you will have the pressure due to the static head. Then the difference between the static pressure and that given on the gauge, will be the loss due to friction. Having the length and diameter of the pipe, and the loss of head by friction, the amount of flow is easily computed.

I observed in your office a plan of the lots of land which were purchased by the town, and which constitute the Great Meadows. This plan must originally have been an expensive one, but it is now in nearly a state of ruin. It is a valuable plan and can be copied now at a very small expense, and preserved for future reference. I would suggest that it be copied before the ruin is complete.

Respectfully yours,

M. M. TIDD.

Reply of the State Board of Health to an application from Arlington, for advice in relation to water supply under the provisions of Chapter 375, of the Acts of 1888.

OFFICE OF STATE BOARD OF HEALTH, 12 BEACON STREET,

Boston, Feb. 10, 1893.

To the Committee on Improved Water Supply of the Town of Arlington.

GENTLEMEN,—Your application of December 24, 1892, with regard to the extension and improvement of the water supply of Arlington, together with the information furnished with regard to driven test wells at the Great Meadows in Lexington, have been carefully considered by the State Board of Health.

In order to ascertain the quality of water from these wells the Board has caused analyses to be made of the five samples sent in by you. These samples showed the presence of an unusually large amount of free ammonia for a ground water and a larger amount of iron than is commonly found, both of which were probably due to the proximity of the wells to the Great Meadows. Notwithstanding these characteristics, if the water drawn from this source should continue to be as good as the samples, there is no doubt that it would be satisfactory for all water supply purposes and very much better than the water at present supplied to Arlington. The great danger, however, is that with continued pumping the water will be derived to an increased extent from the meadow by filtration through the peaty material, and will deteriorate and become unsatisfactory.

It is obvious from an inspection of the locality where the wells are driven that very little if any water can come from the easterly or down stream side of the wells, owing to the presence of rock and other impervious material and the fall of the ground in this direction. In other directions from the wells the character of the upland which might contribute ground water to them is such that a large portion of the water flows off into the meadows and only a comparatively small amount soaks into the ground near enough to the wells so that it will percolate directly to them. If any large quantity of water is to be obtained from the wells the supply must necessarily be derived from the meadow by filtration of water through it into the ground beneath ; under such circumstances it is extremely doubtful if the supply will continue to be of satisfactory quality.

With regard to the quantity of water to be derived from this source, the character of the material encountered by the test wells, and the results obtained by the pumping tests, seem to indicate that the ground in the immediate vicinity of wells is of favorable character for obtaining a ground water supply. The tests have not been sufficiently extended, however, to determine from how large a territory wells at this place will draw water or how much water can probably be obtained from this source. Even if the wells should draw water from a very considerable distance, so that all the water now coming into the Great Meadows could be utilized, the average daily supply in a dry year could hardly be expected to exceed 200,000 gallons per day ; but if the water filtering through the peaty material of the Great Meadows should prove to be of satisfactory quality the supply might be increased by diverting into the meadows some of the water from the upper half of the main watershed, which would otherwise run to waste during the spring over the dam of the main reservoir.

Taking everything into consideration, the Board is of opinion that the chances are against getting a satisfactory supply from the proposed source, either as regards quantity or quality, though some of the doubts which now exist might be removed by more thorough tests of this source if it were thought advisable to make them.

In view of the unfavorable outlook for obtaining a satisfactory supply from the source already tested near the Great Meadows, the Board has caused examinations to be made by its engineer of other portions of the watershed from which your water supply is derived. Judging from the surface indications he finds that some of the land in the vicinity of the main brook which feeds your reservoir promises to furnish a larger supply of ground water of good quality than any other place upon the watershed, and the Board would therefore advise that you make further tests in this vicinity. It is desirable to locate a well or wells quite a long distance, say one-fourth of a mile or more, above the present reservoir, but not so far up stream as to be above the ridge through a cutting in which Munroe Brook flows into the stream which supplies your reservoir. It is also desirable to avoid the immediate vicinity of any large swamp and to select a place where the porous material from which water can be pumped freely extends to a considerable depth, say from 30 to 50 feet.

In addition to the question of obtaining a supply from the ground your application also refers to the deepening of the present reservoir with a view to improving the quality of the water.

The disagreeable character of the water drawn from the reservoir at times last year, and also on previous occasions, is caused by the growth and decay of minute vegetable forms, and these in turn grow in greater abundance when the water contains an abundant supply of nitrogenous food. Experience has shown that this supply of food may be derived from organic matter in the bottom of the reservoir or it may come into the reservoir in the water which supplies it. In the present case the supply of food for these minute organisms may be derived from both of these sources, as there is a considerable amount of organic matter in the bottom of the reservoir, and analyses show that the water of the brook entering the reservoir contains a liberal supply of nitrogen, a result which might be expected from the population upon the watershed and the heavy manuring of portions of it.

The removal of all mud from the reservoir and the deepening of the shallower portions would undoubtedly have a decided tendency to improve the character of the water. Of these improvements, however, the removal of the mud is of greater importance than the deepening of the shallower portions of the reservoir where it has a gravelly bottom; still, both of them are very desirable. There can be no certainty, however, of any radical change for the better in the quality of the water, as these improvements would only remove one of the causes of the minute vegetable growths.

By order of the Board,

SAMUEL W. ABBOTT, Secretary.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

In presenting to the citizens of Arlington our report for the year 1893, we deem it proper to include in it some recommendations that are suggested to us by the experiences of the past two years. Departing somewhat from former custom, we present the report of the Superintendent of Streets as a separate one, in which will be found the details of the work that has been completed in the past year. We would call attention to the excellent quality of the work which has been done in this department.

The completion of Weir Bridge, and the repairing of Medford street from Arlington avenue to the Medford line, there uniting with similar improvements in the city of Medford, makes one of the best roads in the county. On this street, the enclosures with granite edge-stones, were built at the expense of private individuals; they greatly increase the attractiveness, and could well be imitated in other parts of the town. Good work was done on Lake, Park and Teel streets.

The greatest undertaking of the year, was the change on Arlington avenue — caused by the extension of the West End Road to Park avenue, and by the widening of the avenue to sixty-six feet as ordered by the County Commissioners. The greatest expense was between Forest street and Park avenue.

In our judgment, the citizens will recognize the greatly improved condition of this portion of the avenue and that it is a good investment, and one which will result in valuable returns at no distant day. It is a matter of satisfaction for the Board, whose term now expires, to be able to congratulate the citizens of the town on the completion of the long hoped for extension of the Electric Railway to Park avenue. The historic point, "The foot of the Rocks," will be preserved by the rock enclosed triangle, at the junction of Arlington avenue and Lowell street, an idea suggested by our Superintendent of Streets.

The orders have been issued by the County Commissioners for the widening of the avenue from the Lexington line to Pleasant street, also Mystic street from Arlington Centre to the Winchester line. The work, to be properly done, will require a liberal appropriation, as at a number of points on both streets, expensive changes must be made. In our opinion, when widening Arlington avenue, between the two points named, it would be wiser to make the width eighty rather than sixty-six feet. The expense would be large but never at less cost than at the present time, as the value of the property taken will naturally increase rather than diminish with the growth of the town.

During the past few years we have often been compelled to hire a steam-roller. It would be economy for the town to purchase one, as by its frequent use our streets can be kept in better condition than in any other way, and at less expense.

SEWER AND DRAINS.

This year the Town Treasurer has made the second payment on account of the Metropolitan sewer amounting to $1524.54. A similar amount will be required in December, 1894 — after that date the payments will be larger. It is expected that we shall be able to connect with the sewer sometime in 1895. In order that we may avail ourselves of this great benefit to the health of our town, it is necessary that we should begin our preparations at once. The streets, through which the pipes will be laid, must be of established and accepted grades. That the work may be properly and intelligently done, it is necessary that a complete and correct map of the town be made, showing the grade of each street and the location of each house. This is a matter of considerable expense and will require a long time to prepare accurately. An appropriation should be made at the annual meeting and work begun as soon as possible. The map will show all the property lines and the location of all the buildings in the town and would be very valuable to the assessors, thereby serving a double purpose. We have inserted an article on this subject in the warrant for the Annual Meeting.

The new drain, which has been laid from the Centre through Mystic street, will be continued across the meadow to tide water in Medford Pond. This drain is expected to take the surface water from the avenue and adjoining streets. It should be extended up the avenue to the foot of Academy street as soon as the widening of the avenue is completed to Pleasant street. This matter should engage the early attention of our successors.

It is not generally understood that the towns will not be allowed to turn any surface water into the sewer pipes which will connect with the Metropolitan sewer; that is to be exclusively for house drainage.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

In the absence of a regularly elected Board of Health the Selectmen, under the Statutes, constitute the Board. As our town increases in population, and dwellings are erected nearer together, the importance of an alert and competent Board of Health is evident. There are questions in connection with the public health, which will have to be met and considered by our citizens in a broad and liberal spirit.

On all our streets a greater or less portion of the land is used for cultivation. This results in the use of various forms of fertilizers, which, while not always dangerous to health, are very objectionable—whole neighborhoods at times being rendered uncomfortable by the unloading of refuse from the city.

The keeping of swine, within the limits of the town, should be restricted to places remote from the closely inhabited portions. By wise action in this matter, our town can be made more attractive to those desiring to locate here as well as to its present residents.

During the past year the Board has been called upon to inspect a number of dwellings where contagious diseases have appeared. The facts disclosed, indicate conditions that will warrant a general inspection of all the houses in town. We do not wish to create unnecessary alarm, but it is for the general health of the public that intelligent and prompt attention be given this subject.

The section of the town near Alewife Brook has suffered from the nuisance created by the city of Cambridge using the brook as an open sewer. The completion of the Metropolitan sewer will remove this objection but the difficulty of house drainage in that vicinity will not be removed until we connect with the sewer. The land is low and water is reached, in digging for cesspools, at a depth of about two feet, rendering it impossible to properly drain any house in this neighborhood.

The future condition of Spy Pond is a matter of great importance. This beautiful lake should form one of our chief attractions and it should be the aim of every person that its condition be improved. Every effort should be made to remove the drains and cesspools that now empty their contents into it—a matter which the State Board of Health will engage in if the local Board is not able to accomplish it. The town should keep in mind an improvement around this Pond similar to that made by the city of Cambridge about Fresh Pond.

The State Legislature of 1893 passed a law requiring each city and town to appoint a Board of three persons, consisting of the Chairman of the Board of Health, or Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and two practical plumbers, who shall prepare a set of by-laws and regulations for adoption by the town at the annual meeting, which shall determine what plumbing materials shall be used in the work done in the town, and approve all plans for the same. The Inspector appointed by this Board, Mr. Edwin Mills, has proved a very valuable aid to the Board of Health; by his inspections and suggestions the conditions around and about a number of dwellings have been greatly improved.

We suggest that a separate Board of Health be elected by the town, selected from those citizens who are especially familiar with these matters.

The experiment of collecting offal and ashes has proved a manifest success. This department should be continued and enlarged as the requirements of the town demand.

STREET LIGHTS.

We have at present fifty-four and one-half arc and one hundred and fifty-nine incandescent lights.

During the past year the lights on Arlington avenue, Broadway and Pleasant street were changed and relocated. Several arcs have been added and many incandescents taken out, in order to get better results, and we think it has been an improvement.

There are some places still in which more lights could be used advantageously and they should be supplied the ensuing year.

All the lights were burned on the moon schedule of twenty nights in each month until October 1st. Since that time thirty-two arcs and ten incandescents have been burned every night. This arrangement should be extended to all the lights as soon as practicable.

At the annual meeting in March last a committee was appointed, consisting of W. H. H. Tuttle, George D. Moore, Warren Rawson and the Selectmen, to consider the feasibility of erecting a municipal plant for furnishing electric light to the town. That committee has held several meetings and arrived at the following conclusion, "That a municipal electric light plant could be established in connection with a high-service pumping station, with the result of giving the town a very satisfactory service in lighting the streets and residences, and, by furnishing light and power for other purposes, greatly reduce the cost of street lighting."

ALMSHOUSE.

Mr. B. F. Durgin was again appointed Superintendent of the Almshouse. He has given perfect satisfaction to the Board in his care of the buildings and treatment of the inmates. Much credit is to be given both Mr. and Mrs. Durgin for the excellent condition in which the house is always to be found. Necessary furniture, carpets and bedding were added during the year. The roof of the stable was thoroughly repaired, the stalls improved, a new floor laid and a ventilator put in to convey the steam from the cellar to the roof.

Additional shed-room should be built to properly protect the snow-lounges and carts of the street department.

Present number of inmates is six, three men and three women. The amount of appropriation was two thousand dollars which has been all expended.

TOWN HOUSE.

There is little to be said in regard to the Town House. The building is in a very fair condition and during the past year the basement has been thoroughly cleansed and repaired. The present facilities for heating are insufficient and unsatisfactory. It is almost impossible to warm the entire building properly in severe weather.

We would recommend that the steam-heating apparatus now in use at the Cotting High School be transferred to the Town House, when the school is removed to the new building.

The need of a new Town House is apparent to all, and it is to be hoped that this subject will receive early consideration.

The present Post Office accommodations are a source of great inconvenience to every person having occasion to visit it. While it is not the duty of the town to provide a building for this purpose it is possible to so change the present one, as to afford a more commodious and less dangerous entrance.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Fire Department, under the able management of the Chief Engineer and his Assistants, has maintained its usual high standard of efficiency.

We heartily endorse the recommendation of the Chief, that a four way post hydrant be located at the centre of the town.

The details of the Department will be found in the Chief's report.

POLICE.

Our force at present consists of a chief and five patrolmen. During the past year, officer Barry was promoted to sergeant, in order that some one might be in authority in the absence of the chief. It was also thought advisable to have one of these patrolmen on duty during the daytime, and officer Hooley was appointed to that position.

We desire to commend the chief and his officers for their earnest efforts in securing the conviction of three parties who were guilty of illegal liquor selling.

A detailed account of the department will be found in the report of the Chief.

The coal for the year was furnished by the Peirce & Winn Company at the following prices :

George's Creek Cumberland at $4.15 per ton.

Furnace	}	“	5.60	“
Stove

Honey Brook Lehigh Egg “ 5.85 “

with labor at High School, Almshouse and Town Hall, additional.

The amount of appropriations and expenses in detail will be found in the Treasurer's report.

REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen :

GENTLEMEN—I submit to you the following report showing the manner in which the Highway appropriation has been expended and the streets where the largest amount has been used.

From January first to April first about $3300 was spent. A large portion of this amount was expended in the care of snow and sanding icy sidewalks. Last winter was an unusually bad winter, for as soon as the walks were cleared of snow the wind would blow them full again causing a good deal of shovelling. Six snow-ploughs are used in breaking out the sidewalks, and as the walks become icy, teams are sent out to sand them.

Arlington Avenue.

There has been a large amount expended on the avenue from Mill street to the Lexington line in consequence of widening according to the order of the County Commissioners and in changing the grade to conform to the grade of the electric railroad track. In many places it was necessary to fill with crushed stone and in other places to lower the grade. This was quite expensive as the hard macadamized road-bed had to be picked up and carted away and the street brought to a sub-grade one foot below the railroad and then covered with crushed stone again bringing it to its proper grade. From Appleton street to Park avenue the entire street has been rebuilt, the cut in places being three feet in bringing it to a sub-grade and then one foot of crushed stone was put on the centre of the street and six inches on the side making an average of nine inches of crushed stone. The stone was well rolled and a light coat of screened blue gravel spread upon the stone and then rolled again thus making a solid macadamized road. The sidewalks have been graded to conform to the street, and the walk on the northeast side has been coated over with stone dust making a good walk. A fifteen-inch drain pipe with suitable catch basins has been laid on the west side from the north side of Appleton street to Forest street, across the avenue down Forest street to the brook. This takes the surface water from Acton and Appleton streets and drains a large portion of the avenue. Work was commenced on the avenue from Park avenue to Lexington line but has not been finished. This will have to be completed next year and there are a few more fences to be set back to complete the street from the Public Library to the Lexington line. The avenue from the Centre to the Cambridge line has been patched in many places ; it is getting rough and a large portion should be coated over with crushed stone the coming season. There has been expended on the avenue about $8000.

Appleton Street

Between Park avenue and Claremont avenue has been put in good repair by lowering the sides and gravelling the centre. Concrete gutters have been laid on both sides from Arlington avenue to Oakland avenue.

Academy Street

From near J. H. Hardy's residence to Jason street has been graded and gravelled with screened blue gravel. The drain through the land of Messrs. Doe, Norton and others has been connected with the drain that was built through

Wm. T. Foster's land and three catch basins put in to take the water from Ravine street and this portion of Academy street, thus abating a great nuisance.

Broadway.

There has been very little done on this street except to patch it and to keep it in a passable condition. The drainage on this street is very bad and the street should be graded so as to take the surface water away, as it now stands in many places until it dries away or soaks into the ground.

Coral Street

Has been coated over with gravel and the grade changed so as to properly drain it.

Forest Street

From the railroad crossing to the Winchester line has been put in good repair by cleaning the gutters and graveling the road-bed.

Hillside Avenue

Has been gravelled in places and the gutters cleaned. The portion between Appleton street and Wollaston avenue should be gravelled this coming season.

Jason Street

From the residence of W. P. Nightingale to Gray street has been put in good condition by filling the low place near Mr. Nightingale's with broken rock teamed from the High School cellar and then covering with gravel. The gravel was obtained by making a cut of one foot near the residence of E. L. Churchill thus improving the grade. The line of the street was changed on the east side, by H. H. Homer giving the land, making a much better line and improving the looks of the street.

Lake Street

From Lowell railroad to Cross street has been put in good condition by picking the surface and removing all coarse stone and then covering with a coat of fine crushed stone to the depth of four inches. This was well rolled and then a light coat of screened blue gravel put on and then rolled until the surface became solid. Thirty-one hundred dollars was expended on this street.

Medford Street.

There has been expended on this street nearly three thousand dollars. It has been widened according to the order of the County Commissioners from near Henry Lawrence's to the bridge. The entire length of the road-bed has been picked up, the coarse stone removed and a coat of fine crushed stone spread upon the surface. This well rolled and then covered with a light coat of screened blue gravel was rolled until the road became solid. The stone used on this street and on Lake street was purchased from the Mass. Broken Stone Co. The picking and the rolling of these streets was done with a steam-roller hired from Messrs. McClintock & Woodfall. The square near W. W. Rawson's, and the one opposite Chas. Gott's have been inclosed with edge-stone. The stone was paid for by the near residents and the town teamed and set it.

Park Avenue

From Lowell street to Arlington avenue has been gravelled and the loose stone on the other parts removed. The gutters have been cleaned the entire length of the street.

Park Street.

The grade of this street has been changed by cutting eighteen inches near Coral street, and by filling the low place in front of W. W. Rawson's block, making a true grade to the river. A coat of crushed stone was put upon the street and then covered with a coat of screened gravel.

River Street.

Owing to Medford street bridge being closed the portion of this street between C. G. Learned's and the bridge was badly rutted and it became necessary to coat it over with stone and gravel. The stone used on this and Park street was the surplus stone teamed from the avenue excavated in extending the electric railroad to Arlington Heights.

Teel Street.

The grade has been changed from Cottage street so as to bring the water from this street to the avenue. That portion of the street from Cottage street to the avenue has been coated over with stone and gravel.

Wollaston Avenue.

The gutters have been cleaned and the road-bed gravelled.

Water Street.

This street has been in a very bad condition for several years. In consequence of its flatness the drainage has been very poor. Late in the season work was begun and the portion between the avenue and the railroad crossing was graded so as to better drain the street and a coat of crushed stone put on and gravelled, but the cold weather interfered before it was finished. Early the coming season a coat of fine stone will have to be spread upon the street and it should be well rolled and coated over with screened blue gravel.

There are twenty-eight and one-half miles of streets and some of the streets are quite wide and have a good deal of travel, especially the avenue, and it is quite expensive to keep them in good repair.

Sidewalks

There have been 2295 yards of concrete laid this season. The contract price was sixty-five cents per yard, the abutters paying one-half. A number of walks have been coated over with gravel and stone dust. In many places the sidewalks are in a very bad condition and more attention should be paid to them in the future; they should be made to conform to the grade of the street and either bricked or concreted. I should recommend that the town purchase a suitable outfit for concreting and the town do its own concreting, thus retaining the money within its own limits which is now paid to out-of-town parties. There have been 2501 feet of edge stone laid; the abutters furnished the stone.

-378

Watering Streets.

Departing from the usual custom of contracting the watering of a portion of the streets, it has been done with the town teams this year. This was found to be a more satisfactory way than contracting, as we have the use of the teams for other purposes when not needed for watering. Three double teams and one single have been used at an expense of $2300; there was raised by subscription $600 leaving a balance of $1700 which was taken from the Highway appropriation. I would recommend that a separate appropriation be made for watering the streets, as $1700 is a large amount to be taken from the Highway appropriation.

Teams and Tools.

Five horses have been purchased this last year, one for the offal wagon and one to replace a horse that died, making an addition of three to the horses usually kept. There are now in all fourteen horses in the highway and health department. Two horses are kept in each of the hose-houses, Wm. Penn and Highland, for fire duty and have been used on the highways. A double watering cart has been bought this last year and there should be another new one bought the coming season. A double road cart has been ordered and will be ready for use the first of April. The other carts and tools are in good condition. The removal of offal and ashes has been under the supervision of the Highway department. During six months two men and one horse are required for their removal, and during the other six an additional team is needed part of the time.

Respectfully submitted.

S. E. KIMBALL,

Superintendent of Streets.

REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

It is with deep regret, that we are called upon to note the death during the year of a member of the commission, Mr. Warren Rawson.

In his death the commission loses a worthy and useful member, and the town a good citizen.

Mr. Rawson was a man of pronounced ideas, and stood for what was right with an honesty of purpose, that is worthy of emulation.

The annual report of the Water Commissioners for the year 1893 is herewith submitted :

Your commissioners are glad to be able to report an increase in water rates received in 1893 over 1892.

Amount received in 1893, $17,592.66, an increase of $1160.39 over 1892.

The experiment of turning the course of the brook to the filter gallery, from whence the water flows to the main distribution pipe, has proved to be a judicious and satisfactory one.

We think it as apparent to all who have used the water that the quality has been very much improved thereby ; also a good supply has been continued to the town both as regards domestic and farming requirements, in so far as the established distribution facilities would allow.

Additions to the latter have been made during the year, by the laying of main pipe, viz. :

Jason and Academy streets, 6 inch iron pipe,	1,036 feet
“ “ “ 4 “ “	397 “
Russell and Prescott “ 6 “ “	500 “
“ “ “ 4 “ “	250 “
Palmer street, 4 inch iron pipe,	348 “
Water and Court streets, 4 inch iron pipe,	216 “
Sawin court, 1 1-4 inch iron pipe,	240 “
Total pipe laid,	2,987 feet

Seven fire hydrants have been set this year, viz. :

Three on Jason street, two on Prescott street, one on Russell street, and one on Arlington avenue, opposite Wood's ice tool factory, making the present number of hydrants 124.

The laying of a drain pipe which was begun last year, to take the drainage from the Winship Farm (which formerly flowed into the reservoir) to the waste brook below the reservoir, has been completed at a cost of $274.64. We have laid this year 52 street services, at an average cost of $1028, an increase of 9 services, over those laid in 1892.

After deducting the usual running expenses, together with $11,020, interest on water scrip due Jan. 1, 1894, we have a balance of cash on hand to the credit of the water works at the end of the year 1893 of $3909.85.

This fact accounts for the absence of the call for an appropriation to meet the deficiency in water scrip, and for the purchase of new iron pipe, an article which made its annual appearance in the town warrant up to the year 1892. Value of stock and materials on hand Dec. 30, 1893, $1378.79.

For a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures, we refer you to the Treasurer's report.

We have been to the usual expense in care of reservoir and brook, much vegetable growth requiring removal each year.

This year has been up to the average as regards pipe breakage, something to be expected until such time as the cement lined is replaced by cast iron pipe.

In reply to inquiries we would say that the water supply of the town is furnished under two methods.

The amount of water furnished by the filter gallery alone, not being sufficient for all purposes in the summer months, the course of the brook is changed during this season, direct to the gallery. In the winter, less water being required, the brook is turned to flow to the reservoir, the filter gallery furnishing a sufficient supply. At no time of the year has water been taken into the main distribution pipe, direct from the reservoir. In accordance with a vote of the town a water gauge was provided.

A test was made under the supervision of Superintendent Roden, and the amount of water used by the town during the time commencing June 23 and continuing to August 16, was as follows :

Maximum amount of consumption, on days of large draught, by farmers, for use on lawns and watering streets, about 1,000,000 gallons in 24 hours.

Some hours during this time showed a draught at the rate of about 1,800,000 gallons in 24 hours.

Estimated ordinary consumption during winter months 400,000 to 500,000 gallons in 24 hours.

The question of water supply is still before us. It is a question not confined to this town, but is being agitated by many communities at this time, as to from what source an adequate supply of water is to be obtained. Our large cities are awaking to the fact that present arrangements are insufficient for a supply.

At the present time, the State Board of Health, by authority of the State, are investigating the feasibility of establishing what is to be called a metropolitan system; and when completed, it is proposed to include not only the city of Boston, but all cities and towns within a certain radius.

From what information we are able to obtain the State Board are of the opinion that such a plan will be consummated, and in the near future.

With this idea in view the commissioners would suggest that this may be a way out of our present difficulty, and think it would be well for the town (acting on this suggestion) to defer action on the question of water supply for the present, and await developments in the direction now being pursued by the State through the State Board of Health.

Respectfully submitted.

The force consists of chief, sergeant and four patrolmen, officer Barry having been made sergeant the first of the year. In my report two years ago I asked for another officer to enable me to divide the route at the lower part of the town. This should be done.

We should have a telephone at Arlington Heights, also one at the lower part of the town, so that an officer can communicate with the station when necessary, as it often is. We can hardly expect to have the police signal system for some time yet, so two telephone boxes would be of much service at very little cost.

Five persons have been prosecuted for violating the liquor law, three of whom were convicted. Persistent efforts have been made to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors, and to prosecute and convict offenders.

In order to successfully prosecute offenders against the liquor law, we must have testimony that will convict, and we are continually on the alert to procure such evidence, for it is worse than useless to proceed otherwise. Frequently it takes months to get such evidence.

In closing my report I wish to thank the Board of Selectmen for their encouragement and assistance to me the past year, and the entire force for the prompt and willing discharge of their duties.

I am respectfully,

EUGENE MEAD,

Chief of Police.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE ARLINGTON
FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Selectmen of Arlington :

GENTLEMEN — In accordance with the rules and regulations, I herewith submit my Annual Report of the Fire Department for the year ending Dec. 31, 1893.

FIRES AND ALARMS.

The Department has answered fourteen calls as follows :

Jan. 9th. Alarm 8.20 A.M., Box 35. Fire, house owned by Chas. N. Bacon. Cause, over-heated furnace. Insured for $3000. Total loss.

Jan 9th. Alarm 12.35 P.M., Box 36. Fire, house in process of erection owned by Stickney and Tyler. Cause, over-heated furnace. Builder's risk $3000. Damage $20.

Jan. 18th. Alarm 12.43 P.M., Box 54. Call for help from Lexington.

Jan. 26th. Alarm 8.35 A.M., Box 46. Fire, house owned by Eber Hill. Cause, soot in chimney. No damage.

Jan. 28th. Alarm 10 A.M., Box 35. Fire, house owned by Mrs. John Schouler. Cause, soot in chimney. No damage.

Jan. 31st. Alarm 11.20 P.M., Box 36. Fire, building owned by J. A. Merrifield, occupied by P. A. McCarthy, Tailor and C. Caterino, Fruits. Insurance on building $1000. Damage $40. Insurance on P. A. McCarthy's stock $300. Damage $100. Cause, over-heated stove.

April 13th. Alarm 10.07 A.M., Box 17. Fire, wooden tenement house owned by Abner Wyman, estate on Lake street. Total loss. Cause, children playing with matches.

May 20th. Alarm 6.45 P.M., Box 52. Fire, grass on Mt. Gilboa. No damage.

June 2d. Alarm 5.02 A.M., Box 39. Fire, building owned by Pattee Estate, occupied by N. J. Hardy. Cause, spark from chimney. Damage $10.

June 19th. Alarm 4.55 A.M., Box 45. Fire, saw factory on Grove street. Cause, incendiary. Damage slight.

July 4th. Alarm 11.23 A.M., Box 46. Fire, house owned by Elijah Cutler. Cause, spark from fire cracker. Damage slight.

July 16th. Alarm 2.05 P.M., Box 52. Fire, brush on Crescent Hill. No damage.

Sept. 27th. Alarm 7.25 A.M., Box 36. Fire, house owned by Wm. D. Cousens. Cause, spark from chimney. Damage slight.

Oct. 11th. Alarm 1.30 A.M., Box 26. Fire, boiler house owned by W. W. Rawson. Cause, spark from fire. Damage slight.

Oct. 20th. Alarm 8.15 A.M., Box 45. Fire, house occupied by Clarence Hobbs. Cause, defective chimney. Damage slight.

MEMBERSHIP.

The membership is the same as in the last report, the Department consisting of the same number of men.

BUILDINGS.

The buildings are in fair condition. A new furnace has been placed in the Chemical House and the floor of the cellar has been cemented.

I would call your attention to the expiration of the lease of the land on which stands the building occupied by Hose No. 4. This lease expires in June.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus is in about the same condition as when last report was made.

Hose Wagon No. 2 needs to be varnished.

I would suggest that a pole be added to the Chemical Engine for a pair of horses.

Hose No. 3 should be repainted.

A new hose trough should be placed in the Wm. Penn Hose House immediately. We have at present 3800 feet of good hose, 500 feet of which was purchased this year.

Company No. 2 have been provided with new hats, and badges have been purchased for the Hook and Ladder Company during the past year.

I would once more respectfully suggest that a four-way post hydrant be placed near the Town House and also that a new hydrant be placed on Lake street near the tenement building of Wyman Bros., and one on Medford street, near house of P. T. Hendrick opposite the cemetery.

FIRE ALARM.

Although the Fire Alarm has given us no trouble during the past year, it needs, however, great care and constant attention.

The line on the avenue above the Railroad crossing as far as Park avenue has been changed to the left hand side of the street in order to avoid contact with the electric light wires.

Two new boxes have been purchased this year, making the change in location of two numbers on Pleasant street.

As now located, box 35 is situated between Wellington and Addison streets, and the new box 34 is situated on Pleasant street, opposite Gray street. Also new box 4 is located on Jason street near the residence of Wm. P. Nightingale. Keys are placed in the houses in the immediate vicinity of said boxes.

I would call your attention to the fact that the lease of the steam furnished for the Fire Alarm Whistle expires the coming October.

FIREMEN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

I would report that this Association has paid out one hundred and seventy-seven dollars for sick benefits and forty-nine dollars for one death benefit.

The Association has sustained a loss of one of its members. I refer to our ex-foreman, the late G. P. Peirce.

APPROPRIATIONS.

I would recommend an appropriation of four thousand two hundred dollars to meet the expenses of the coming year.

In closing I desire to express my thanks to your honorable Board, to my Engineers for their assistance, and to the members of the Department for the cheerful manner in which they have aided me in the discharge of duties.

Respectfully submitted.

CHARLES GOTT,

Chief Fire Department.

REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE ROBBINS LIBRARY.

To the Town of Arlington :

The new Robbins Library having now been occupied for more than a year, and ample time having thus been afforded to judge of the actual working of the library in the new building the Trustees desire to state that they have been very much gratified at its fitness for library purposes.

It has proved admirably adapted to the convenience both of its patrons and the librarian.

The increase in the number of Trustees from three to six has been found very satisfactory.

It not only affords an opportunity for different parts of the town and different interests to be represented, but enables the Board to apportion the duties among its members, which has already been done, in a measure, by the appointment of two sub-committees, one on books and another on the building.

There have naturally been some unusual expenses during the first year in a new building, such as screens for the windows and doors, wires and fixtures for a few additional electric lights, in particular locations, where it was found by experience that they were needed, and other minor matters. Then the building not having been occupied until quite late in the fall of 1892, and consequently the coal for the following winter not having been bought and the bills paid during the previous summer as usual, we have had to pay the bills for two years' coal supply from our appropriation for 1893. For these reasons we have been obliged to curtail the expenditures, especially the amount expended for new books.

Miss Dupee has been employed afternoons in the reading room, not only to look after the room, but to advise readers, especially children, and to assist them in obtaining the particular books needed.

This task she has performed to the entire satisfaction of the Trustees and we trust of the public also.

As the usefulness of the library depends not so much upon the number of books it contains, as upon the methods by which they are made easily available to the public, this advisory work in the reading room seems to us very important, and it is hoped that persons will avail themselves freely of the services of the attendant, who from her familiarity with the books and the card catalogue can often save them considerable time.

During the year many valuable suggestions have been made by the Superintendent of Schools in regard to books which are useful to the school children, and in some instances duplicates have been purchased for their use.

The Trustees believe that the library is becoming more helpful to the schools than is commonly the case.

The continued interest of Mr. Winfield Robbins in the library has been evinced by various valuable gifts during the year. As the citizens are well aware we are indebted to him for the two beautiful bronze statues which stand in the rotunda, also the medallion heads of American authors, hanging in the catalogue room. Mr. Robbins has also given a fine collection of Confederate money, which may be seen in a small room, opening from the gallery.

The branch at the Heights has been continued as formerly for a reading room and for the delivery of books.

There is considerable interest in the reading room, and the number of books sent there is large.

It will be noticed that the whole number of registered book borrowers, as given in the Librarian's Statement, is about one-half the number returned a year ago. There has been no actual decrease in the number of persons taking out books, but the smaller number given, is the result of a revision of the cards, throwing out those in the name of persons who have ceased to borrow books, and renumbering the remaining cards.

Since this report was written the Trustees have heard with deep regret of the death of Mr. Elbridge Farmer, whose noble endowment of the Library will be long remembered by the citizens of Arlington.

At a meeting of the Trustees the following resolution was adopted :

“ Resolved, That the Trustees of the Robbins Library desire to express their regret at the death of Mr. Elbridge Farmer, in whom they feel that the Library has lost a generous benefactor, and would extend to his family their heartiest sympathy.”

JOS. C. HOLMES,

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Town of Arlington :

The School Committee submit their annual report.

Superintendent of Schools.

For a year and a half our schools have had a professional superintendent. This period is long enough to enable us to form a definite opinion of the value of this mode of supervision, and we have to report that we are convinced that its advantages are decided. Several special points may be mentioned. When a new teacher is to be appointed the Committee are much assisted in their choice by the superintendent's wide acquaintance with teachers and his personal knowledge of their work elsewhere. The essential needs of the schools are brought before the Committee for their consideration in more detail and are supplied more promptly and efficiently than was sometimes the case in former years. The advice and instruction of the superintendent have been of marked advantage in unifying our school system and in improving and broadening the work of teachers which, without a counteracting influence, almost inevitably tends to become more or less mechanical. Such are some of the immediate and obvious benefits. The larger advantages to the pupils from the improvement in methods and means of teaching which skilled supervision fosters cannot be so accurately measured, but they are real and important. The Committee earnestly recommend to the town the continuance of a superintendency. Any other course would be an unwise backward step.

High School.

The school has suffered this year as in the past from the insufficiency of its building, a condition of things which happily will not last much longer. In January, 1893, it had 86 scholars and this, with slight variations, continued to be the number until the end of the school year. In September there were 110 pupils. As this large number could not be provided for in the building the Committee hired of St. John's Parish a room in the Parish House annexed to their Chapel. In this room 24 scholars are accommodated, and as the building is directly opposite the school-house it has been practicable, although, of course, inconvenient to carry on the whole as one school. The disposition of teachers and scholars to make the best of the inconveniences and make-shifts to which they are subjected is to be commended.

The increase in numbers and the broadening of the course of study required the appointment of another teacher and Miss Esther Bailey, a graduate of the school, who has had successful experience in teaching, was appointed at the beginning of the fall term. Miss Newton was obliged to be out of school during the spring term on account of sickness. Otherwise no changes of teachers have occurred.

Changes of Teachers.

There have been several changes of teachers in the grammar and primary schools during the year. At the Russell School Miss Caroline C. Turner, teacher of the third class, resigned in June. Miss Turner had been engaged in teaching in Arlington for an unusually long term of service and possessed in a high degree the affection and respect of her pupils and the esteem of the towns-people. Owing to the large number entering this grade in September the class was divided between Miss Nightingale and Miss Addie J. Emerson. Miss Emerson, an excellent teacher, was obliged to resign at the beginning of November and Miss Eudora T. Elting has now been appointed in her place. Miss Marietta Rose, teacher of the second primary grade, resigned in October to take a position in Newton and Miss Sarah L. Gifford of Revere was chosen to fill the vacancy. As mentioned in the last report the crowded condition of the third primary grade necessitated its division and the transfer of one portion taught by Miss Margaret L. Martin to the Adams School. This arrangement continued until the summer vacation. At the opening of the fall term the number of scholars in this grade was less than before, but it soon so increased as to be too large for one teacher, and as Miss Martin's services were no longer available, she having accepted a position in Somerville, Miss Forbush was appointed as Miss Day's assistant. This plan has thus far worked well, although it may be necessary, should the number of scholars increase in the spring, again to use the Adams building for a part of the class.

At the Cutter School an important change took place in the principal's room, Mr. Soule leaving in June, after a service of ten years. Mr. Soule had proved himself to be a good teacher and an upright and conscientious man, whose influence in the school was always for good. His retention was desired by the people of the Cutter District, and if the Committee could have felt justified in retaining him they would certainly have done so. The number of pupils in his school, however, was, and had been for several years, hardly more than half that in any other school in town and the Committee were able to find no practicable method of rearranging classes so as to increase it. Under these circumstances the Committee believed that without detriment to the school they could make a more economical arrangement and considered it their duty to the town so to do. Miss Chaplin was chosen to the position of principal and Miss Madge L. Mosely of Winchester was appointed in her stead as teacher of the fourth and fifth grades. Miss Mosely lately was obliged to resign on account of the sickness of a near relative and Miss Nellie A. Grimes of Essex has been appointed to the place.

At the Locke and Crosby Schools no change has occurred. Miss Blanche E. Heard was appointed teacher of music at the beginning of the school year in place of Mr. F. L. Diman. Since under the present arrangement, although the cost to the town is less, the music teacher gives three days in the week to our schools, instead of two as formerly, we believe that this study will be kept at the high level to which it has been raised by Mr. Marshall and Mr. Diman.

Buildings and Repairs.

No important work has been done on any of the school buildings beyond the ordinary repairs which have to be made every year. Except the High School building, soon to be vacated, the school-houses are all in good condition and unless some unforeseen accident happens, no large amount will have to be laid out upon any of them during the coming year.

Exhibit. Visitors' Days.

An interesting incident of the year was the exhibit held June 9 and 10 of the work of the grammar and primary schools. To this exhibit every pupil contributed something. Parents and friends in large numbers attended it, and the prevalent impression was one of gratified surprise at the variety and excellence of the work done in the schools. Even leaving out of consideration those exhibits the production of which required special aptitudes, the chief part of what was shown fairly represented the actual every-day work of all the pupils so far as it could be shown by such means.

The widespread interest which this exhibit caused forcibly brought out the fact of the limited acquaintance of the community with its schools—a state of affairs strongly to be deprecated. In our reaction from the old system of public exhibition or examination days, which, undoubtedly, too often became largely “show” occasions which interfered with the real business of the schools, we have missed one real advantage which they had, namely, that they brought parents into the school-room, excited their interest, and gave pupils a tangible proof that their elders regarded education as a matter of importance. No doubt, the best way to become acquainted with the schools is to visit them on ordinary school days; but as many persons neglect or are disinclined to do this, it would seem best to appoint days especially for visitors when they may see so far as possible what the schools are doing. If such occasions can be established, without the features that formerly impaired their usefulness, and shall prove attractive, they will furnish an excellent means of increasing the interest of parents and children in the work. It is the purpose of the Committee and Superintendent to carry out such a plan.

In conclusion the Committee would refer to the careful report of the Superintendent of Schools which contains many details as to the condition of the schools and what is being done in them, as well as to the reports of the special teachers in music and drawing.

Approved by the School Committee.

JAMES P. PARMENTER,

Chairman.

FEBRUARY 1, 1894.

REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Committee of Arlington :

GENTLEMEN — I have the honor to submit my second annual report, presenting, for obvious reasons, the facts of organization, grading, attendance, etc., in the same order as last year.

No changes in classification have been made. The regular annual promotions were made in September, and during the year, some fifty special promotions, according to the plan adopted last year, “to remedy certain defects in organization and to encourage and stimulate individual effort.” That the plan has helped us to secure the results desired, appears in the increased size of our upper Grammar and High School classes, and in the fact that about ninety per cent. of the pupils who were specially promoted maintain a high rank in the classes to which they were advanced.

Statistics.

There were, January 1, 1894, in the public schools of Arlington 959 children, accommodated and classified, as follows :

COTTING HIGH SCHOOL 104 ; first class 7, second 17, third 27, fourth 53.

RUSSELL SCHOOL 495 ; first grammar (two rooms) 62, second 30, third (two rooms) 66, fourth 41, fifth (two rooms) 95, sixth 45.

First Primary 37 ; second 50, third 68.

LOCKE SCHOOL 121; second and third grammar 21, fourth and fifth 30, sixth grammar and first primary 39, second and third primary 31.

CUTTER SCHOOL 145; second and third grammar 18, fourth and fifth grammar 36, sixth grammar and first primary 39, second and third primary 52.

CROSBY SCHOOL 95; first and second primary 52, third primary 43.

From these figures it appears that the whole number in attendance January 1, 1894, is exactly what it was January 1, 1893, 959, notwithstanding the fact that there are thirty less pupils in all the primary grades than there were a year ago and twenty-six less in the lowest primary. A smaller number of pupils than usual entered the lowest primary classes last September. Only ten pupils have left the grammar schools to go to work, during the year.

The number of different pupils attending school in town during the year has been 1132, five more than last year.

Every pupil who has attended school in Arlington during the year beginning January 1, 1893, and ending January 1, 1894, is counted in this number. It includes some who have come and gone, — the floating population — some who have left school to work or on account of sickness, all who have graduated from the High School during the year, and those attending school at present.

The number over 15 years of age has been	151
The number under 5 years of age has been	3
The number between 8 and 14 years of age has been	897
The average number attending this year has been	924
The average daily attendance has been	845
The ratio of daily attendance has been	91

The average number is six larger than it was last year, the average daily attendance thirteen larger, and the ratio of daily attendance one per cent. higher.

The year has been one of quiet, faithful, persistent work.

In the primary schools no radical changes in administration or courses of instruction have been made. For several years improved methods of teaching have been introduced into most of the primary schools of this country, and in Arlington they are now well established to the great advantage, I believe, of our Common School System.

Writing

is now taught to beginners. They learn to write well while they are learning to read. The two subjects, reading and writing, are taught together by methods which make them aid each other. Copying a word or sentence helps the little pupil to recognize it in reading, and reading it repeatedly helps him to write it better. This, however, is not all that is gained by teaching writing thoroughly during the first year of school life. The study of the script forms, which are simple and easily brought to the child's attention in new relations, soon become interesting to him because he can use them to express his thought; and any skilful primary teacher can use these letter and word forms to develop the little learner's observing faculties, memory, judgment and imagination. Furthermore, by requiring the class to reproduce the script forms carefully, part by part, the teacher has an excellent opportunity to cultivate and strengthen in each pupil habits of precision, neatness and carefulness, and to develop will power. The results reached in writing in the primary classes of our schools are good. Some gains have been made this year, I am sure, because I find in the exercises written by pupils from day to day, better form, more character, more freedom of movement and more facility. In there has been great improvement during the year.

The reading is more natural and more accurate, and the better methods in phonic and word drill lately adopted by the teachers have led to the development in many pupils of more independence, self-reliance and intelligence in connection with this study. In some classes a lively interest has been awakened by the use of certain helpful devices, and by a higher purpose and a more logical plan of work. Such good work has been done in reading, by some primary teachers, that a stranger, with slight experience in testing children could, in a single lesson, pick out easily the pupils in the class who had been absent even a few times. In some schools pupils may not lose much by being absent, but in a good school, where the teaching is logical, natural and persistent, every day's absence is a positive loss.

Special attention has been given to

Language

in primary grades and something has been done, but not a great deal systematically. To secure better results in this study it is necessary to give the teachers time to study the subject of language in all its bearings, in its relation to other branches of study, to the processes of mental development which school work is designed to foster, and so on. Steps have been taken by some of the primary teachers already to make their instruction and training more practical, broader and deeper, and a little more definite. I have seen lately several exercises in written and oral expression where standard pieces of literature have been used to train the language faculty which pleased me very much, and where remarkably good results have been reached. It is our purpose to make each part and feature of the language work more specific next year. In which is not taught separately to any great extent in the first school year many new methods have been used, but not by all teachers. In this subject for various reasons the steps of progress have been taken more definitely and systematically than in any other branch. In much has been done by all the teachers in a general way. It will be possible, I think, for a majority of the teachers to follow a carefully prepared outline for teaching this subject orally next spring. In nothing new has been attempted directly. Improvements cannot be made in every branch of study at the same time. We propose, as indicated last year, to take one step at once ; to do a little, do it well, and then go on to do more. This subject (Number) is taught fairly well in some schools and extraordinarily well in a few of them, especially in those where the teachers have followed closely the outline printed for the use of all teachers in the Course of Study for 1892 and 1893. According to this, the simple numbers and all the facts in them (combinations and separations) should be taught objectively. The teacher seated at the end of a table directs this work. She presents the numbers using a great variety of objects till each child learns the number by seeing it. Then each pupil is led to make for himself all the changes possible (addition, subtraction, multiplication and division) with each number. This is continued till he can make the changes readily, and can describe what he does intelligently ; after which he is taught the signs which represent the ideas he has learned. These signs are invested with life by their repeated application to real things. The pupil is then trained to recall what he knows without visible help. It is supposed by some that the tables (addition, subtraction, multiplication and division) are not now taught in the primary schools. They are taught in all good schools of this grade, but not mechanically. The children are not told what they can be led to find out for themselves, but are led to exercise their intelligence at every step. Each child is trained to do the right thing in the right way after he has been led to do it for himself, instead of learning how to do it by rote. The general principles of arithmetic are learned by application varied and extended. Since accuracy and rapidity are important results to be obtained, sharp mental practice on what has been taught accompanies each recitation. Rules of no practical value are kept in the background. Pupils are encouraged to illustrate, when possible, every problem given them, by drawings and objects. This is an outline, in brief, of what ought to be done in primary arithmetic. We do not claim that in Arlington it is followed exactly yet, for number is not often taught as rationally and economically as it should be. There is great room for improvement. In very little organized work has yet been attempted. A few steps have been taken, and some interest aroused for the purpose of keeping these subjects and their value as broadening elements in the school curriculum present to the mind, but a few teachers are carefully studying the subjects from the right standpoint, and will, I think, be prepared to get excellent results by and by.

Primary Geography

I have thus tried to sketch, somewhat in detail, what an expert teacher would be likely to see accomplished or suggested during a visit to our primary schools. He would find I believe two elements which would impress him favorably, especially if he gave his whole attention to reading, writing, spelling and language.

1. The tone and spirit of the work; because it would be interesting, full of life, sense, purpose and intelligence.

2. The uniformly good results secured. Every child is bright and every child is dull in certain directions, and it takes a skilful, thoughtful, well-trained teacher to discover how to sharpen one faculty in this individual and another in that to the end that each may be prepared to hit the difficulties of practical life squarely and cut his way clean through them.

This rehearsal of gains made lately in our primary schools does not imply that there has been remarkable progress everywhere, or that there are no weak places. Perfection has not been reached and we are not likely to reach it immediately. There are also some hindering conditions which make decided improvement in a few of our primary schools almost impossible. No teacher working against such adverse circumstances as have hampered for several years the lowest grades at the Russell and Cutter Schools can get satisfactory results. In each there are too many children in one room. In the Russell, pupils have been promoted out of the lowest grade repeatedly, not because they were fitted fully to go on, but to make room for new comers. At the Cutter Primary School for various reasons only a small number of pupils have been properly fitted for promotion each year; therefore, the lowest room is generally full to overflowing while the upper rooms have not scholars enough. It seems to me that the main reason why this state of affairs continues to exist at the Cutter School is not because pupils drop out of the upper grades to go to work, for some of the higher classes have increased in number this year, but as I have just suggested, for lack of pupils who are not for one reason or another fitted to go on. I have suggested for this evil several remedies, one of which I hope may be adopted and applied very soon. To overcome the difficulties existing at the Russell School more rooms are necessary and these will be available as soon as the new High School building is completed. Then we shall probably have a decided improvement in the primary work, a result to be anticipated with pleasure, because the character of all subsequent work is affected greatly by the work done in the lowest grades. In penmanship is now very well taught. In a few classes the results are extraordinary. Correct form, uniform height and slant, a light and smooth style, facility and rapidity of execution have been pretty well attained and the pupils will soon be ready to learn to shade and finish their work tastefully and beautifully. In these grades the mental discipline obtained by the introduction of philosophical methods of teaching penmanship appears in all other studies which the pupils take up. This is encouraging because the effect wrought in the pupil himself is of more value than the thing which he produces. In the results are fully as good as in writing. There has been a great change during the last eighteen months, in the interest shown by pupils in the subject. They have gained in power to grasp thought from the printed page and in the freedom, force and feeling with which they express accurately by voice and manner what they have apprehended silently.

In a few cases many selections of great literary merit, which would have been too difficult for them to use at all a year ago, are now taken and used easily and with profit for sight reading as well as for study and practice. No one who has not watched closely the development of this work of learning to read, first, that which is very simple and colloquial in style, then what is more difficult as to form and depth of thought and, finally, that which expresses the deepest thoughts of the world's thinkers clothed in the beautiful forms of classic and artistic expression can appreciate all that has been done and gained by the methods so excellently devised or accepted and practiced by some of our grammar school teachers.

A few of the purposes and principles which govern good instruction in have been considered from time to time at our teachers' meetings. New methods suggested by a careful study of this subject from the standpoint of the pupil's capacity and the needs of practical life have been employed by many of the teachers. They are now doing more than ever before I believe to cultivate and develop in every pupil under their charge the faculty of oral and written speech, the power of free and fluent expression and the habit of correct expression. These are the three chief ends of language teaching. Every lesson is made a language lesson and nothing lost thereby in any direction. Time and labor are saved by teaching two or more subjects, like Language, Reading, Writing and Spelling, together, for they are naturally coordinate and easily coalesce. The written exercises in Geography, History and even in Arithmetic, as well as those in Original Composition, Description or Narration, show improvement in a general way. Particular gains can not be noted until the work is organized and developed more fully.

learning the forms of words—has been taught carefully and thoroughly this year in the grammar grades. The aim has been to teach the words of common life, to make them so familiar to every pupil that he can reproduce them immediately in writing.

Oral-Spelling — naming the parts of written words — has not been abolished, but made subordinate and subservient to written spelling. In this branch of study we are using such methods of teaching as seem to lead most surely and directly to the formation of a correct habit of spelling. Such a habit, formed in early life, makes it easy for one to spell correctly the words he needs to use in communicating his thoughts to others. The best evidences of progress and tangible results are the pupils' written exercises to be found any school-day on the teachers' desks in our grammar rooms.

has been taught thoroughly by every teacher but too exhaustively by some. In this subject, more than in any other, teachers need to have an eye single to the dominant, essential significant facts of Geography, those which every pupil needs to know because they are not only the basis of details but the guiding lines of future and protracted study — the pivotal points about which all minor facts arrange themselves and turn, each in its proper place.

At the same time Geography is peculiarly a culture study. Mechanical methods, cramming processes, sets of topics, detailed and inflexible outlines of study from day to day, or from term to term, are out of place here. Freedom for the teacher is absolutely necessary; therefore, there must be no measuring of results by the inch or the page or any such thing.

The results secured in Geography by the best teachers are not easily stated, in fact, are with difficulty observed, for they are in the pupil and can be discovered only by such as know how to discover the best mental results. Of what value is it to a boy to know the names and positions of five hundred cities, if, with these facts, he has not acquired power to see and to learn, by observation and reasoning, something new every day from all he sees about him, from the varied forms of vegetable and animal life or the characters and customs of the people he meets in this civilized society of which he is a member. In a word, the best product of learning Geography is learning to love to learn and learning how to learn. Some of our teachers are getting hold of this fact, others have not seen it yet; until they do, a systematic outline of methods and a detailed course of study in this subject will not help, but may hinder a great deal. In nothing has been attempted by the superintendent. The first thing he needs to do is to eliminate certain subjects now taught under cover of the name Arithmetic which are not Arithmetic at all; and the second thing he needs to do is to eliminate certain notions from the heads of teachers as to the topics and processes which are of practical value. With such a bright, intelligent, earnest and thoughtful corps of teachers as we have in Arlington this is a pleasant task for somebody to anticipate.

Of the work in

History, Science and Manual Training

I have time to say but a word. These subjects are not so important in the lowest practical sense as the "three R's," but in the best sense they are practical for they are cultural and inspirational and are likely therefore to find a larger and larger place in our public school curriculum. Without noticing the particular gains which have been made in these three branches of study I will conclude this review of the purely technical or professional features of my work by one general remark. Our teachers need to be supported heartily by the parents, and strengthened and stimulated by a deeper and broader sympathy on the part of the public. This sympathy should be freely extended, expressed often and assiduously cultivated by both parties. The teachers need to see more clearly and to know more particularly what the public needs and wants, and the public needs to know better what is the length and breadth and depth of the teacher's work.

The good teacher devotes his life to making men and women. His duty is not to make "a clerking man, or a farming man," for such an one is never so serviceable to the world as "a man clerking or a man farming." He is to develop in each pupil "those powers of mind and heart which make the individual adequate to varying conditions and unexpected situations. Effective service in the world of affairs can come only from a well developed manhood or womanhood enlisted in the service."

I heartily commend to your favorable attention all the teachers in the Arlington Public Schools, for I believe they are striving with tireless energy in patience and love for such an ideal.

The work during the year in the

has been continued on the lines laid down in the courses of study adopted in 1892. The pupils in the Classical and Academic Course have been held to the same high standard of attainment as formerly, and pupils who are taking the English or General Course show increasing interest in their work. The classes in Chemistry and Bookkeeping are larger than formerly, and in both subjects results are promising. No one who has examined it carefully can fail to be pleased with the teaching, influence and spirit of this school.

I hope it will be possible next year to have more complete and definite instruction, and more extended practice given here and in the grammar schools in Original Composition and Public Declamation. It has been impossible to begin such work this year, for reasons which are obvious to all who know anything about our limited accommodations at the High School.

The Course of Study for classes below the High School which was prepared in 1892 for temporary use will be reconstructed and adapted to the new conditions of work next year. It will then be more definite and consistent.

Music and Drawing.

Careful attention has been given as usual to the instruction in music, and steady progress has been made. The change of instructors in September made no radical change in the plan of instruction.

Mr. Diman's work in the higher grades was quite satisfactory. Miss Heard has given close attention to thorough drill in the elements of tone and time especially in the primary grades, and her previous experience as a public school teacher of other branches as well as music has helped her to adapt her methods admirably to existing conditions. The work is well planned and carefully and systematically supervised. During the last five months special efforts have been made by the supervisor of music, under the direction of the Music Committee, to secure the best practical results while teaching the subject in such a way as to secure its highest educational value. It is possible to use Music in school as a means of training sight and sound perception, memory, the imagination, the will power and the feelings. By such a course pupils may be taught to sing while their minds and characters are developed by the study required. Our pupils in all grades are learning to read music at sight easily and to sing in proper rhythm or time. There have been some gains in purity of tone and quality of voice, but the work still needs to be continued mainly on the lines so well started in 1888 and 1889 by Mr. Marshall. A carefully written account of Miss Heard's work will be printed as an appendix to this report. See page 166.

The work in Drawing, under the supervision of Miss Parker, has been continued with progress in various directions.

In the school exhibit this subject, represented by the actual work of the children, had a prominent place. The three principal kinds of Drawing, Constructive, Representative and Decorative, were plainly set forth, and also the use which the children were making of drawing in connection with their other studies; more especially, History and Geography. The color work represented only a few of the first steps which have been taken.

An outline Course of Study in Drawing was prepared by Miss Parker last January. Since that time she has given carefully prepared detailed outlines to each teacher. Miss Parker's report of her work during the year is printed as an appendix to this report. See page 168.

Last June

A Public Exhibit

of the work done by the pupils of the primary and grammar schools was given at the Town Hall.

What the pupils had done from day to day during the previous six months was displayed on cards hung upon the walls or was arranged on tables for close inspection. The breadth and variety of the work exhibited was a surprise to some and doubtless caused casual observers to fear that the "Three R's" were in danger of being neglected for the newer branches of study. But it was easy for a close observer to discover, running through the exhibit a unity of purpose, by which Reading, Writing and Arithmetic were made the basis of every other study, either for acquisition or expression, while a common aim in teaching — the development of mental power — made these three one, like a tree with so many branches. In such a light the work of the common schools did not appear more complex and divergent, but simpler and more convergent than in the past.

During the year we have received several visits from members of Post 36, Grand Army of the Republic. Some members assisted at interesting school exercises on the Monday preceding Memorial Day. We hope these exercises will be repeated, with improvements and amendments, to the end that Patriotism, which is the sentiment that prompts a citizen to sacrifice himself for others, more especially for Freedom, Brotherhood and Native Land, in war and peace, may be fostered and taught in our public schools. Our thanks are due to Francis Gould Post 36, for giving each school a reminder of their interest in our work, and their desire to aid us to the extent of their ability.

In conclusion allow me to say that I have tried to present a simple and just report of the work which has been done in the schools during the year. If I have failed in this attempt it has not been from lack of a desire to present every matter just as it would appear to an unbiased observer.

The year has been filled with pleasant associations and enjoyable effort, partly due to the assistance and encouragement you have given me through the labors you have freely given in behalf of the public schools. My thanks are due to all the sub-committees, especially those on Music, Drawing, Supplies and Repairs, for valuable aid received.

I commend our schools and teachers to the favor of every thinking man; for, while educators and statesmen have much to say in these days about ways and means of training for citizenship by the study of Civics and Morals, etc., we all need to remember that no means ever devised is so potent for this express purpose as the Common School System itself. In every well managed school every child must live a real citizen's life. He is trained therein to think his conduct as a member of the society we call a school—in a word, “he is trained to the citizenship habit.” Civics in the life is more vital than civics in the head.”

Respectfully submitted.

APPENDIX.

MUSIC.

To the School Committee of Arlington :

GENTLEMEN — In reviewing the music work of our schools during the past five months, it seems that much of lasting influence has been accomplished. Two definite aims have been in mind, viz., to strengthen the reasoning power of the pupil by means of accurate, thorough drill in tone and time perception,—and to increase the music's refining influence by constant attention to ease and purity of tone. When the great London hospitals employ music as a restorer in mental as well as physical illness, its influence for good upon our classes can be readily understood.

The order of study is in music as in arithmetic:

- 1st. The whole, that is the scale;
- 2nd. Parts of whole,—its separate tones;
- 3rd. Parts in relation to the whole, its simple intervals;
- 4th. Parts in relation to each other, its more difficult intervals.

The pupils are taught to sing these intervals, to recognize and name them when others sing, and to represent them upon the staff in various keys. Meanwhile the drill in time as a separate mental object of thought is being carried on.

The unit is the measure : its parts — the pulsations, strong or weak, composing it. Classes consider an exercise or song first with reference to its general rhythm and accent. They recognize varying measures from a swinging pendulum, name them and represent them as accurately as they would write a word from hearing it, Tone in nature is noticed. The following are all suggestions from Arlington children,—the musical call of the "Whip-poor-Will," 8-3-5 of the scale, the creaking up the scale of an unoiled hinge; under time, etc., time in nature, the rhythmic swing of a horse's hoof, the walking beam of a steamer, the swaying of a tassel.

The chromatic, or color-scale is developed in the same way as the major, its parts recognized, named, represented.

Many exercises for sightreading, individual and class work, are given with each new subject, and songs occur frequently for enjoyment as well as growth. Most pupils, however, enjoy the reading of new exercises for their musical effect, when once the tone and time recognition become second nature.

Along all these lines the work is progressing. The great gain in purity of tone is very satisfying, and the power to detect at once a mistake is perceptibly growing

In all grades down to the lowest grammar, each voice has been separately tested and placed on whichever part its quality as well as range seemed to demand. Great care has been taken with the placing of both girls' and boys' voices from thirteen years upwards, when the growth of the vocal chords renders the voice for a time less flexible and more difficult to manage.

Minor drill and more advanced voice-culture will come later.

When a pupil leaves the grammar school, he should be able to read at sight music containing any difficulty of tone or time. To this end we work.

A very brief outline of our plan of work is as follows :

- First year. Thorough development of the intervals of the major scale, their recognition and representation. Establishment of the feeling of rhythm through the various accents of the measure up to the divided beat. Exercises and songs in Keys of C, G, D and A from the Charts.
- Second year. Exercises and songs of greater difficulty in tone and time. First Readers used with the Charts.
- Third year. In this year greater range is permitted as the little vocal muscles attain their fuller growth. Two part work introduced.
- Fourth year. Second Readers — The beat in its first and second divisions. The study of the chromatic scale with its representations.
- Fifth year. This year completes all advanced time difficulties and continues the chromatic scale study.
- Sixth year. All important points reviewed. Voices carefully tested and three part work introduced.
- Seventh year. Introductory Third Reader. Three part work without bass clef. Special attention to the blending of voices and quality of tone. Minor scale study with its representations.
- Eighth year. Modulation presented and its simpler rules practised. Bass clef introduced.
Last part Second and Introductory Third Readers.
- Ninth year. Recapitulation of the work of preceding years. The exercises and songs should be very comprehensive, and as elaborate as the ability of the pupils will allow.
- High School. If the work of the preceding years has been thoroughly done, the High School should be ready for the sight mastery of any difficulty in tone or time.

Permit me, in closing, to gratefully acknowledge the aid which the cordial co-operation of the teachers and their ready acceptance and practice of each suggestion has been, thus making the progress of the past five months both systematic and satisfactory.

Very respectfully,

BLANCHE E. HEARD,
Director of Music.

ARLINGTON, Feb. 6, 1894.

DRAWING.

To the School Committee of Arlington :

GENTLEMEN—The growing interest in Art education and its influence on general education has given scope for drawing as a factor in the development of the child. It is not exceeded by any other branch at present taught in our schools.

The drawing of to-day must assist in the highest development of child nature; must train his judgment, his ideas of proportion and his appreciation for beauty in form and color; it must also fit him to express, both by freehand and by accurately measured mechanical drawings, his ideas of appearance and of facts of form.

Thus taught, drawing is to the pupil a ready means of expression, and to his teacher it is an instrument by which he can test his pupil's knowledge in many subjects.

As illustrated by our school exhibit of last June, the drawing (a very inadequate term by which to express the breadth and influence of this subject) is closely interwoven with the other studies of the school curriculum.

To facilitate its educational purposes, and to give it the most practical bearing it is classified under three subject divisions: Construction, Representation and Decoration.

The Construction includes the study of the facts of form and is closely allied and leads up to manual training. It cultivates clearness of thought and gives practical knowledge to the artisan. Representation, the study of form under various conditions and relations, is of special assistance in expressing ideas gained from other studies, and in rendering these ideas more vivid to the child. This includes composition and grouping, outline drawing, and drawing in light and shade.

The study of Decoration is at once æsthetic and practical, and as it unfolds into historic ornament in the upper grades is of great assistance in language and geography and indirectly in history.

There has been no radical change this year in the course of study as printed in last year's report. The outlines furnished the various grades, lay out the work more in detail so that each teacher and pupil may thoroughly understand each advance step.

The work in color, which was touched upon last year, has this year become a systematic part of the course, and has been a source of pleasure.

The generosity of the committee in regard to supplies and the cordiality with which the teachers have co-operated in the work of the year is evidence of the interest and appreciation of drawing as a component part of education.

Respectfully submitted,

E. K. PARKER,

Director of Drawing.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

We submit the following as our annual report for the year ending December 31st, 1894. The year has been an important one for the town. Within its twelve months the new High School building has been completed and occupied; the High Service water system has been established, and is already available for the use of the Fire Department; the bonds for both of these much needed improvements having been placed at a low rate of interest, thereby securing the addition of these valuable advantages to the town at a reasonable outlay. The school bonds were disposed of at private sale. The water bonds were advertised and sold to the highest bidder.

The extended work upon Mystic street and Arlington avenue, now nearly completed, has been of an expensive character, particularly on Mystic street, which has required the building of heavy walls at a number of points on the line of the street. The work at the "Old brick school-house" on the avenue, was also of a difficult and expensive nature. This work has been well done, and after that now in progress at the Lexington end of the avenue, and Winchester end of Mystic street is completed, there will be but little expense required on these two streets for some time, excepting the ordinary expense of repairing the roadway.

It has been our plan to encourage as much as possible the placing of curb-stone along the line of our sidewalks; we trust that this idea will meet with approval and be continued wherever possible. The streets, sidewalks and gutters can be kept in much better condition and at less expense if curb-stone is used, and the general appearance of the streets is much improved.

The purchase of the O. S. Kelley Company's steam roller has proved to be a good investment for the town. The excellent results of its use have fully justified the Board in securing it on the favorable terms which were offered them. The income derived from renting it to other towns has very much more than paid the interest on the entire cost of the roller including repairs.

The next street which should receive special attention is Broadway. This street should be rebuilt and graded from Tufts street to Alewife Brook and to do the work properly will require a liberal appropriation. The present grade is such, that between the points named the drainage is from the street to lands on each side, instead of along its own lines to the brook as it should be. The principal line of connection with the Metropolitan sewer will be through this street, so the work of rebuilding and grading can be economically done at the same time that the sewer is constructed. The complete details of the work upon the streets will be found in the report of the Superintendent of Streets.

SEWER AND DRAINS.

We are pleased to be able to report that the Metropolitan sewer will be available for our use sometime during the coming summer. The opening of this system will remove from Alewife Brook the drainage which now flows into it from Cambridge. As authorized by a vote of the town, at the meeting held December 29th, the Selectmen have arranged for complete plans and specifications for a system of sewerage that will provide for the present and future needs of the entire town.

The new drain, referred to in our report for 1893, has been completed, from the Robbins Library on the avenue, through Mystic street to Chestnut street, and across the meadow to the brook in the rear of the Cemetery, taking all the surface water from Arlington avenue and the lower end of Pleasant street, which formerly flowed into the low land in the rear of the property owned by Mr. F. E. Fowle.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

This Board consists of the three members of the Board of Selectmen, assisted by the town physician, Dr. E. P. Stickney, and the Inspector of plumbing, Mr. Edwin Mills — the latter also filled the position as agent of the Board. This position has been no sinecure. A large number of inspections for sanitary defects and to abate nuisances have been made.

The regulations adopted by the town, in consequence of the Statute relating to the business of plumbing throughout the State, have been impartially enforced in the interests of the citizens of our town who employ plumbers, as well as for the protection of those in the town who are engaged in the plumbing business. The importance and value of the inspections will become more apparent each year. A complete record is kept, by the Inspector, of each building examined, and the information contained in those records will prove of much value to those who may wish to purchase buildings in the town, as they can ascertain just what quality of work has been put into them. As the work of this department becomes better known it will be more highly appreciated. It is expected that before another year passes the town will elect a special Board of Health, and that some much needed by-laws in relation to the general health of the town will be adopted.

TOWN HOUSE.

During the past year two important improvements have been made. The old heating apparatus has been replaced by a complete system of steam heating which has added very much to the comfort of all who in any way use, or occupy, the building.

That part of the building, which has been occupied as a Post Office, has been radically changed and enlarged, to accommodate the increased business which is now transacted through this office. The change was so much needed and so generally demanded by the public, that the Board felt justified in carrying out the wishes of the citizens, although to do so resulted in a larger expenditure than was intended when the appropriation was asked for at the annual meeting.

ALMSHOUSE.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Durgin continue in charge of the Almshouse, and we are pleased to express our satisfaction with the efficient manner in which they perform the many duties connected with the institution. At present, there are eight inmates, three males and five females.

The Rev. John M. Mulcahy has generously presented to the town a fine piano for use at the Almshouse.

The buildings will require painting this year in addition to some general repairs.

The new building, adjoining the stable, has been completed, for the use of the Highway department, and will prove very valuable for the storage of the various vehicles, tools and harnesses used by the department.

POLICE.

Chief of Police Mead resigned his position to engage in business on his own account. He made many friends, during his service of ten years as head of the police force, and we are pleased to express our appreciation of his long and faithful service in the interest of good order in the town.

The new Chief — Mr. A. S. Harriman — makes his first report, which will be found in detail in another place. He comes to us after a service of nineteen years on the police force of the city of Cambridge and brings many valuable suggestions — the natural result of a long experience. We are very glad to express our satisfaction to the chief and his officers, for the excellent work which this department has performed, in maintaining order, and enforcing the sentiment of the citizens of the town in relation to the sale of intoxicating liquors. We approve of the recommendation contained in the chief's report, that an additional man be added to the regular force. This may be accomplished, by appointing a regular Janitor for the Town Building, thereby relieving Officer Hooley, and allowing him to devote his entire time to police duty, which would save the expense of a new officer.

STREET LIGHTING.

Our streets have been lighted the past year by electricity, furnished by the Somerville Electric Light Co. at a total cost of $7340 — using sixty-eight and one-half arc and one hundred and eighteen incandescent lights. The subject, of establishing a municipal lighting plant in the town, is now under consideration, by a committee recently appointed, “for the purpose of ascertaining the cost of building and maintaining a town plant sufficient to light our streets and furnish light and power for commercial uses.” We trust that the outcome of the committee's work will be, to give the town better service at a less expense than under the present arrangement.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

We desire to express our appreciation of the excellent condition of the department, a complete account of which will be found in the report of the Chief Engineer.

In the death of assistant engineer John M. O'Keefe, the department has lost the service of a good man and a faithful member.

The coal for the year was furnished by the Pierce and Winn Company at the following prices :

Furnace, egg and stove, at $4.64 per ton.

Honey Brook Lehigh furnace and egg, at $5.12 per ton.

George's Creek Cumberland, at $3.75 per ton.

To which should be added extra charge for labor at the High School, Almshouse and Town House.

The explanation in detail of the financial condition of the town with the particulars of the appropriations and expenses will be found in the excellent report of the Treasurer.

REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN—I submit to you my annual report showing the different streets and manner in which the appropriation has been expended and calling your attention to repairs and improvements which should be made the coming season. As you are well aware a large portion of our street appropriation for the last two years has been expended in widening Massachusetts avenue and Mystic street, thus neglecting many of the necessary repairs and causing our streets in many places to be neglected and consequently falling behind their usual good condition.

In widening these streets it was necessary in many places to change the road-bed. An entire new foundation had to be made which amounted to the same as building a new street. Heavy retaining and bank walls have had to be rebuilt and in many places entirely new walks have been laid.

Mystic Street.

Work was commenced on this street early in the season and the portion of the street from Massachusetts avenue to the Huffmaster estate has been widened to the line ordered by the County Commissioners, by setting back the fences and re-laying walls and in many places building new retaining walls. The road-bed from Fairview avenue to near old

Mystic street was thoroughly rebuilt by removing the loam and filling in with broken rocks teamed from the High school lot, a layer of crushed stone was spread upon this and then a light coat of gravel was spread, each layer was thoroughly rolled by the steam roller. The portion of this street from Massachusetts avenue to near Russell street was rebuilt and coated over with crushed stone and then covered with a light coat of screened gravel, each coating was thoroughly rolled by the steam roller.

Work was commenced near the Winchester line but, as the County Commissioners have been petitioned to change the line at this end, work has been stopped until the line is settled.

There has been expended about $7000 on this street.

Massachusetts Avenue

Has been repaired in many places by picking up and coating over with crushed stone and gravel. Both sides of the avenue from the Cambridge line to Henderson street, and from Wyman street to the monument and on the north side of the avenue from near Medford street to Mill street, have been treated in this way. With the steam roller to do the picking and rolling, it is very easy to resurface a macadam road as in many places it requires but little new material. The portion from Crusher Lane to Forest street has been rebuilt, the bank at the old school-house has been removed, the fences on each side have been set to conform to the Commissioners' line. Work near the Lexington line was begun but cold weather set in before much was done, this part of the avenue should be completed the coming season and from the Crusher Lane to the centre on the south side should be picked up and coated with stone and gravel. By the extension of the electric road to the Heights it causes the travel more on the sides of the street and as the sides are not as heavily macadamized, it makes the street wear faster. This and laying the High Service water pipe on the south side, make that side of the street in a very bad condition.

Mount Vernon Street

Has been put in good condition by lowering the sides and covering the centre with crushed stone, well rolled and gravelled

Teel Street.

Early in the spring work was resumed on this street. Its entire length has been graded so as to drain itself. It was first covered with stone from the High School grounds, then a layer of crushed stone to the depth of three inches was spread and over this a layer of gravel was spread, each layer being thoroughly rolled by the steam-roller. This makes a much needed improvement and it will be a long time before it will require any more expense except to clear the gutters. $1500 was expended on this street.

Water Street

From the railroad crossing to Russell street has been widened to 40 feet, and is now completed. The grade has been lowered and a macadam road-bed has been made to conform to that part of the street, built last fall. This street speaks for itself and anyone travelling over it now can hardly realize that it is the narrow, rough and muddy street of a year ago. The largest part of the appropriation was expended upon the above named streets.

The following streets were patched and gravelled in many places :

Academy	Court
Addison	Decatur
Appleton	Draper avenue
Bartlett avenue	Dudley
Beacon	Eastern avenue
Bow	Forest

Lowell	Tufts
North Union	Westminster avenue
Palmer	Wollaston avenue
Park	Wyman

The usual fall cleaning was commenced but the unusually early cold weather began before it was quite completed.

Sidewalks.

There have been 1200 yards of concrete walks laid at an expense of sixty cents per yard, the abutters paying one half. The walk on the north side of the avenue from near Teel street to Winter street has been lowered to conform to the grade of the centre of the street. When work was commenced it was found that the loam had never been removed and was about twelve inches in depth. After excavating the loam and bringing to subgrade, there was a coat of broken rock from the High School grounds filled in and then covered with a light coat of crushed stone, and over this was spread two inches of stone dust. The sidewalk on the west side of Mystic street, from the residence of Mr. J. S. Crosby to Mr. William Basset's line, was first covered over with a coat of fine crushed stone and rolled, and then two inches of stone dust was spread over that. The walk on the west side of Westminster avenue has been covered with stone dust. In many places walks have been coated over with stone dust and gravel. A macadam sidewalk costs less than a concrete and at certain times of the year makes a better walk. There has been 2833 feet of edge-stone laid this year, the abutters pay for the stone and the town teams and sets them.

Drainage.

There has been 1300 feet of 18-inch drain pipe laid through the land of Mr. George H. Bartlett. 600 feet 24-inch pipe has been laid on Massachusetts avenue from near the railroad crossing, connecting with the 24-inch pipe laid along Mystic and Chestnut streets to the meadow, to Robbins Library with catch-basins, and a branch of 150 feet 20-inch pipe laid, from the 24-inch pipe, along Pleasant street, with catch basins on each side of the street. 150 feet 10-inch pipe has been laid on Winslow street, connecting with the drain laid along Mystic street, with two catch basins. From where the 24-inch pipe empties into the meadow there has been a ditch opened across the meadow to the line of the cemetery and along the cemetery to the brook. There has been an 18-inch pipe laid 100 feet along the avenue to Alewife Brook, with a suitable catch basin. The B. & M. railroad laid a 20-inch pipe under the railroad at Forest-street crossing, and to this a 1-foot pipe has been connected across Forest street, taking the water that flowed over the sidewalk on to the land of Mr. E. S. Farmer.

Watering Streets.

This has been done by the Highway department and now requires three double teams and one single at a cost of about $2300 a year. As $700 is raised by subscription it leaves $1600 to be taken from the Highway appropriation, there should be a separate appropriation made for watering the streets.

Offal and Ashes.

In the removal of offal and ashes the town is divided into two divisions. On Pleasant and Mystic streets and south of these streets the offal is removed twice a week, Monday and Friday, the ashes on Wednesday. North of Pleasant and Mystic streets the offal is removed on Tuesday and Saturday, the ashes on Thursday.

Steam Roller.

The steam roller used the past season was the O. S. Kelley make of Springfield, Ohio, and has given good satisfaction. It has been of great service, not only in picking and rolling, but has been used in plowing, pulling stumps and stones. The roller has been used 77 days, and $379.55 have been received from other towns and cities for its use.

Teams and Tools.

The department now has :—

13 horses,	1 jigger,
2 single road carts	3 double watering carts,
1 hay wagon,	2 single watering carts,
1 road machine,	4 double sleds,
1 ash wagon,	2 single sleds,
1 offal wagon,	1 derrick,
5 double harness,	picks,
3 single harness,	shovels.
5 double road carts,

Respectfully submitted.

SAMUEL E. KIMBALL,

Superintendent of Streets.

TOWN WARRANT.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Middlesex, ss.

To GARRITT BARRY, a Constable of the Town of Arlington, in said County, GREETING:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts you are hereby required to notify and warn the inhabitants of the Town of ARLINGTON who are qualified to vote in elections and town affairs, to assemble in the TOWN HALL, on MONDAY, the Fourth day of MARCH next, at six o'clock, A. M., then and there to act on the following articles, viz:—

Article 1. To choose a Moderator to preside in said meeting.

Art. 2. To elect a Town Clerk for the ensuing year.

Art. 3. To elect a Town Treasurer and Collector for the ensuing year.

Art. 4. To elect one Selectman for the term of three years.

Art. 5. To elect one Assessor for the term of three years.

Art. 6. To elect three members of the School Committee for three years.

Art. 7. To elect one Water Commissioner for three years.

Art. 8. To elect one member of the Board of Trustees of the "Pratt Fund" for the term of five years.

Art. 9. To elect one member of the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking fund for the term of three years.

Art. 10. To elect two trustees of the Robbins Library for the term of three years.

Art. 11. To elect one member of the Consolidated Board of Trustees of "Soldiers' Monument and Robbins' Funds," and of Cemeteries, for three years.

Art. 12. To elect two Auditors and five Constables for the ensuing year.

Art. 13. To elect three Sewer Commissioners, viz: one for one year, one for two years and one for three years.

Art. 14. To elect three Park Commissioners, viz: one for one year, one for two years and one for three years.

Art. 15. To elect, in accordance with Chap. 218 of the Acts of the Legislature of 1894, a Board of Health, consisting of three persons, to serve, one for the term of three years, one for the term of two years and one for the term of one year.

Art. 16. To elect all other necessary Town Officers for the ensuing year.

Art. 17. To bring in their ballots, "Yes," or "No," in answer to the question: "Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this Town?" in accordance with Section 5 of Chapter 100 of the Public Statutes of Massachusetts.

All town officers who are by law required to be chosen by ballot, except the Moderator, are to be voted for on one ballot. The polls will be opened as soon as possible after the organization of the meeting and kept open until five o'clock, P. M.

Art. 18. To hear and act on the reports of the Selectmen and other Town Officers and Committees heretofore appointed.

Art. 19. To determine what action the Town will take in regard to lighting the streets the ensuing year.

Art. 20. To act on the List of Jurors as revised by the Selectmen.

Art. 21. To see if the Town will cause one of the church bells to be rung daily (Sundays excepted) at twelve o'clock, M., and nine o'clock, P. M.

Art. 22. To make an appropriation for the Robbins Library for the ensuing year.

Art. 23. To make an appropriation for the Public Schools the ensuing year and determine in what manner the same shall be expended.

Art. 24. To determine in what manner the Town ways, highways and bridges shall be repaired the ensuing year.

Art. 25. To determine what sum of money the Town will raise by general tax, to defray Town expenses, interest and State Aid, and make an appropriation for the same.

Art. 26. To see if the town will appropriate the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars for the proper observance of Memorial Day, the same to be expended under the direction of Francis Gould Post 36, G. A. R.

(This article is inserted at the request of J. A. Blanchard and others.)

Art. 27. To see if the Town will authorize the Town Treasurer, under the direction of the Selectmen, to borrow money for any necessary purpose, in anticipation of the collection of taxes the current year, the same to be repaid directly from the proceeds of said taxes.

Art. 28. To hear and act upon the report of the School Committee, upon the subject matter referred to them Dec. 29, 1894, of the erection of a suitable building outside of the Russell School house for sanitary purposes; also for securing proper ventilation for the school rooms of said Russell School house, and make any necessary appropriation for the same.

Art. 29. To see if the Town will accept the gift of E. Nelson Blake, Esq., of the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars to form a fund to be known as the E. Nelson Blake, Junior, Memorial Fund, to be held for the benefit of the Arlington High School.

Art. 30. To see if the Town will vote to appropriate the unexpended balance of the income of the Water Works, for the improvement and extension of its water service, and make any other appropriation for said purpose.

Art. 31. To see if the Town will vote that it is expedient to exercise the authority conferred by Section one of Chapter three hundred and seventy of the Acts of the year 1891, being an Act entitled "An Act to enable cities and towns to manufacture and distribute gas and electricity," so far as said section relates to the construction, establishment and maintenance within the limits of the town of a plant for the manufacture and distribution of electricity for furnishing light for municipal use, and for the use of such of its inhabitants as may require and pay for the same as provided in said chapter.

Art. 32. To see if the Town will appropriate a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars, to be expended under the direction of the Selectmen, for the purpose of obtaining full plans, specifications and estimates of cost for a complete municipal lighting plant.

Art. 33. To see if the Town will make an appropriation for the revision of the By-Laws, to be expended under the direction of the Committee on By-Laws.

Art. 34. To see if the Town will erect a Grammar School building in the Crosby District, and make an appropriation to procure plans and specifications for the same.

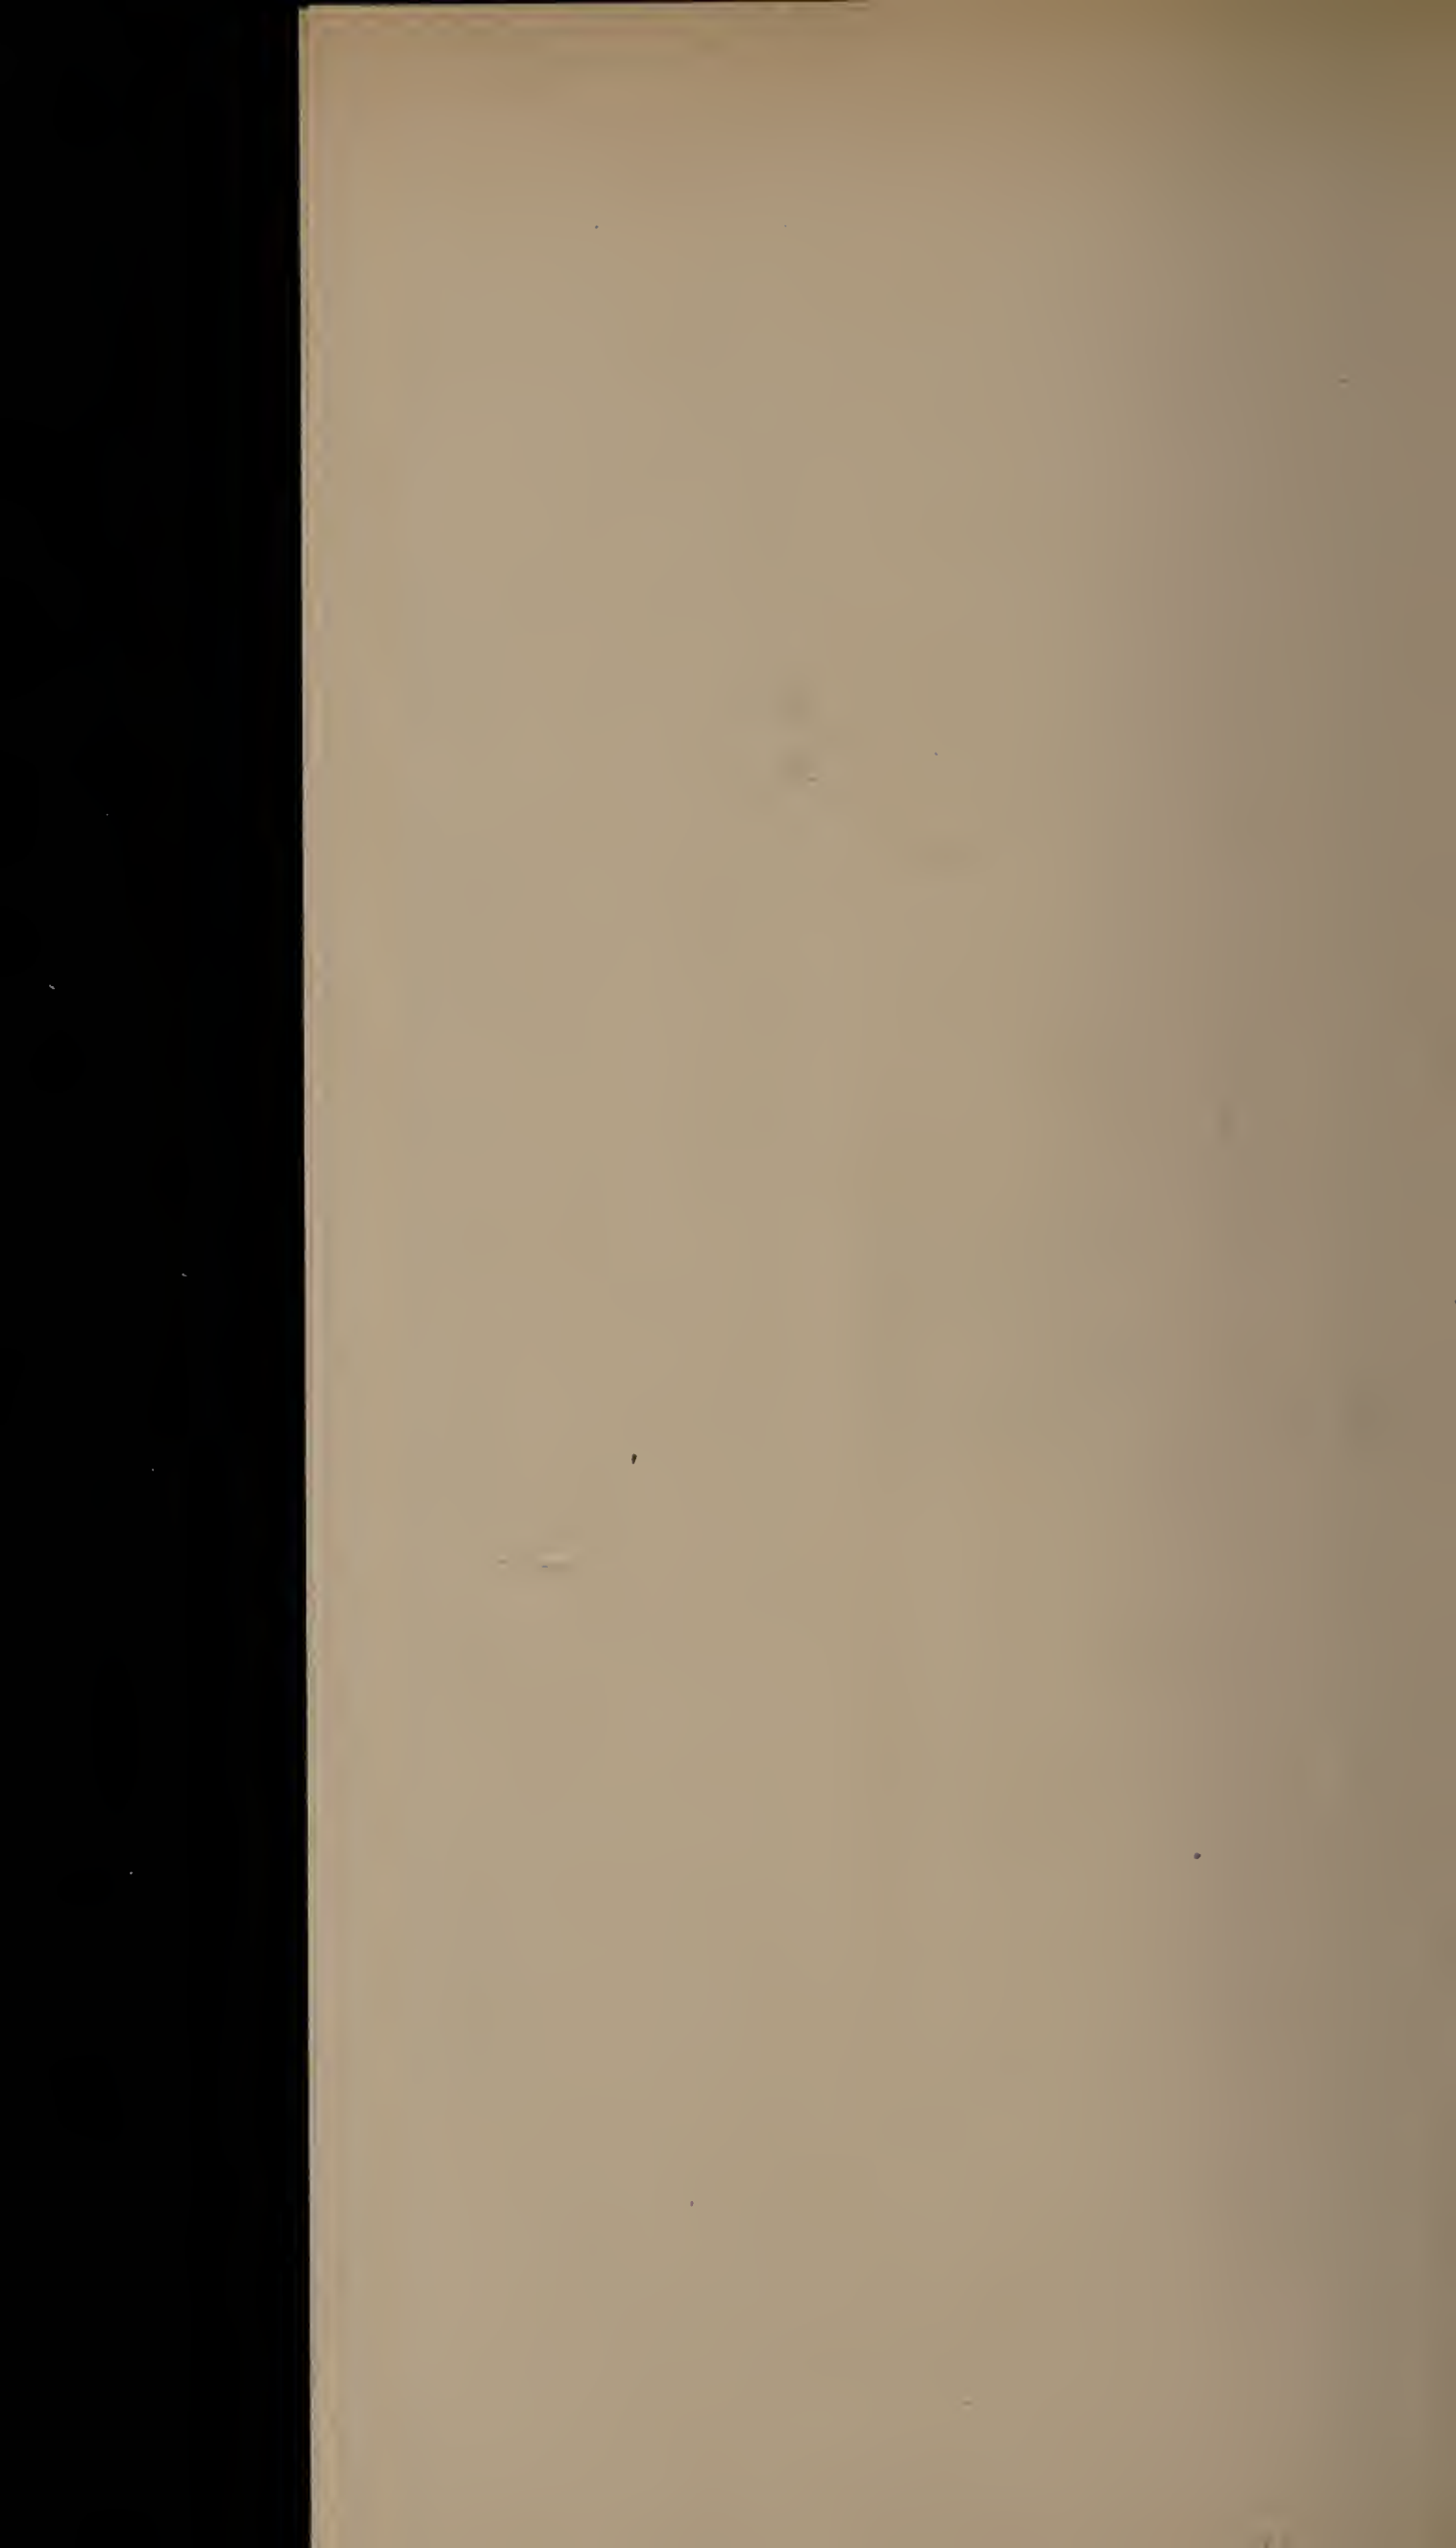

(This article is inserted at the request of the School Committee.)

Hereof fail not, and make due return of this Warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before said day and hour of meeting.

Given under our hands, at said Arlington, this twenty-first day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

EDWARD S. FESSENDEN, }
GEORGE D. TUFTS, } Selectmen
WINFIELD S. DURGIN, } of the Town of Arlington.

ARLINGTON, January, 1895.

REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

The Water Commissioners herewith submit their annual report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1894. The town now has two independent systems, the old or gravity system and the new or high pressure system. The water for the old system has been furnished the past year from the filters in connection with the brook, which was turned two years ago direct into the filters and not having to draw any water direct from the reservoir. At times water has been drawn from the great meadows to increase the flow of the brook. By prohibiting the use of lawn hose for a time and keeping a sharp watch upon the takers of water for irrigation we were enabled to furnish enough water of good quality for domestic use. During the past few years there has not been sufficient water of good quality to supply all the demands, and the Board has considered various plans for remedying this, one is to supply all large takers through meters, another is to shut off during the dry season the services through which water is taken for irrigation.

There is a constant increase of takers every year, there being about sixty new services added the past year. While there is an abundance of water the difficulty arises of furnishing water of good quality, and it has been thought that in connection with the filters and brook the water could be taken from the high pressure service by means of reducing pressure valves and turned into the low pressure pipes, thus furnishing what the brook and filters fail to supply. Most of the pipes of the old system are cement-lined pipes. They have been laid about twenty-two years and are commencing to cause considerable expense in repairs, by frequent bursts. This was especially true on Lake street, a number of breaks having occurred there in the last two years. On May 19 lightning struck on this street, and, entering the pipe, shattered it for a long distance. About 740 feet of six-inch iron pipe was laid as a temporary means of supplying the street with water, and as the rest of the pipe was in a bad condition it was decided to put in an eight-inch iron pipe from the avenue to where the ice houses were burned, and a six-inch iron pipe from this point to Pleasant street, with hydrants every 450 feet, thus giving a good protection in case of fire. Work was begun and about 1500 feet of eight inch pipe were laid when cold weather interfered. This will be completed in the early spring as now the ends of the pipe are plugged, not giving a circulation from the avenue to Pleasant street. The pipe and hydrants for this street were bought with those for the high service, thereby getting them at a very low price. The hydrants on the old pipe are of an old pattern, very liable to get out of order and are otherwise unsuitable. For this reason new hydrants are put in where new pipe is laid. Other streets where the pipe is giving trouble by constant breaks will need to be replaced by iron pipe of larger size. This will call for an annual expense until the old pipe is all relaid. Four inch pipe has been laid on Whittemore street and King's court, and two inch pipe on North Cross street and Fremont street, all four streets being private ways. Before laying pipe in private ways the Board requires the abutters to sign an agreement giving the town authority to enter and lay the pipe and agreeing to hold the town harmless in case of any damage caused thereby. Early in the year a large fourway post hydrant was set on Massachusetts avenue just below the R. R. crossing in place of an old hydrant and a large new post hydrant was set in place of the old flush hydrant near the Town House. These in connection with the hydrants on the high service will give a good fire protection in the centre of the town. For the details in the works of extension of street mains, putting in new services, repairing leaks, etc., for the past year we refer you to the Superintendent's report, for water receipts for the past year to the report of the Treasurer, and for statistics as to the purposes for which water is used to the report of the Water Registrar.

HIGH SERVICE.

At the Town meeting held May 28, 1894, it was voted, "That the Town extend its water-works and system of water service and establish and maintain high service in substantial accordance with the reports and plans submitted to the town by its committee appointed Jan. 26, 1892," and appropriated $92,000 to pay for the same, the money to be raised by issuing bonds in accordance with provisions of Chap. 412 of the Acts of 1892. Works was at once commenced. Mr. F. L. Fuller, the engineer who had made the plans and estimates for the committee of investigation was engaged to superintend the construction. While arranging the work it was deemed advisable to obtain further legislative authority for the town to lay water pipes in Main street, now Massachusetts avenue, in the town of Lexington, and the Legislature granted the desired authority. Specifications were prepared and bids invited from responsible parties for the various items. Nine contracts were made, as follows: For cast-iron pipe with the Donaldson Iron Co. of Emaus, Pennsylvania, at $21.41 per ton of 2240 pounds delivered at Arlington. For laying pipe with E. Eugene Eglee, of New York City, at 20 cents per lineal foot for 6 inch pipe, 24 cents for 8 inch, 28 cents for 10 inch and 33 cents for 12 inch, with 50 cents per cubic yard for extra earth excavation and four dollars per cubic yard for rock excavation. For furnishing and erecting the stand pipe with the Davis & Farnham Mfg. Co., of Waltham, for $8040. For building the pumping station with A. L. Bacon, of Arlington, for $4321. For the pump and boiler, including fittings erected in place, with the Geo. F.

Blake Mfg. Co., of Boston, for $4018. For gates with the Ludlow Valve Co., of Troy, N. Y., at $31.15 for 12 inch, $24.60 for 10 inch, $17.20 for 8 inch and $11.50 for 6 inch. For hydrants with the Chapman Valve Co., of Boston, at $29.15 for 5 inch and $25.34 for 4 inch. For special castings with the Builders' Iron Foundry, of Providence, R. I., for $1826.34. The Pittsburg Testing Laboratory, of Pittsburg, Pa., was employed to inspect the pipe at the foundry at 30 cents per ton of 2000 pounds, and the pipe received has been of good quality.

The work of excavating for the foundation of the standpipe, driving and connecting the wells at the pumping station, laying the pipe in Walnut and Mt. Vernon streets and the short street connecting them, together with some incidental work has been done by our Superintendent with town labor. The cast-iron pipe and special castings and the gates and hydrants have all been delivered. The standpipe and foundation are practically completed. The pump, boiler and station building are nearly completed. The wells and their connections have been ready for some time. The pipe is nearly all laid at Arlington Heights, Crescent Hill and in Massachusetts avenue, Jason, Walnut and Mt. Vernon streets. It is anticipated that the work will all be completed and the whole plant in steady operation early the coming spring. The Commissioners desire to express to the town their appreciation of the generosity of Mr. F. G. Sampson in assisting them in securing the site for the standpipe.

In the estimates presented by the investigating Committee $1000 was provided for a site for the standpipe and they had bonded a suitable lot which could be purchased for that sum. A number of the residents of the Heights requested the commissioners to locate the standpipe in the centre of the park, the highest point on the hill, and after considering the matter the Commissioners made an offer of $2500 for this site which was all that, in their opinion, could be spared from the appropriation for this purpose. This offer was refused

At this time Mr. Sampson came forward and purchased the lot, paying $3000 therefor, and sold it to the town for $2500, thus making the town a present of $500 in addition to the time and trouble he had been to in conducting the negotiations. The town thus secures a tract of more than two acres which can always be kept open for the use of the public.

The water for the high service system is drawn from a bed of gravel on the shore of the Lexington Great Meadows, near the East Lexington R. R. station. There are 25 $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch wells driven to a depth of about 35 feet. These are connected together by cast-iron pipes leading to a Blake compound duplex pump which is supplied with steam from a sixty horse power steel boiler. The pump and boiler are located in a brick building with a brick chimney 75 feet high, and are guaranteed to pump 500 gallons per minute or 720,000 gallons in 24 hours into the standpipe against a head of 270 feet. The water is pumped through cast iron pipes into a wrought iron standpipe 40 feet in diameter and 60 feet high, holding over 500,000 gallons, and located in the centre of the park at the top of Arlington Heights. From this the water is distributed through cast-iron pipes as shown on the plan accompanying the report of the investigating committee. In adding the High Service System to our water works it was found necessary to have better accommodation for shop work, as the old shop under the Town House would not be convenient, nor is it large enough even for the present system, we therefore leased from Mr. S. A. Fowle a lot of land on Mill street for a term of ten years, at a rental of \$62.50 per year. A suitable shop and stable has been erected on the lot.

The foundation for the building was put in by our Superintendent with town labor, and the contract for the building was awarded to Mr. E. O. Simonds for $1260. The building will be a great convenience and will afford accommodation for a team for the use of the water works. There is also room on the lot to store pipe and other material.

Respectfully submitted.

Service Pipes.

65 services have been added during the year at an average of $10.30 each, making the total cost $669.50.

Leaks.

The usual number of leaks have occurred during the year, the most serious happened on Saturday morning, May 19, when the lightning entered the 4-inch main on Lake street, completely destroying it for a distance of 740 feet, which had to be replaced temporarily by a 6-inch cast-iron pipe at a cost of $615.40 :

labor,	$211 20
gate,	12 00
lead,	15 60
hydrant,	26 00
two 4x6-inch reducers,	8 00
pipe,	342 60

Lake Street.

On Nov. 23d, in compliance with your order I commenced to replace the 4-inch cement-lined pipe with an 8-inch cast-iron main, beginning at a point between the two ice tracks, but owing to the severity of the weather I had to discontinue the work until spring opens. 1550 feet of pipe have been laid, and four 5-inch hydrants and one 8-inch gate have been set, at a cost of $1179.41.

labor,	$281 36
pipe,	728 50
hydrants,	116 60
gate,	17 20
lead,	35 75

Reservoir.

The reservoir is in good condition, brush and weeds have been cut down and all dead and decaying matter cleaned out of the rip rap.

Brook.

The brook leading direct to the reservoir upon which we depend for our main supply during the dry months has been cleaned from the junction of Monroe's brook to where it enters the 20-inch main that leads to the filter gallery, and is in fair condition. I would recommend the stoning up of the sides of the brook a part of the way, especially where it passes through pasture land.

Hydrants and Gates.

Six new fire hydrants have been added this year, viz: Two on Grove court, one on Medford street and three on Lake street.

The hydrants and gates are in fair condition, though some of them will need replacing in the near future.

Recommendations.

I would recommend the laying of an 8-inch main pipe on N. Union and Decatur streets, and the setting of a suitable number of hydrants. The pipe as it is at present is totally unfit for the service that is required of it and is only a bill of expense to the town.

— Respectfully submitted.

THOMAS RODEN,

Superintendent of the Water Works.

Stray horses and cattle put up,	24
Street obstructions removed,	3

The force consists of a chief, one sergeant and four patrolmen. The chief and one patrolman are on duty in the daytime; during the night one sergeant and three patrolmen are on duty.

During the past year there has been a telephone put into the station, also two telephone boxes on the street, one at each end of the town, and connected with the one in the station for police business only. The night officers have certain times to call up the sergeant at the station to report to him anything that may have occurred on their routes during their hours of duty. It has given entire satisfaction, and some very efficient work has been done by its use.

During my term of office there have been nine (9) persons arrested and put before the court for the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors. Eight (8) were convicted and one discharged. Two, in addition to their fines, were given three months each in the House of Correction.

Difficulties attend the enforcement of the liquor law; to obtain evidence is very difficult, as the illegal sale of liquors is now made in what we term kitchen bar-rooms.

Citizens who would assist an officer in any other matter decline to make any disclosures in regard to the sale of liquors. It is therefore obligatory on the officers to depend on their own observation for evidence to convict a person of a violation of the liquor law. Officers are often satisfied in their own minds that illegal sales of liquors have been made, but the same evidence that satisfies them and other people would not satisfy a court or jury.

During the past year we have also seized, confiscated and turned over to the chief of the Massachusetts District Police, a quantity of liquors.

I would recommend that one more officer be appointed to the force. By so doing I can so arrange that the sergeant may visit each officer on his route during the night, therefore ascertain if the officers are doing their duty. I contend that the sergeant, passing from one route to another, through the town, in this manner, would be equal to an increase of two men.

In submitting my report, I desire to tender my thanks to your Honorable Board, also to Town Clerk B. Delmont Locke, Town Solicitor Wm. H. Tuttle, for their counsel and friendly advice. To them I feel under great obligations, and also to the members of the force for the prompt and efficient manner in which they have discharged the duties of their office.

In closing I have simply to say that I have endeavored to discharge the duties of the office faithfully and impartially. I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,
ALONZO S. HARRIMAN, Chief of Police.

ANNUAL REPORT

Dec. 15th. Alarm 1.30 P. M. Box 36. House owned by Harrison Swan. Loss $25. Insurance $4500.

The Legislature passed an act by which a State Fire Marshal was appointed to investigate cause of fires.

Since that time all fires have been reported to the Fire Marshal or his aids for investigation. This I think will have a tendency to check fires of incendiary origin.

MEMBERSHIP.

The membership is in a fairly good condition with the exception of our being unable to find men who are at home during the day.

There is a much better percentage of men at a fire which occurs in the evening than in the daytime.

BUILDINGS.

The buildings are in the same condition as they were in last report.

Heating apparatus should be placed in Hose II. House however.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus has had no expense since last year, and is in the same condition.

HYDRANTS.

There have been $15 new hydrants on High Water Service, and quite a number of new hydrants on old service during the year.

One fourway hydrant in front of Finance Block and one in place of flush hydrant in front of Town House which was sadly needed.

FIRE ALARM.

The Fire Alarm has given us satisfactory results for the year. In my last report I called your attention to the fact that the lease of steam for Fire Alarm Whistle expired in October. Not being able to make a satisfactory contract with Mr. Fowle at the expiration of the lease a striker was put on the bell of Wm. Penn Hose House, which has given fair satisfaction to the Fire Department.

We did not expect the same results as we did from the Steam whistle, as there is nothing better for a Fire Alarm Signal.

At the town meeting in November, the town voted to have an air whistle put on the Town House, and a committee was appointed to look after the same, consisting of the Selectmen and the Engineers.

Up to this time however we have not been able to make a contract which is satisfactory to the committee.

No new boxes have been called for, but I would suggest having a new box at the further end of Lake street near the ice-houses.

FIREMEN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

The Association is in a prosperous condition having over $1200 in funds.

Any member of the Association who is sick one week or more receives a weekly benefit from the Association.

It has been our sad duty to carry to his last home, one who has been an active member in the Department.

I refer to Assistant Engineer and Secretary of the Arlington Firemen's Relief Association, John M. O'Keefe.

Mr. O'Keefe served on the Board of Engineers, acting as Clerk for two years, and always performed his duty faithfully.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

I would recommend having a new light hose wagon to be placed in the Chemical House, and the Chemical be changed to the Wm. Penn House, and the Hook and Ladder placed in the Highland House. A pole for a pair of horses should be put in the Chemical.

This will call for additional expense, but I think it is for the best interest of the town to do this.

I also recommend an appropriation of $5000 for the general running expense for the coming year. The rules and regulations governing the Fire Department should be revised at an early date, and a building law should be incorporated in the by-laws of the town.

HOSE.

The town now has 5000 feet of good hose, which is the most the town has ever owned. We have purchased 1500 feet of hose this year, guaranteed to stand 400 pounds pressure to the square inch.

The Fire Department now has four horses. Two are at Wm. Penn Hose House, and two are at the Chemical House.

We made a contract with your Board in May to water the streets from Mill street to Tufts street, including the side streets. By giving the town the use of one of the horses at the Chemical House, the town agreed to keep one horse in the Highland House.

By this arrangement one horse is at the Chemical House and one at the Highland at all times. The horses used for Wm. Penn and Hook and Ladder truck are not to be over one-half a mile away at any time.

This arrangement left the town in a better state of protection in case of fire, than ever before.

Your Board, on the death of Assistant Engineer, John M. O'Keefe, appointed George W. W. Sears to fill the vacancy. Mr. Sears has always taken an active interest in fire matters and at the organization of the Board, Mr. Sears was chosen clerk. He has always kept the records in a very business-like manner, to which I invite your inspection.

We have tried to have one Engineer in the town at all times, and by arrangements have been able to do so with but few exceptions.

We have tried to give the town the best possible service we could with our means.

In closing I wish to express personal thanks to your Honorable Board for their courteous manner to me.

I also wish to thank Mr. Hill and Mr. Sears for their able assistance.

Respectfully submitted.

CHARLES GOTT,

Chief of Fire Department.

REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE ROBBINS LIBRARY.

To the Town of Arlington :

In a public library as long established as ours, the work of any ordinary year varies but little from that of the preceding year, and there are, consequently, few matters of importance to report.

Although the affairs of the library for the past year have been conducted in substantially the same manner as heretofore, the Trustees and Librarian have endeavored in minor details to better serve the interest of the public.

The scholars of the public schools continue to use the books, especially the books of reference, quite freely, and arrangements have been made whereby the attendant in the Reading Room, lays out on one of the tables the books bearing upon any particular subject which a class may wish to investigate, and those books are reserved for its use.

The lights in the Reading Room have been changed and some additions made. It has been found a matter of some difficulty to get the requisite amount of light, in just the right location, at a reasonable cost, and the Trustees are aware that it is not yet fully satisfactory, and hope soon to further improve the lighting of the room.

It being a well known fact that many relics and curiosities are scattered through the town, which are interesting and valuable now, from their age and connection with the past history of the town, and will be still more valuable in the years to come, the Trustees have recently appointed a sub-committee, consisting of Mr. Hodgdon and Mr. Blake, for the purpose of receiving and caring for such articles of interest, especially those relating to local affairs, as the citizens may be disposed to place in its care.

The Trustees have already received, from Mrs. Maria Hodgdon, a window which was taken from a house built in 1740, by the Rev. Samuel Cooke, the first minister of the town. On the panes are written the names of the members of the family, and others, who were their guests at different times, the oldest date being 1772. Mr. S. P. Prentiss has given two valuable pieces of Continental money, and we hope, in this way, quite a collection may be made and placed in one of the upper rooms of the Library, where it will be secure from destruction by fire and accessible to the public. Mr. Winfield Robbins continues his generous gifts to the Library, and the Trustees have received, since their last report, the two bronze statues of Dante and Virgil which are in the Reading Room; Picturesque Australasia, which has been bound in three volumes; and several single volumes; also two boxes of fine engravings which, at his request, remain unpacked until his return from Europe. The sum of one hundred dollars has been received from Mr. Henry Dexter, of New York, son of Jonathan M. Dexter, our first Librarian, to be expended for books, and it has been decided to use it for the purchase of books and sets of books more expensive than those "ordinarily bought, and mark them with appropriate labels. We are indebted to Mr. Parker for the publication, monthly, in the Arlington Advocate, of lists of new books.

The cost of repairs last year was materially increased, on account of the widening of the street opposite the Library, the portion of the expense paid from the Library appropriation being about one hundred dollars.

The Librarian's report shows a considerable increase in the number of books taken out during the past year, and the increasing use of the books by all classes indicates a gratifying interest in the library by the citizens generally.

The statistics and further particulars of the work of the year may be found in the Librarian's report.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

To the Trustees of the Robbins Library :

GENTLEMEN—The second year in the new building marks no special change in the library administration. All connected with the work before the removal fully appreciate the advantages gained in additional room, conveniences and artistic surroundings, and their respective duties are fulfilled in a satisfactory manner.

The following works added in 1894 are worthy of special notice : The Cabinet of Irish Literature, by G. A. Read, in four volumes, Century Cyclopedia of Names, Dictionary of Music and Musicians, edited by Sir George Grove, in five volumes, Famous Composers and their Works, edited by J. K. Paine and others, in three volumes, five volumes of Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia, Ornamental Treasure, by H. Dolmetsch, History of the Modern Styles of Architecture, by James Fergusson, in two volumes, United States of America, edited by N. S. Shaler, in two volumes. All except the last two belong to our Reference library. Since this department is becoming more important every year, it is desirable to make it as full as possible. We have already completed some sets of magazines and it is hoped we can do more in this direction.

There were loaned in 1894, 8771 more books and 266 more magazines than in the previous year, an unusually large increase in our delivery of books. This may be partly owing to the fact that several of the public school teachers have availed themselves of the privilege of taking ten books at one time on a teacher's card. Although these books are not subject to the usual time regulation, yet we reserve the right to send for any book, if necessary, after a teacher has had it a reasonable length of time.

We have tried in vain to recover the two books missing. Those who took them have moved from town and we have thus far been unable to trace the family. The books are inexpensive juveniles.

The method of allowing the public to see the new books before they are put into circulation, now in vogue in many libraries, is evidently much appreciated here where for the first time we have room enough to set apart a table especially for them.

Our fine building has attracted many visitors from all parts of the country and has been universally admired for the simplicity and elegance of its style. One of those most interested was Mrs. Peter Thacher, who, as Miss Esterbrook, has the honor of being the second librarian, from 1839 to 1841, when the library was moved into her home, the old Adams house. A photograph of an oil painting of this house has been presented to us by Mr. E. W. McGlenen.

Mrs. Thacher has given as a curiosity a small pamphlet entitled "The Constitution of the West Cambridge Charitable and Reading Society. Instituted the 19th of August, 1816." We also have received from Miss Lucy Lerner, a stereoscopic view of the residence, in Hopkinton, N. H., of Dr. Lerner, the founder of this library. We are indebted to Mr. Warren Hapgood for "History of the town of Harvard, Mass., 1732-1893," by H. S. Nourse, to the U. S. Bureau of Education for the Catalogue of 5000 volumes for a Popular Library shown at the World's Fair, and to the following Public Libraries for copies of Finding-lists and Bulletins: Brookline, Lancaster, Millicent Library in Fairhaven, Salem, Watertown, Worcester, Mass., and Osterhout in Wilkes-Barré, Pa. We also acknowledge the regular receipt of "The Tuftonian" from Tufts College and "The Record" from Goddard Seminary, Barre, Vt.

The usual statistics and annual Title-list of books are appended to this report.

Respectfully submitted.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Town of Arlington:

The School Committee submit their annual report.

High School Building.

The most important event of the year in our schools was the completion of the High School building, a cause for deep satisfaction on the part of all connected with or interested in the schools. As the main features of the building are familiar, and as details of cost, etc., are elsewhere stated no description need be given here. Although the erection of the building was not within the duties of the School Board its furnishing was placed by the town in their hands. The school-house is now supplied in its school rooms and recitation rooms with desks and seats for 310 scholars, with teachers' desks, tables, book-cases and all the other minor articles necessary for the equipment of a well furnished school. The large hall in the upper story has been named Cotting Hall, in honor of the late William Cotting and of his son Dr. Benjamin E. Cotting, both benefactors of the school, and contains seats for 550 persons. The laboratories, physical and chemical, have been fitted with the best appliances for scientific work, and as the expense was defrayed from the accumulated interest of the fund bequeathed by the wise generosity of Nathan Pratt, they have been named the Pratt Laboratories.

The manual training rooms in the basement have been carefully furnished for their purpose with benches and necessary tools to accommodate 22 scholars at one time, and with an engine, six lathes, one circular saw and one jig saw, cases for tools, etc. As a considerable sum had accumulated from the interest of the bequest of William Cutter, the Committee thought no better use could be made of it than to spend it in fitting up these rooms, now known as the Cutter Manual Training Department.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

In June the name of the school was changed to "Arlington High School." The building was dedicated on the afternoon of Labor Day, Sept. 3, 1894, with the following ORDER OF EXERCISES.

DR. FRANK A. HILL,
Secretary of the State Board of Education.

HON. J. Q. A. BRACKETT.

I. FREEMAN HALL,
Superintendent of Schools.

E. NELSON BLAKE.

9. MUSIC.

An interesting feature of the occasion was the presentation to the school of a beautiful and valuable piano by Mr. Warren W. Rawson, long the chairman of the sub-committee on music. Mr. E. Nelson Blake also announced his intention to make the gift elsewhere mentioned.

The new building has been occupied since September by the four classes of the High School proper, by the ninth grade and by two sections of the eighth grade. It is a pleasure to be able to report that there has been in all the grades a most commendable spirit, a wholesome pride in the school and a feeling of personal responsibility for the preservation of the building and everything connected with it from injury of every kind. The building has been found to stand well the test of practical use, and the scholars in this school are pursuing their studies with as favorable surroundings as can anywhere be found.

While the school was in the old building, gifts of pictures and statuary were made to it from time to time—mainly by the scholars themselves, either as classes or from the proceeds of entertainments, especially during the principalship of Mr. A. G. Fisher who took a strong interest in the matter. These having now been placed in the various rooms where they appear to best advantage, add much to the beauty and attractiveness of the building.

It is interesting at this time to turn to the report of the School Committee made by Hon. William E. Parmenter, March 7, 1870, and to note how closely the expectations expressed in it have been fulfilled after the lapse of nearly a quarter of a century.

“The accommodations for this school are poor enough, and altogether unfit and insufficient. At some time, not far in the future, the Town will find it necessary to remodel or rebuild for its purposes. There belongs to the school a superior and expensive apparatus intended to be used in the scientific instruction which enters so largely and profitably into the higher education of the day; but lack of room renders this, to a great extent valueless. To secure the full benefit of High School education there should be principal rooms and ante-rooms, admitting of the union of the whole school for instruction by lecture or in music, for declamation and rhetorical exercises, and again for separation into classes for special teaching. There should be appropriate depositories for apparatus and books of reference, where these might be kept and used with all convenience and safety. Whenever the Town shall see fit to furnish a suitable building there will soon be added to the means of culture, books of engravings, illustrative of science, history, biography, and art, and other collections which shall demonstrate natural science, not gathered at the public expense, but the gifts or bequests of those who believing in the best public education contribute cheerfully when their munificence can be enjoyed and perpetuated. It may safely be said that whenever the time shall come that the Town is satisfied that it can afford a new High School-house, a fresh impulse will be given to the High School scarcely to be exceeded in its good effect by the fact of the establishment of the school."

Changes in Organization.

The completion of the new building enabled us to take a decided step forward in the organization of the grades immediately below the High School. As was pointed out in our report for 1891, a serious defect in our educational system, as in those of the towns about us, has been the great differences between the grammar and high schools, so that when a scholar passed from one to the other, he came under such changed conditions, both as to subjects and methods of study, as often to cause a good deal of labor, worry and loss of time before he became so used to high school work as to perform it readily. Added to this was another evil arising from the requirements of the High School. To satisfy the demands of the institutions for which the High School course is preparatory, scholars had to do in four years a too great amount of study, which was especially irksome under the bad conditions of the old building.

To remedy both these difficulties, a course of study, the details of which are set forth in the Superintendent's report, has been prepared for the ninth grade. This course is such a blending of grammar and high school work that it may be regarded as a completion of the one and an introduction to the other. By bringing together in the High School building scholars of this grade from all parts of the town, and having them pursue this course of study, we enable them to enter the High School in the following year without any feeling of unfamiliarity as to studies and methods; while as they will already have made substantial progress in several of the High School studies, the work may be made easier for them there. Meanwhile the course of the eighth grade which consists wholly of grammar school work, has been so changed as to conform to the alterations in the ninth; so that scholars entering the ninth grade from the eighth will find their work at first a continuation of what they have already been doing. As corresponding improvements have been going on in the lower grades, there is no reason to suppose that scholars of ordinary ability will be unable to do the prescribed work in the eighth and ninth grades.

As the eighth grade in the Russell District happened this year to be very large, it was divided into three sections, two of which were placed in the High School building. It is probable that in future this grade will be in the Russell building, unless it should again happen that large numbers should make a different arrangement more convenient.

With these changes in the course of study, it necessarily happened that some scholars were obliged to take an extra year of work in either the eighth or ninth grade. This was not a repetition as such scholars have mainly been doing new work and beginning new subjects rather than reviewing old work, and is one of the temporary incidents of any change of this kind. It is not to be apprehended that the improved course will require any more time for its completion than the old course did, while it is certain that the work is more interesting and varied and better distributed over the whole school course.

Manual Training. Sewing. Kindergarten.

A new branch of study has been introduced, viz: Manual Training. The needs it aims to supply are well expressed by Mr. E. P. Seaver, Superintendent of Schools in Boston, in the report made to the Legislature in 1892 of a Commission appointed to investigate the subject. He says :

“ To some extent we may attribute the favorable reception manual training has had to its promise of becoming an acceptable substitute for apprenticeship, now fallen into merited disuse; or to its opening the way to industrial employment for the many whom circumstances now exclude; or to its great attractiveness for active boys; or to its excellence as physical exercise; or to its answering the somewhat vague demand for ‘ something practical ’ in education; or to its inculcating ‘ the true dignity of labor ’ and ‘ respect for the laborer. ’ Each of these causes has, undoubtedly, contributed something, and the total effect has been considerable. But there is a more powerful cause than any of these, or all of these together.

“ Among the deep-rooted convictions cherished by New England people and their descendants everywhere, none is more firmly held than this,—that learning how to work and forming habits of industry are indispensable elements in the right education of every boy or girl. How fully the domestic life, manners and customs of New England people exemplify the excellence of this doctrine of ‘ learning and labor ’ in the education of children needs not here to be told. The story may be read on every page of New England’s history.

“ Until within a generation the conditions of New England life were such as to permit full scope to this education by and through work. No better kindergarten was ever invented than the New England farm, provided only the conditions of life were not so desperately hard as to leave the mother no time to superintend the occupations of her children. For the growing boy there were the fields, the woods and the garden; and rainy days there were the tools in the tool-room; or if these failed to interest him, there was the neighbor’s shop, where he might begin to learn his chosen trade. The wise father took care that all these means of education were properly used.”

After considering the great changes in New England from country to city and suburban life, and in the organization and methods of carrying on the mechanic arts, and the loss involved therein of the sort of training of which he has spoken—how “ the traditional balance between ‘ learning and labor ’ has been upset and ‘ learning ’ has taken the whole time,” he concludes :

“ Now, it is because people see or think they see in manual training a means of repairing the loss and relieving the want by which they have felt so long oppressed that they have so heartily welcomed this new means of education. If people have neglected awhile that excellent old doctrine of 'learning and labor,' and have experienced the ill consequences of such neglect, the return to sound practice will not be slow nor half way, but quick and complete. It seems as if the hearty popular approval with which manual training has been received in these recent years might be the harbinger of such a happy return."

For like reasons sewing has been introduced for the girls of those classes of which the boys are instructed in manual training. Mr. A. C. Cobb, formerly connected with the Waltham Manual Training School, has been engaged as teacher of manual training, and Miss Emma C. Hollis as teacher of sewing. This interesting and important part of the school course is well carried on by these teachers, and the Committee are very hopeful for its future.

By the removal of scholars to the new building, room has been obtained at the Russell School to carry out a plan for some time in mind, to introduce kindergarten work. This has been undertaken with good results by Miss Gifford, whose qualifications and training especially fit her for it.

Changes of Teachers.

At the High School Miss Anna E. Gooding resigned in April and Miss Laura A. Davis was appointed in her place. In December Miss Esther Bailey resigned to take a more desirable position in the Somerville High School, and Miss Bessie Greenman was chosen to the position. Misses Gooding and Bailey were graduates of our schools and made excellent records as teachers.

At the Russell School two of the teachers longest in service, Misses Flanders and Hobart, resigned at the end of the school year. Miss Flanders had just been appointed by the Committee principal of the Locke School and was a teacher of much excellence. Miss Hobart also was a most conscientious and careful teacher. In December Miss Irene S. Nightingale, a teacher of marked ability, resigned to take a position in Somerville.

Miss Mary J. Copeland resigned at the end of the school year the principalship of the Locke School, an important position which she had well filled since 1890. Miss Bertha E. Holbrook was appointed in her stead.

At the Cutter School no change has occurred. Miss Chaplin has continued to fill the place of principal to the entire satisfaction and approval of the Committee.

The Crosby School has remained in charge of the same teachers.

At the beginning of the school year it was found desirable to make several transfers of teachers from one grade to another. Beside those already mentioned, the new teachers are Misses Grace H. Perkins, Lila M. Taylor, Edith M. Arnold and S. Evelyn Potter. The present list of teachers with their grades, will be found in an appendix to this report.

Endowments.

From time to time gifts have been received for the permanent benefit of the schools, and this seems a proper place for a short statement of what they are and how they have been used.

1. William Cutter School Fund. William Cutter of this town died in 1824, leaving his property after the death of his wife, to the town, the income to be appropriated "for the maintenance and support of schools." His widow, Mary Cutter, died in 1836. The property when received amounted to $5019. It was increased in the settlement of accounts between Charlestown and West Cambridge in 1842, and is now $5354. The use of the income not being restricted the School Committee have employed it so far as was needed for special purposes, principally for scientific apparatus, etc., for the High School. As ordinarily a considerable balance was left on hand each year the accumulation of interest amounted at the end of 1893 to over $2600. The Committee have spent a large part of this as above stated, in fitting up the manual training rooms.

2. William Cotting Land. In 1858 William Cotting gave the use of a piece of land on Academy street for such time as a school of high grade should be kept on the lot. The Cotting Academy and since 1864 the Cotting High School have had the benefit of this gift.

3. Pratt Fund. In 1875 the town received $10,000 under the will of Nathan Pratt, who died in 1873. The provision was as follows :

"I give and bequeath to said town of Arlington the further sum of ten thousand dollars, the same to be invested and allowed to accumulate until such time as the said town shall have erected a new building for its High School. At such time the increase of said sum by accumulation and a portion of the principal not exceeding two thousand dollars shall be expended in the purchase of engravings, books of engravings illustrative of science, art, history and biography, books of reference, philosophical apparatus, all for the use and benefit of the pupils of said school, and to be placed or kept in a suitable apartment in the High School building. The unexpended portion of said principal sum shall remain invested and the income thereof be expended for the purposes above named and expressed, and also in procuring special instruction to the pupils of said school by lectures. Said sum and income shall be expended in the manner foregoing under the direction of the School Committee of said town."

The accumulated income of the fund at the end of 1893 was $12,471.08. This bequest first became available in 1894, and has been drawn upon for apparatus for the laboratories and for books of reference, etc., as prescribed by the will. This valuable gift is and promises to be of great usefulness in increasing the advantages offered by the High School.

4. Martha M. W. Russell School Fund. This fund, amounting to $5327.86, was received in 1892 under the will of Martha M. W. Russell. The income is to be expended "for the maintenance and support of the public schools." The Committee has used the income of this fund for the payment of advances in salary above the ordinary rate that it is sometimes desirable to make in order to retain the services of especially competent teachers, believing this to be an eminently proper use as Mrs. Russell was herself a teacher in our schools.

5. E. Nelson Blake, Jr., Memorial Fund. This fund of $2500 has recently been given by Mr. E. Nelson Blake in memory of his late son. The income is to be used for the purchase of books to be presented each year to such of the graduating class of the High School as have shown mental and moral qualities entitling them to special commendation.

Apart from these gifts for permanent use the most important single gift has been that of $1000 made in 1881 by Dr. B. E. Cotting for the purchase of books for the High School. Many articles for the use or ornament of the schools have been given at various times.

It is sometimes assumed that there is no field for private generosity in the public schools because the community is sure to take care of them. It is quite true that the community will liberally provide for the needs of public education, but the above brief review shows in how many ways gifts may be put to good use for purposes which lie a little outside of the ordinary lines of school expenditure, and yet add much to the attractiveness and usefulness of the schools.

Buildings and Repairs.

The most important repairs on any of the school-houses have been in connection with the sanitary appliances in the Russell School. In 1889 the then existing water-closet system which had become offensive and dangerous to health was removed and a dry-closet system was put in by the Smead Heating and Ventilating Company. By this arrangement a current of air constantly passes through the vaults of the closets and up a separate flue, carrying with it all dangerous gases. The urinals are ventilated in like manner. This system was regarded by the School Committee at that time as under the circumstances the most advisable to put in, and on the whole it has worked well. In certain conditions of the atmosphere, however, there have been in the building offensive odors, probably more disagreeable than dangerous, but calling for remedy. We have accordingly made a thorough overhauling of the arrangements, putting in new urinals, taking measures to increase the drafts in the vaults, and providing for cleaning them out oftener than heretofore. We believe that any apprehended trouble from this source has been reduced to a minimum. The system of ventilation of the school-rooms, although good for a building erected more than twenty years ago, is not of course up to the best standards of to-day, and at times the rooms have been ill-ventilated.

As there has been a considerable amount of sickness in the town this winter some citizens have feared that the condition of the school-house might have been an important factor in causing or spreading it. A careful examination of the cases reported does not give countenance to this theory, as it does not appear that there has been a larger proportionate number of cases in the Russell School than in other schools. But although the defects in this building have undoubtedly been exaggerated, this is no reason why the town should not do all that it reasonably can to improve the ventilating and sanitary arrangements in this as in other buildings, and the School Committee will continue the work they had already entered upon and carefully carry out the instructions of the town given at a recent meeting in regard to this matter.

Other repairs may be spoken of more briefly. The boiler used in the old High School has been added to the heating apparatus in the Russell School. The walls of the school-rooms in the Russell building were whitened and some painting was done. A gong was placed on the Locke School. Minor needed repairs were made on all the buildings.

During the coming year it will be desirable to repair the concrete in the yard of the Russell School. At the same time it would be well to obtain needed space on the north side by moving back the fence on the Whittemore lot, now the property of the town. The Cutter building should be painted. Other ordinary repairs will have to be made to keep the several buildings in good condition.

Crosby District.

In several recent reports attention has been called to the approaching need of better school accommodations in the Crosby district. This district includes the whole eastern part of the town as far as Tufts street. In the other districts—the Russell, Cutter and Locke—scholars attend school for the first eight years in their own districts, those of the ninth and higher grades attending the High School. In the Crosby district, however, there are no accommodations except those offered by a two-room school-house more than forty years old. This, with crowding, contains at present 100 scholars, of the three lowest grades, those of the next five grades, 114 in number, being obliged to attend the Russell School. The distance to be travelled, especially by those living near the eastern boundary of the town, is considerable. In other words, this district has the oldest and smallest school-house in town, insufficient to accommodate less than one-half of its children. If these scholars could be formed into four schools like those in the Cutter and Locke districts, the numbers at the present time would be as follows :

	CROSBY.	CUTTER.	LOCKE.
Grades 1 and 2	80	50	38
“ 3 and 4	54	47	45
“ 5 and 6	48	40	35
“ 7 and 8	32	21	18
	<hr/> 214	<hr/> 158	<hr/> 136

The transfer of more than one hundred scholars from the Russell to the Crosby building would probably leave vacant two rooms in the Russell School, the teachers in which might be transferred to the Crosby School. The Russell building would be left partially unoccupied, but should the number of scholars in our schools continue to increase at the present rate, it would be again filled in a very few years.

The people of the Crosby district generally feel that compared with other parts of the town they are at a serious disadvantage as regards facilities for the education of their children and that as the number of scholars is now much larger than it is in the Locke and Cutter districts, the schools in the Crosby district should be organized in like manner. A district that has received nothing in the nature of a school building since 1850 is certainly entitled to liberal and considerate treatment by the town.

The foregoing are some of the more important matters to which the School Committee desire to call the attention of the town. These are however but the means to an end. The vital part of our school system, the education that it aims to give, is discussed in the report of the Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Hall has rendered especially valuable service during the past year in planning and supervising the above mentioned changes. These alterations have in many cases imposed additional work upon teachers and their willingness and zeal in carrying out the plans of the Committee should be commended.

The standard of our schools is high and it should not be lowered. We may confidently look forward to their steady growth and improvement along the lines already marked out. The Committee commend them to the continued support of the town.

REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Committee of Arlington :

GENTLEMEN—I submit herewith, according to custom, my third annual report. The general progress of the schools has been as substantial as conditions and circumstances would allow. During the year there have been important changes in organization and classification, several new subjects of study have been introduced, and the necessary adjustments have taken a great deal of time and attention. Moreover, there has been a decided increase in the number of pupils attending school, as shown by the following

STATISTICS.

There were, January 1, 1895, in the public schools of Arlington, 1044 children accommodated and classified as follows :

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING 184 ; fourth class 12, third class 21, second class 37, first class 37, class nine 25, class eight (two rooms) 52.

RUSSELL SCHOOL BUILDING, 466 ; class eight 45, class seven 45, class six (two rooms) 82, class five 41, class four (two rooms) 72, class three 43, class two 54, class one 43, kindergarten 41.

LOCKE SCHOOL BUILDING 136 ; classes eight and seven 18, classes six and five 35, classes four and three 45, classes two and one 38.

CUTTER SCHOOL BUILDING 158 ; classes eight and seven 21, classes six and five 40, classes four and three 47, classes two and one 50.

CROSBY SCHOOL BUILDING 100 ; classes three and two 47, class one 53.

From these figures it appears that there are, at date, at the Crosby School, five more pupils than a year ago, at the Cutter School, thirteen more, at the Locke School, fifteen more, and at the High School, eighty-three more. The Russell School has twenty-nine less pupils than on January 1, 1894, more than one hundred pupils having been promoted or transferred to the High School Building. The total increase throughout the town has been eighty-five. The whole number recorded a year ago was 959, exactly what it was January 1, 1893. Now there are, on the lists, 1044.

The number of different pupils attending school in town during the year has been 1203, seventy-one more than last year.

Every pupil who has attended school in Arlington during the year beginning January 1, 1893, and ending January 1, 1894, is counted in this number. It includes some who have come and gone,—the floating population—some who have left school to work or on account of sickness, all who have graduated from the High School during the year, and those attending school at present.

The number over 15 years of age has been	172
The number under 5 years of age has been	7
The number between 8 and 14 years of age has been	1073
The average number attending this year has been	971
The average daily attendance has been	914
The ratio of daily attendance has been	93

The average number is forty-seven larger than last year, the average daily attendance sixty-nine larger, and the ratio of daily attendance a little higher.

These statistics show that the Town of Arlington is growing, though a part of the increase in the number of school children may be due to the fact, that, for various reasons a larger number of pupils than usual have remained in school, especially in grades nine and ten (First Class, High).

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The most interesting event of the year was the completion of the new High School building. The pupils waited for it long, and suffering while they waited, were prepared to appreciate all the advantages of a convenient and commodious building. The three High School classes which entered the building in September were well prepared, in spite of the hampering conditions of the past, to take advantage of every opportunity afforded for broadening, enriching and strengthening their course, because the high school work in Arlington for a series of years, has been, in many respects, excellent in quality and quantity.

Until this year, however, the instruction in science and other practical subjects has been poor and insufficient on account of the lack of room, of suitable apparatus and other conveniences. For, as Prof. Huxley expresses it :

“If the great benefits of scientific training are sought, it is essential that such training should be real; that is to say, that the mind of the scholar should be brought into direct relation with fact, that he should not merely be told a thing but made to see by the use of his own intellect and ability that the thing is so and no otherwise. The great peculiarity of scientific training, that in virtue of which it cannot be replaced by any other discipline whatsoever is this bringing of the mind directly into contact with fact and practicing the intellect in the completest form of induction; that is to say, in drawing conclusions from particular facts made known by immediate observation of nature. In such respects science differs from other educational discipline, and prepares the scholar for common life. If scientific training is to yield its most eminent results it must be made practical. That is to say, in explaining the general phenomena of nature, you must, as far as possible, give reality to your teaching by object lessons ; in teaching a pupil botany he must handle the plants and dissect the flowers for himself ; in teaching him physics and chemistry you must not be solicitous to fill him with information, but you must be careful that what he learns he knows of his own knowledge. Don't be satisfied with telling him that a magnet attracts iron. Let him see that it does ; let him feel the pull of the one upon the other for himself. Pursue this discipline carefully and conscientiously and you may make sure that however scanty the measure of information you have poured into the boy's mind you have created an intellectual habit of priceless value in practical life."

Such an education as Prof. Huxley thus describes is now accessible to every boy and girl in Arlington who cares to work for it ; for, we have teachers who can carry on this experimental, objective work and the Pratt Laboratories make ample provision for real scientific training in Chemistry, Physics and Biology. The rooms are large, well lighted and furnished with every convenience for individual experiments. In the Physics room there are six tables, four single and two double ones, each either 2 or 4 feet wide and varying in length from 7 to 20 feet. Near the tops of these there are fifty-two drawers each 18 inches by 20 inches with a depth of $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches, while underneath are closets or lockers, each 24 by 18 inches. Each pupil has one of these drawers and lockers in which to keep the apparatus he is using for the day, or his unfinished work. In the Chemical Laboratory there are six tables on two sides and in the middle of the room, all provided with sinks and other fittings, sufficient in number for individual work with a class of thirty pupils. Near by is a large and well lighted Chemical Supply Room where each pupil may go to select for himself the materials, elements or combinations he needs for performing the required experiments or making the necessary tests.

In another room there are, on the window casements or recesses on the sunniest side of the room, boxes filled with soil for planting seeds and growing Botanical specimens enough for each member of the class. In the centre of the room there are large tables about which pupils may gather to study by actual observation and experiment the real objects provided for biological study. These objects are to be not only observed closely but drawn and described.

It almost goes without saying that in this kind of scientific training a great deal of manual skill is necessary. The scientific progress of the world during the last century has been partly due at least to trained senses and trained hands. We have learned that the mind of man is not altogether in his brain but that it pervades his whole body; that, as President Eliot expresses it, "The mind is not in the head but all over the body, and when you train the eye or the ear or the hand you train the mind." Very naturally, then, in connection with the proper equipment of our new High School building, the question rose, Why may not other forms of manual training besides those involved in Chemical, Physical and Biological experiments be introduced now into the Arlington High School?

Manual Training.

A special committee appointed for the purpose made a careful investigation of the different systems of Manual training which have been introduced into public schools elsewhere, and, early in the year it was decided to fit up in the basement of the High School building a room for the accommodation of what is now known as The Cutter Manual Training Department. In this the boys of classes eight, nine and ten are given a course of instruction in carpentry by which they are taught to use common tools and make a variety of objects like a file handle, a paper knife, a comb tray, a book rack, a wall bracket, etc. The models from which the pupils work are articles of real worth and beautiful in shape, and all of them, taken together in their proper order, give in concrete form a history of each pupil's advancing skill, from the first and simplest model to that in which a high degree of efficiency is manifested. The exercises progress, without break, from easy to difficult work and in such order that by means of the preceding exercises, pupils may attain the necessary skill to make the models that follow without direct help. Each pupil is required first to make from observation, memory or invention a working drawing and from this to construct out of the rough crude material furnished him a useful and properly finished object. To fit up and furnish the manual training room was no simple or easy task. It required a great deal of time, labor, attention, judgment, mechanical knowledge and practical skill.

All these were freely given by the Manual Training Committee, and as a result of their earnest and voluntary efforts Arlington has to-day in the basement of the High School building a Manual Training room as well equipped as can be found in any public school in the State. In the centre of the room are placed eleven wood workers' benches with a vertical board dividing the top of each bench into two equal parts, thus making it possible for two pupils to work at the same bench ; one on each side, without danger of interference. Just under the top of each table there are three drawers fitted with locks. Each pupil has one of these drawers in which to keep the individual tools supplied to him, and his unfinished work. A large case of drawers placed on one side of the room makes it possible for eighty-eight pupils to work in sections of twenty-two each, without interfering with each other or using each other's tools.

Some implements used only occasionally are kept in a large case from which they may be taken when needed for use in common by the members of the different divisions.

A list of tools, and an outline of the work in carpentry may be found on page 198, Supplement A, accompanying this Report.

Running half way across the south side of the room are six lathes, fitted with the most approved devices for doing all kinds of wood-turning work.

While the boys are employed at the benches or working at the lathes the girls in each class from which the boys are taken are taught sewing. An inspection of the work already done by the five classes which take this form of manual training will satisfy any fair-minded person that if the sewing lessons were in no sense educational they should still be continued for their practical value. But no one can look into the rooms when sewing is going on without being convinced that the powers and faculties of the children are most actively and harmoniously developed, that attention, neatness, concentration, mental application, carefulness and manual dexterity are being promoted in a very positive and concrete manner.

An outline of the work in sewing for the different classes will be found on page 200, Supplement B, accompanying this Report.

The New Classification.

When the introduction of new and practical branches of education was first considered by the Committee it seemed proper not to confine the privilege of taking them to High School pupils. Indeed it was the unanimous opinion of the School Board that the stimulating, liberalizing, enriching influence of experimental work in science and especially of concrete work in handicraft ought to be offered to and could be safely introduced into the upper classes of the grammar schools. Every one familiar with public school work knows that under the system which has prevailed many pupils as soon as they have passed through the primary and lower grammar grades become weary of the routine of school life and the formal study of text books and have no lively interest in the subjects they are drilled on so persistently. It seemed to us therefore that the course of study heretofore prescribed for the grammar schools might be lighted up at various points by the introduction of new subjects of study more practical and broadening in their influence than the formal lessons usually assigned grammar school pupils. Furthermore, it had been evident for some time to the School Committee and to many parents that there was no close connection, such as ought to exist, between the grammar and high school work; that there was instead a sort of break or chasm or "cut off" between them, and there were also many complaints that high school pupils were overworked while grammar grade pupils had not enough to do.

To try to remedy these defects and others which might be mentioned the Committee decided to modify, amend and improve the old course of study and to reorganize or reclassify the schools in a positive yet moderately conservative manner. Beside the reasons already assigned for acting in this matter immediately and making changes at once instead of slowly and by degrees there was another reason which seemed to us exceedingly weighty. The grammar classes of lower grade than the old first and second classes had most of them made more rapid progress than the classes of similar rank in previous years in certain studies, and so were prepared to take up new subjects with the higher classes and cover by a little extra effort any additional work which might be assigned them. This fact, taken in connection with the possibility which appeared of lopping off in future certain impractical and useless topics from the old course at various points, led your Committee to make in June last the following arrangements, by which classes are expected hereafter to cover all the work of primary, grammar and high school grade including the practical work referred to on page 202, Supplement C, in thirteen years.

1. Classes will hereafter be designated from the lowest grade to the highest upward by Roman Numerals: thus:
First year in school, Class I.
Second year in school, Class II.
Third year in school, Class III.
Fourth year in school, Class IV.

And so on to Class X. which will be known as the First Class, High, Class XI. as the Second Class, High, Class XII. as the Third Class, High, and Class XIII. as the Fourth Class, High.

2. The former studies of Class IX. Arithmetic, Reading, Writing, Spelling, Geography, Grammar and United States History will not be entirely abolished for this grade but taught hereafter in close connection with the High School studies, heretofore taken by Class X. That is to say, all pupils in grade IX. will come to the High School building and begin High School work according to the plan more definitely outlined on page 202 Supplement C, accompanying this report. Suffice it to say here that four entirely new studies have been taken by Class IX. this year; Algebra, Latin (or English Grammar, elective), Manual Training and Physical Geography. It will be seen that the course of study outlined on p. 193 will be likely to advance the class from six to nine months farther along in their course at the end of the tenth year than heretofore and give them a broader and sounder foundation of knowledge for the more advanced High School work.

3. The studies of class eight are to be entirely equivalent in some subjects and almost equal in others to those heretofore taken by ninth year pupils. In other words, the eighth year grade is moved forward and upward almost into the place of the old ninth or first grammar grade.

4. Into both of these classes, eight and nine, as well as into the English division of the first high, the new subject of Manual Training is introduced. It seemed to the Committee that this subject would require but little home study, and would more than compensate for the time it took in school by bringing the pupils who took it into a more vital knowledge of practical work, teaching them that the object of education is not so much to give knowledge as the power to use it.

We have learned already, by experience, that Manual

Training helps more than it hinders all other kinds of school work ; that manual dexterity as a rule increases mental dexterity, breaks up the dull routine of school life and vitalizes thought.

When the plan, roughly outlined by us in the last four paragraphs, was about to be put in operation, certain facts had to be faced and carefully considered. Some were fortunate and encouraging, others unfortunate and discouraging, as always happens when changes are to be made. Every pupil had to be assigned on his record, to the class he was best fitted to enter. Some of the members of class eight were ready to take the work of class nine, others were not. Not all the pupils in either class were at first satisfied. Some promotions had to be made with great care and after trial, but the Committee and Superintendent tried, as far as possible, to do justice to all, and adapt the work as closely as possible to each pupil's attainments. At every point the work has now been adjusted, and is moving steadily forward. We believe very little if any dissatisfaction exists. On every hand there is plenty of evidence that the majority of the pupils in classes eight and nine are manifesting unusual interest in their work, and improving rapidly in spirit, purpose, character and mental power. We believe the town has good reason to be proud of its High School Building and the school it contains. This word of commendation is in no sense a reflection on other teachers or pupils in town ; for every one must know that boys and girls are educated, as we all are, in part at least, by environment and this certainly gives the High School a decided advantage.

In the Primary and Grammar Schools

with few exceptions, all of which are occasioned by circumstances beyond our control, progress this year has been steady and encouraging. In order to keep Arlington in the front rank educationally, it is obviously necessary to maintain a high standard of work in every grade ; then, obviously, pupils cannot be promoted from one grade to another unless they are ready for promotion. Hence parents should be careful to sustain the teachers in preserving good discipline and in cultivating right habits of study, behavior and attention in their pupils. Parents should show a personal and particular interest in their children's progress by frequently visiting the schools or consulting with the teachers. Nothing stimulates interest and industry at school so much as interest and attention on the parents' part—at home.

Kindergarten.

At the beginning of the fall term steps were taken to establish a public Kindergarten in the Russell School. Circumstances were such that it was hardly possible to make it a complete Kindergarten to begin with. It is a real Kindergarten, however, and I trust that measures may be taken before long to make it larger and completer in its equipment and accommodations.

Teachers and Teachers' Meetings.

Under my direction the teachers have given special attention this year to reading, writing, spelling and language. They are now ready for definite and specific directions concerning instruction in geography, history and arithmetic.

Under no conditions, as was stated last year, can substantial progress be made in every study at the same time, especially when marked changes in methods of teaching and training are introduced. It seems better to take one subject at a time, to do a little, to learn to do that well and then go on to do more. In educational matters it is important that we make haste slowly. The problems connected with education are so complicated and adjustments so delicate that hasty action cannot fail to bring harm. Teachers' meetings have been held frequently during the year, at which it has been my purpose to try to inspire the teachers to teach well and to make their work artistic and practical. Methods have been discussed and illustrated at many of these meetings, and during the present term many of the teachers have met with the Superintendent every week for the study of educational principles and the psychology of teaching. Our teachers have worked without exception earnestly, faithfully and diligently. I commend them to your favorable consideration.

The instruction in Music and Drawing has been excellent in quality, spirit and purpose under the careful supervision of Misses Heard and Parker. In Music especially the work has improved, becoming more systematic, definite and technical. In both subjects better results are now reached, we believe, than in previous years.

Arrangements have been made since the beginning of the current school year to give special and regular attention to what used to be called Rhetorical Exercises. The training which comes from speaking in public is, we believe, peculiarly valuable and eminently practical. Two debating clubs connected with the High School, though not immediately under the supervision of the School Committee or teachers, have become an excellent training class for the study of current topics and practice of oral and written speech.

Arrangements will soon be made for public visiting days, but we trust that parents and other citizens will not wait for such occasions to visit the schools. Every tax payer, certainly every parent having children attending school, ought to care enough about the efforts which the young are making to train themselves for the world's work and for citizenship to look in upon the schools occasionally that they may know what is going on, and learn something about how the work is done. Otherwise, how can they fairly criticise the schools or the acts of those who manage them. We welcome fair, open and honest criticism. Yea, it ought to be offered frankly and freely. It should never be received with resentment, for, if the purposes and plans of school administration are in general sound and wholesome, they will bear challenge and investigation and be improved by it.

In closing I desire to express my thanks to you, to the citizens and to the teachers for the cordial support and assistance I have received, without exception.

Respectfully submitted.

I. F. HALL,
Superintendent.

Manual Training Course.

SLOYD CARPENTRY AND WOOD TURNING AND CARVING.

See page 188.

Taken by the boys in Classes VIII, IX and X (English division).

- Hours. Russell VIII, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, 8 to 9 A. M.
“ High VIII, Div. A, Tuesdays 9.20 to 11 A.M., Wednesdays, 11.15 A. M. to 1 P. M.

“ High IX and X, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 11.15 A. M. to 1 P. M.

The Work is embodied at present in a series of eighty models. The articles made are intended to introduce one exercise after another in the order of their simplicity, and are so arranged as to fit the daily development of the pupils' skill. They provide for something more than exercise or practice work. They give the teacher an opportunity to teach the principles of carpentry while training his pupils in the proper use and care of tools. Furthermore, each object made is useful and beautiful enough to make pupils feel that they have produced something of real value.

I. The Knife is the first tool used. By it especially the hand, mind and eye are trained to work together. With it the pupils are taught the short straight cut, the oblique cut, the cross cut, the short oval cut, the long straight cut, etc. The use of the knife is followed by the use of the other Bench Tools. Each bench is provided with one Jack Plane, one Smoothing Plane, one Jointer, one Pair of Dividers, one Marking Gauge, one Try Square and one Rule (2 ft.) without joint.

The First Nine Models are Glove Mender, Seed Planter, Round Flower Stick, Letter Opener, Square Flower Stick, Tool Handle, Key Label, Thread Winder, and Round Ruler. With these is developed the idea of squaring up and cutting to dimensions with knife plane, saw, file, etc. Boring is also taught in connection with these models.

The Shop Tools, consisting of six Back Saws, four Bow Saws, six Taper Saw Files, six Spoke Shaves, two sets of Finishing Chisels, two sets of Gouges, one Bench Axe, six Nail Hammers, four Bit Braces, two sets of Auger Bits, one dozen Pin Bits, two Draw Shaves, two Wood Scrapers, six Nail Sets, eight Screw Drivers, three Bevels, two Iron Clamps, six Brad Awls, six sets of Drawing Instruments, one Oil Stone, two Steel Squares and twelve Block Planes are kept in a large case near the benches.

II. In making the models from nine to twenty, consisting of Paper Knife, Hone, Brush and Tray, Pen Tray, Cutting Board, Flower Pot

Stand, Scoop, Clothes Hanger, Dish Drainer, Towel Rack, and Sponge Rack, the pupils are trained in the use of the gouge, spoke shave, chisels, draw shave, etc.

III. The models from twenty to thirty are Jewel Box, Stirring Spoon, Table Mat, Coat Hanger, Flat Ruler, Bill File, Book Rack, Mail Box, Pulley Block and Knife Tray. They develop the idea of beveling with the chisel straight and convex beveling, jointing, dovetailing, gouging and mortising, oval beveling, etc.

IV. By the remaining models the Axe Handle, the Clothes Stick, the Square, Photograph Holder, Try Square, Silverware Box, Marking Gauge, Bracket, Comb Case, Card Basket, Table and Cabinet, the boys are taught long and convex planing, mortising, tenoning, and squaring, the use of the compass, saw, mitering, convex beveling, close and straight, mortising edge molding with chisel, etc.

V. For different kind of work, namely: advanced Cabinet work with Wood Carving, etc., six Turning Lathes are provided, run by an engine of fifteen horse-power. Each lathe is fitted with a number of gouges, chisels, dividers and calipers. In this course the boys will be required to design, make and finish Tool Holders, Tool Handles, Bric-a-Brac Stands, Dumb Bells, Indian Clubs, Book Shelves, Paper Racks, Easels, etc.

By systematic practice in making these objects the pupils learn the use of the lathe and its accompanying tools and the art of finishing in oils, shellac, varnishes or stains. Advanced Mechanical Drawing and Wood Carving are also taught in connection with the making of these models.

SUPPLEMENT B.

COURSE IN SEWING, FOR THE GIRLS OF CLASSES VIII and IX.

The course in sewing covers a period of two years, extending through the eighth and ninth classes. By beginning in the higher grammar grades and devoting three hours a week to the subject, as much can be accomplished in two years, as is usually done in five or six years with one hour lesson; thereby making a great saving of time.

The first five months are devoted to the practice of the different stitches, each stitch being preceded by a drill, for the holding of the cloth and the position of the fingers.

Practical talks are given with the lessons, and the scholars are taught to think as much as possible for themselves.

The stitches are first practiced on small pieces of cotton cloth. The pupils use colored thread to show the shape and size of the stitch and also the joinings. After the scholars have completed the course in practice work, they apply what they have learned to making garments.

The second year is devoted to dressmaking.

It was thought advisable for the ninth class to omit making a few of the garments, that they might complete the course for their grade.

An outline of the plan of work is as follows:

EIGHTH CLASS.

Basting, Backstitching,
Overcasting on folded edges,
Overcasting on raw edges,
Turning and basting narrow hems,
Hemming,
Overhanding on folded edges,
Overhanding on selvedges,
Running,
Turning and basting wide hems,
Darning tear on flannel with silk,
Gathering, stroking gathers and putting on band
Plain fell,
Patching on cotton cloth,
Darning on cashmere with silk,
French fell and straight fell,
Putting in gusset,
Cat-stitch, herring-bone and feather-stitching.
Buttonholes and sewing on buttons.

Patching on calico,
Stocking darning,
Darning on cashmere with ravellings,
Running tucks,
Hemstitching,
Blind hemming,
Cutting and piecing bias bands.

Models. Aprons with and without gathers, a pillowslip, plain cotton and flannel skirt.

Drafting and making simple garments.

NINTH YEAR.

Learning H. L. Brown's system of dress cutting.

Taking measures. Planning, cutting and fitting a cotton waist. Planning, cutting, fitting and making a cotton dress.

SUPPLEMENT C.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR CLASSES VIII AND IX.

See page 190.

Class VIII.

ARITHMETIC. Five recitations a week.

1. Review units of Long Measure with their relations; teach measuring distances, length, width, and height and depth. Review units of Liquid and Dry Measure and of Avoirdupois Weight with their relations. Review the units of Square Measure with their relations, and measuring the dimensions and finding the areas of squares and other rectangles. Review the units of solid measure and measuring the dimensions and finding the volumes of cubes and other rectangular solids. Teach carefully all kinds of plane figures. Teach the mensuration of straight lines, of angles and of arcs of circles.

2. Teach Percentage and its applications to Commission, simple Interest, Profit and Loss, Partial Payments and Bank Discount.

3. Teach Business Forms and Business Processes.

4. Teach Compound Interest and the simplest principles of Ratio and Proportion.

5. Teach the mensuration of parallelograms, triangles, trapezoids and circles.

6. Review thoroughly Common and Decimal Fractions, drilling persistently with simple and small fractional parts used in solving problems that involve the units of money, measures, weights and time.

Give thorough drill in Mental Arithmetic.

Special attention should be given to the development of the power to reason.

Text Book, Bradbury's Practical Arithmetic.

GEOGRAPHY. Three recitations a week.

1. The Geographical and Political Divisions of the World.

2. Study of the Earth as a Globe. Simplest facts of Mathematical Geography. Simplest facts about Winds, Ocean Currents, etc.

3. Commerce. The Great Commercial Highways of the World, Ocean Routes, Inland Waterways, Railroad Postal Systems, the Telegraph.

4. Comparative study of the United States and the British Empire. Physical Regions, Natural Resources, Productions, Industries, Commerce, Government, Cities, etc.

4. Comparative study of the German Empire and the Republic of France.

5. Russia, Spain, Brazil, Belgium, Italy, The Netherlands, Japan and China studied generally.

6. General study of Turkey, Switzerland, Norway and Sweden, Austria-Hungary, Portugal and other European Countries.

7. The States of South and Central America.

8. Commodities important to Commerce, Food Substances, Textile goods, Metals, Minerals, etc. Their location, transportation, etc.

Map drawing on printed Outlines. Sketch maps of each country studied. Make collections of specimens of products mentioned, and characteristic of the countries and places studied. Use photographs and pictures extensively.

Text Book, Tilden's Commercial Geography.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR.—THE STUDY OF EASY SENTENCES: (a) The subject and the predicate. (b) Declarative, interrogative, imperative, and exclamatory sentences. (c) The uses of words in forming sentences—preparatory to classifying words as parts of speech. (d) Nouns, pronouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, conjunctions and interjections. (e) Adjective and adverbial phrases and clauses. (f) Prepositions. (g) Some study of inflections and (h) of the principles of syntax.

THE STUDY OF SIMPLE, COMPOUND, AND COMPLEX SENTENCES: (a) Analysis. (b) All the parts of speech, including their properties—special attention to be given to such changes of forms as indicate properties, and also to the uses of auxiliaries. (c) Principles of syntax illustrated by familiar examples. (d) Punctuation.

Text Book, Whitney and Lockwood's English Grammar.

HISTORY. Barnes' History.

1. Teach topically the Administrations in United States History including The War with England, The Mexican and Civil Wars.

Teach the causes and effects of each war carefully. Do not give much attention to the details of campaigns and battles.

2. Study carefully the Government of our country, its history, development and characteristics.

This includes a study of political parties.

3. Study carefully the Material development of the country and what has been accomplished during the present century in Science, Art and Literature.

Review thoroughly the principal events and dates in American History by studying them in comparison with contemporaneous events in European History.

Text Books, Barnes' History of the United States.

Fiske's History of the United States.

Outlines of European History.

READING.

1. At Sight.

Books of Travel or Biography. Descriptions, etc. See list of books prepared for Teachers.

2. Drill Reading.

Standard Selections from American authors: Lincoln, Lowell, Longfellow, Holmes, Webster and Irving.

One or more of Shakspeare's Plays and Selections from Burns, Dickens and Scott.

Make free and constant use of the Public Library for silent reading in connection with other lessons.

WRITING.

Teach form and shading.

Require neatness, legibility, rapidity and freedom of movement.

SPELLING. Teach thoroughly words that are used in the different branches of study, the words of practical life and words that the pupils use in letter-writing and composition. The examinations in every case will test, first of all, the pupil's ability to spell common words correctly and the habit of correct spelling.

Harrington's Speller is the prescribed text-book, and a definite amount of work in this book will be assigned.

SCIENCE AND MANUAL TRAINING.

See outlines for Teachers.

Class IX.I. ARITHMETIC. Two periods a week.

1. Counting Room Methods. Short processes of fundamental operations.
2. Thorough review of Percentage in its applications to Commercial life.
3. Thorough review of Interest and Correlative topics.
4. Averaging of Accounts.
5. Partnership, Stocks and Brokerage.
6. Banking and the simple forms of Commercial Law.
7. Powers and Roots and their simplest application.

Text Book, Thomson's Commercial Arithmetic.

ALGEBRA. Three periods a week.

1. Algebraic Language. Its use and force.
2. Signs of quality and operation.
3. Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division of Algebraic Numbers.
4. Theorems of Development and Corresponding Cases in Factoring.
5. Least Common Multiples and Highest Common Factors of Algebraic Numbers.
6. Fractions.

Text Book, Bradbury's Algebra for Beginners.

II. LATIN OR ENGLISH GRAMMAR (elective).

In Tuell and Fowler's First Latin Book to Chapter XXXIII.

Vocabulary of 300 or 400 words. First four declensions of Nouns, Declension of Adjectives, Comparison of Adjectives (regular and irregular), Indicative mode, active and passive of verbs of the first and second conjugations. Indicative mode of the irregular verb "esse." Some simple constructions. Sentences translated from Latin into English, and from English into Latin.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR. Text Book, Metcalf's English Grammar.

1. Language. 2. Sentences. 3. Parts of Speech. 4. Analysis and Parsing. 5. Inflections and Cases. 6. Conjugations. 7. Syntax. 8. Word Building. 9. Derivations. 10. Punctuation.

III. PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY. Text Book, Appleton's Physical Geography.

Simple study of the earth as a planet, (laying a basis for the study of Astronomy).

Simple study of the atmosphere (laying a basis for the study of Meteorology).

Simple study of the Interior of the Earth, its condition, history, etc. (laying a basis for the study of Geology).

Simple study of the drainage, soil and vegetation of the earth's surface (laying a basis for the study of Plant and Animal Life).

Simple study of Minerals and Metals.

Photographs, pictures, specimens and other apparatus should be used extensively in the teaching of every topic. Excursions should be taken occasionally and visits made to the Agassiz and other museums.

IV. LITERATURE. A comparative study of Whittier and Tennyson, Lowell and Emerson, Dickens and Thackeray, in connection with the social and political life of the Nineteenth Century.

The class have already studied carefully during the year 1894, Snowbound, The Passing of Arthur, The Barefoot Boy, The Princess, and some fifty other poems of Whittier and Tennyson.

V. MANUAL TRAINING. See Outline on page 198.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

OFFICE OF THE

CHIEF OF THE DISTRICT POLICE.

BOSTON, MASS., Feb. 2, 1895.

J. P. PARMENTER, Esq.,

Chairman Building Committee of the Arlington High School.

DEAR SIR—I have the honor to transmit herewith, the report of the inspectors detailed to inspect the heating and ventilating apparatus in the High School in Arlington, Mass., as requested in your letter of date Jan. 26, 1895.

It will be seen by the reports of the inspectors, that you have obtained by the system adopted for heating and ventilating of said school building very excellent results.

I am very respectfully,

RUFUS R. WADE,

Chief Mass. Dist. Police.

RUFUS R. WADE, Esq.,

Chief Inspector and Chief of Mass. District Police.

SIR—In accordance with your instructions given at the request of the Chairman of the new Arlington High School Building Committee I have, in company with Inspector John T. White, made a careful inspection of the ventilation of said building.

In the eight school rooms there are possible accommodations for 352 scholars. The supply of air in these rooms averaged 48.8 cubic feet per minute for each of the 352 scholars. The amount of air exhausted by the vent-ducts averaged 52 cubic feet per minute for each scholar that could be accommodated. The number of pupils at present in the building is very much smaller than the number of seats. The amount of air supplied in the hall in the third story was 5473 cubic feet per minute, taken with the air ducts open into all the other rooms. With the ducts to the other rooms partly closed, the supply was 10,654 cubic feet per minute.

Two tests of the purity of the air in the Master's room with forty pupils present, made at quarter past twelve o'clock, gave 4.9 and 5 parts of carbonic acid in 10,000 parts of air. The outside air containing 4 parts of carbonic acid in 10,000 of air, it will be seen that the inside air was nearly as pure as that outside. The hallways and corridors were all warm and the air was first class. The sanitary closets were in first-class condition, well ventilated and no disagreeable odors could be found.

The amount of fresh air supplied and foul air exhausted was fully up to all the requirements of first class ventilation. The temperature in different parts of the several rooms was very even and the circulation of the air was first class.

I consider this one of the very best ventilated school buildings in the State.

Very respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. MOORE,

State Inspector of Public Buildings.

RUFUS R. WADE, Esq.,

Chief District Police, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR—I have inspected the boilers and heating apparatus at the Arlington High School, and report as follows: The two boilers are known as the "Star water tube" and each consists of an internal fire box with water tubes crossing the furnace. From an external inspection, the boilers appear in good condition, and as constructed are efficiently braced, and provided with all the fittings necessary to safety and well arranged. The boilers are amply large enough to heat and ventilate the building in zero weather, and the steam plant as a whole is a safe and excellent one, and well set up.

Respectfully,

THOMAS HAWLEY,

State Inspector of Boilers.
